Effervescence

Wind, as a word in commercial circles, is usually used in the way of derision.
They who have lost, or are rapidly losing trade or business prestige, through obsolete methods find much comfort in ridiculing the other fellows' up-to-date ways as wind.

Wind in commercial circles is said to have no value. Let us see!

The fast sailing ship upon the sea, lying listless for the want of wind, represents daily commercial loss which will soon run into thousands. Hence, some commercial owner is the sufferer.

Pointed, terse and telling advertising is sometimes called wind by competitors, who cannot or will not advertise their wares.

Such wind is commercially profitable,
because it guides and directs the buying public in a short way to what it wants.

Now right here the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company's Super-Extra Hardware comes in. The buying public is monstrously large. That part of it, who are acquainted with the true goodness of the Russell & Erwin's Hardware, are steadfast and loyal,
but we want everybody to know it. Hence,
this advertisement.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JAN. 4, 1899.

Obituary.

The death of Mr. Edward F. Randolph, on December 18th, at his residence, 12 East Fifty-eighth street, New York, is announced.

Mr. Randolph was the head of the firm of Randolph & Clowes, brass and copper rolling and tube mills and manufacturers of the Brown Bros', seamless copper house-range boiler, which has become so popular among the best class of builders. The works at Waterbury, Conn., are very extensive, and while Mr. Randolph's death is a serious loss to the concern, its business will be continued

Commonwealth Trust Co. vs. Amos Ellis.

The decision of Judge Sultzberger in the case of the Commonwealth Title and Trust Co. vs. Amos Ellis, boiled down, amounts to this:

First—That Contractor Amweg, together with the sub-contractors who commenced work under contract with Ellis before legal title had been obtained by Ellis, were trespassers under the law and have no rights under the law of liens.

Second—That the mortgage for $10,000 given by Ellis to the Commonwealth Title and Trust Co. at the time of settlement and which was recorded at the same time and hour as the deed itself was in itself, a part of the purchase money and became such through its physical transfer at the time of settlement.

Third—That the architects' assumption that the law includes only the vendor in its application of judgment or mortgage as purchase money, and not a third or outside party, is wrong.

Fourth—That the law still remains as it was laid down by the Supreme Court in Cohen's appeal (1, W. N. C. 549), decided in 1881. Justice (reen, delivering the opinion of the court said, that a judgment may be considered as a purchase money judgment, even if not so stated on its face, such statement being unnecessary where in point of fact the lien whether it be judgment or mortgage, is given for purchase money.

Architect Notes.

Samuel Sass, architect, 23 Park Row, New York, is preparing plans for six five-story tenements and stores for W. S. Evans, and to be erected on the South side of Sixty-third street east of West End avenue. All the improvements introduced and to be of brick, stone and frame work.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

P. O. Meara, 1228 Filbert, has plans for a stack and boiler house for Albert Wolf to be erected at Sixth and Erie avenue. Jacob Herold, 441 Chestnut street, is the architect.

Aaron Ward & Company received the contract for Federal street, Kaighn's avenue and Broadway, while the balance went to the Vulcanite Paving Company, of Philadelphia.
Both contractors bid $1.55 per square yard.
It will take about $200,000 to do the work.

Robert J. Morrison, contractor, 810 South Third street, has the contract to erect a two-story engine house, 25 x 35 feet, on the East side of Tenth street North of Calowhill, for the Union Brewing Company. Cost will be $3 00 and was fully noted previously in this

Block, Shaw & Zeltmacher, 1643-45 North Tenth street, on the night of December 31st.
It is understood from Mr. Block, one of the owners of the building, that it will be rebuilt as soon as details can be arranged. The loss is $45,000.

Mr. Edw. H. Bonsall, who has been the second vice-president of the Commonwealth Title & Trust Company since its organization, has severed his connection with that institution and accepted a similar position with the Land Title Company, Broad and Chestnut streets.

Thomas Niles has awarded a contract to Joseph F. Myers for a new alteration to be made at No. 509 Market street, and a second story addition to the back buildings, Nos. 509 and 514 Market street. Permits for this work have been granted by the bureau of building inspectors. and it is proposed to begin operations at once.

Judge Ashman has made a decree in Orphans' court, authorizing the sale of 1530 Sanson street, by the William Harris estate, to the city for the purpose of erecting thereon a fire engine house. No plans for the work have as yet been made on the part of the municipal authorities, but these will likely be ordered during the current year.

W. W. Rea & Sons, contractors, 1815 Francis st, are taking contracts on a large factory building, to be built at Fifty-eighth and Vine streets, for the United Wall Paper Company.
The structure will be one story high, brick, stone, iron and cement work. Steam power and heat and all general conveniences will be introduced. The plans were made by W.
Trombaur.

Buildings of all kinds were

these from 1897 of 1838, while

*Total Amount Expended in New Work and Alterations and Additions for 1898 $23,496,910, or $8,108,-

If in conversation with a resident of some Western section, where towns have grown up as if by magic, a Philadelphian should make the statement that his old-fashioned Quakertown had built during the last twelve years nearly ninety thousand houses of all kinds, and that there had been expended for new construction work alone during that time over $305,000,000 his integrity for truthfulness would no doubt be questioned.

The correct figures are 89,951 new buildings of all kinds, costing $305,345,977, not including the cost of the land.

He might also add that if these new buildings had been dwellings of our two or three-story type they alone would have comfortably housed even in our wholesome Philadelphia way, nearly a half million people.

This then has been the growth of Philadelphia during the last twelve years, as will be seen by the totals of our tables.

By the way of variety it will be interesting to know the exact number of dwelling houses that have been erected during this period. We give this information in the following table.

	Two-story Dwellings.	Three-story Dwellings.	Four-story Dwellings.	Total.

NOTE—In 1887 there was one five-story dwelling erected, this is included among the four-story dwellings for convenience.

In 1888 the stores and dwellings (not stores) were separate, they are counted as three-story dwellings in the above table.

Hence it will be seen that in dwelling house construction there have been $2,917 of these erected in 12 years and that these alone will comfortably provide dwelling accommodations for 414,515 people.

This is an average of over 6909 dwellings for each of the twelve years under consideration.

That we begin 1899 under infinitely better auspices is plain to everyone. The enormous wealth of the country; the renewed and unparalleled activity in the iron industries. (Dun & Co. are responsible for the statement that the output in pig iron alone in November 1898 was 10,000 tons greater than that of any single month in the history of the American iron interests.) The prolonged and record breaking grain exports (on Saturday last, December 31st, the clearance is estimated at about 1,039,000 bushels from Philadelphia alone, or half as much in a single day as the entire clearance of some single years heretofore.)

The continued increased earnings of our railroads; the low rates of interest; the vast improvement in business of all kinds with a few exceptions, perhaps; the restoration of confidence, which means everything; the uniform trend of sentiment as to early future prosperity; and, what is even stronger evidence than we have yet quoted, is the struggle in the stock market to secure American securities at prices equal to those obtained when the country was in its most prosperous condition.

In instances it might be argued that certain lines, as well as real estate, have in no manner shared in the prosperity, nor will they until they have been reached, for, perhaps, like real estate, they are the last to yield under depression and also the last to realize the beneficial influences of prosperity.

Can anyone be fool enough to draw any other deduction from the extreme of two conditions, to wit: The height of prosperity in this country and general business stagnation in Europe, than that a large immigration of the thrifty classes will follow. It will be argued, of course, that we do not want them, but we will get them all the same, no matter what we want or do not want, and there is more than one wise man throughout the world who is already seriously worried about the future food supply of Europe.

The reports as to textiles are not at all satisfactory, and this is the one town that feels any depression in this interest worse than any other.

It is to be regretted that alterations and additions show such an enormous falling off from last year, for it would seem to indicate that the sentiment for improvements in this direction has changed, as a consequent disappointment in results as to rentals.

Our tables show that 5353 new buildings were erected in this city last year. Of this number 5074 were for dwelling purposes, or just 200 less of these than for 1897. The loss includes 1805 in two-story dwellings, 188 in three-story and 7 in four-story.

There were 9 office building over two stories, costing $1,829,000, against 9 for 1897, costing $1,258,800.

The industrialists will be watched with keen interest hereafter, for there was no reason to justify any serious improvement in this last year. It will be a happy day indeed when our present enormous increment of idle capital is again directed towards buildings of this nature for investment.

There were 17 warehouses erected last year and only 11 in 1897; but these cost $208,200, while the 17 last year cost $149,200. Last year there were 3 dye and dry houses; in 1897 there were 5. Of factories there were 48 last year, in '97 there were 45. The investment in those last year was $534,000 against $418,500 in '97. Engine and boiler houses show an increase of 6, but the 7 built in '97 cost $105,700, while the 13 last year cost $62,350. Breweries and bottling houses are the same as in '97, with only $1000 increase in the cost. Foundries and shops are two less but the cost of last year's buildings of this character was $77,800, while the ten in '97 cost $58,000. Stores (not stores and dwellings) show a falling off of over 50 per cent, 22 of these in '97 costing $48,800, and only 10 last year costing $39,000. School houses are short 4. The 2 built last year cost $10,335. The 6 in '97 cost $345,712. Stables have lost considerable; 100 were erected in '97 costing $150,000, while in '98 there were but 86, costing $127,000. Churches are three more than in '97; the nine in '98 cost $262,300, while the six in '97 cost $178,000. Miscellaneous buildings were greater

For those who follow the phases of industrial buildings, our table contains a complete record of their growth since 1889.

The percentage of industrial buildings to the whole number of buildings erected since 1889 is as follows by years:

The transfers last year were 11,880 in number, while in 1897 they were 12,876. The value of the property transferred last year was $65,644,095.54, a difference in favor of 1897 of 996 transfers, and a difference in the value of the property transferred of $14,473,588.92.

The mortgage incumbrance on the property transferred last year amounts to $23,953,003.53; this is 36.4 per cent.

This is a small decrease in the percentage of mortgage incumbrance, as in 1897 it was 38.8 per cent., in 1896 it was 34.7 per cent.

The ground rents for last year amount to $639,885.03, which on a six per cent. basis represents a further incumbrance of $10,664,750.

The sales of real estate at auction amounted to $3,104,224.15. The mortgage incumbrance was $35,623.00, while the ground rents were $6,146.76.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Jacob Myers & Son, general contractors, Juniper and Sansom streets, have been awarded the contract for the new addition to the Home for Crippled Children, of our merciful Saviour, at Forty-sixth and Baltimore avenue. Kennedy, Hayes & Kelsey, architects, 931 Chestnut street, drew the plans and these were fully noted in a previous issue of this journal.

William Cramp & Sons, the great ship builders of this city, are completing details to construct the largest and best dry dock in this country. It will be 100x700 feet in length and deep enough to meet all requirements of heavy draught vessels. This will require much stone, cement and iron work and it will be fitted with every appliance known to science in this line of business. The location has not as yet been fixed upon.

The Young Men's Christian Association, of this city, will erect on its farm near Jounwintown, Chester county, Pa., a building to be known as the Lewis Wain Smith Home for boys. This is the result of a decree of Judge Ashman, constituting the Young Men's Christian Association, trustee, to carry out the will of Mary Lewis Smith, in place of the Fidelity Trust Company, resigned. The sum available for the building is $9525.

Six principal streets in Camden, N. J., are now to be repaved with asphalt and are as follows with the lucky contractors: Federal street, from Front to Pennsylvania Railroad; Market street from Delaware avenue to the intersection of Federal street; Kaighn's avenue, from front street to Haddonfield turnpike; Haddon avenue, from Federal to Line street; Broad way, from Federal to Emerald street, and Cooper street, from Delaware avenue to Eleventh street.

The contract for the erection of the new law library, to be built for the University of Pennsylvania, at a cost of over $30,000 has been awarded to contractor Charles McCaul. The plans for the work have been submitted to the bureau of building inspectors, and Mr. McCaul will take out the permit for the work at once. According to the contract the work must be completed in 1900. The work was fully described in these columns some time ago from plans by Cope & Stewardson, architects.

The finance committee of councils has reported favorably an appropriation of $50,000 for the water supply of Fox Chase. This means that this important and growing section of the Twenty-third ward will not have to depend on pumps and wind-mills as it has heretofore done, but will receive all the benefits of city water in its well known pristine purity. Director Thompson says that the department of public works has been trying for some time to extend the water service to Fox Chase, in view of the way in which the population of the place is growing.

Bids for the completion of the restoration of Independence Hall have been received by Director Riter and referred to the bureau of city property to be scheduled. The contracts will amount to about $12,000. Stacy Reeves & Sons bid $6459.30 for miscellaneous work; $2000 for new clock cases and $924 for dials and gearing; $261 for a flag pole; $238 for a cement floor beneath Independence Hall and eighty-five cents per square yard for laying an old-fashioned brick side walk. Stacy Reeves & Sons and J. F. Kammerer put in bids for dust proof show cases for the relics, at various prices per cubic foot, and Schenk

W. B. B. Roberts, the real estate operator, of room 410, Land Title building, has just gotten out one of the most beautiful books ever used as an advertisement. It is a gem of typographic art, bound in real unpolished buckram, illustrated with a facsimile reproduction of a beautiful water color and thirty-five illustrations in pen ink. The book is intended to interest home seekers in "Glenside Farms"—a model home town. It should accomplish this endeavor, as it is quite the handsomest and cleverest piece of advertising literature produced in this city recently. Any one interested in home-making or who has a curiosity to see what brains, art and money can do in the way of making beautiful the prosaic arguments of business announcements, should send for one of these uniquely beautiful books.

The year 1898 was ushered out by the Master Builders' Exchange, of this city, on the last day of the year in great shape. The committee in charge deserves the highest commendation for the musical and very classical, as well as mirth provoking programme arranged by them, for the entertainment of the members and invited guests. A handsome banquet of the good things by caterer Weinmer was discussed at high noon and then followed the flow of soul. After the opening selection by the orchestra, there came a humorous recitation by Samuel B. McQuilkin, and an exhibition of card manipulation by Prof. Felix Fabian. Then everybody joined in singing "America," and Prof. Fred Morphet astonished all with his feats of legerdemain, Burt Anthony, from Kansas, gave a drum solo, "The Battle of Gettysburg," Collins and Collins a song and dance sketch, Prof. Fabian, an exhibition of mind reading, and Burt Anthony, several impersonations. Then came one of the most enjoyable features of the event, every one joined in singing the Builder's Song to the tune of "Marching Through Georgia." After the echoes of the lusty singing died away there was another recitation by Mr. McQuilkin, another sketch by Collins and Collins, a biograph exhibition and "Auld Lang Syne," sung by all. The following named gentlemen composed the entertainment committee:—William S. P. Shields, chairman; R. C. Ballinger, William B. Carlile, John N. Gill, A. B. Barber, Frank R. Whiteside, William H. Boyd, J. Turley Allen, William J. Gray.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Wilkesbarre, Luzerne county, Reese's bazaar and general store was destroyed by fire on Sunday, January 1st. The loss was about $8000.

—At Pittston, Luzerne county, at an election, to be held in February, a proposition will be voted on to issue bonds to the amount of $22,000 for paving.

—At Henderson Station, near Norristown, Montgomery county, the large barn of R. J. Roberts was destroyed by fire last week. The loss will be some thousands of dollars.

—At Connellsville, Fayette county, the United Congregation will erect a brick church. Architect J. F. Steen, Jackson Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., is now engaged on the plans.

—At Carlisle, Cumberland county, it is said that the congregation of the First Lutheran Society has under consideration the erection of a new church to cost about $16,000.

—At Macungie, Lehigh county, it is reported that the stockholders of the Emaus Electric Railway have under consideration the extension of the line from Emaus to Macungie.

THE Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company, of Liverpool, England, is also well up in the list of companies that issue calendars. We have been very generously favored, through Mr. Atwood Smith, 337 Walnut street, the company's general agent for this vicinity, with several specimens of its calendars for 1899. It is certainly a neat and attractive affair.

THE United Gas Improvement Company's first calendar is an original affair, as attractive as it is useful for either home or office. A rosy faced chef, standing over a modern gas range, nicely poisoning a steaming dish in each hand, while the range itself is doing double duty in cooking other dishes of appetizing food. On the front of the range is suspended the calendar for 1899, and on the tie hearth is inscribed, "Compliments of the United Gas Improvement Co."

The Fire Association.

Overshadowing all of its former efforts in the calendar line, the Fire Association, 407-409 Walnut street, presents its customers with an artistic and attractive souvenir for 1899. The name of the company in large embossed type gives a pronounced effect, while in the top corners the modest statement is made that the company's assets amount to $6,239,334.51 and that it has paid out $27,000,000 in losses. Mr. E. C. Irwin is the President and Mr. T. H. Conderman is Vice-President.

The Mechanics' Insurance Company.

The office of the Mechanics' Insurance Company, which is strictly a Philadelphia organization, is at Fifth and Walnut streets. It is no stranger to property owners, for it is ranked among the best. It has made no change in its calendar for 1899, and, indeed, there was little room for improvement, for, while not full of ostentatious ornamentation, it is neat and attractive and in keeping with the purposes for which it is intended. Mr. Simon J. Martin is the president and John A. Snyder, secretary.

VOL. XIV.—No. 2.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1899.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

George Plowman, architect, Betz Building, Room 10 1, is engaged on plans for extensive alteration to the northeast corner of Sixteenth and Spring Garden streets, for J. B. Carruth. These are quite extensive and estimates will likely be invited during the current week.

After February 1st, 1899, a general reorganization of the well-known firm of Wilson Brothers, architects and engineers, will take place. It is stated the new firm will be composed of Joseph M. Wilson, Henry W. Wilson, John McArthur, Harris and Howard S. Richards.

Wm. B. Clafin, architect, 154 Henry street, Brooklyn, N. Y., has made plans for alteration to store front, 1107 Chestnut street, for Waldo M. Clafin. The specifications indicate stone work, fancy brick work in vestibule, carpenter and glass work, painting and hardware, etc. Estimates being made in office of W. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street.

Albert W. Dilks, architect, 1001 Chestnut street, has completed plans for an apartment house, to be erected at "The Oaks", Thirty-third and Arch streets. The structure will be in addition to the mansion already standing, and will extend from 3300 to 3318 Arch street. It will be of brick and Indiana limestone, interior fitted with elevators, steam heat, electric work, and all general comforts. Estimates are now being taken on the work.

Thomas Stephen, architect, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., has made plans for a new bank building for the Central Trust Company, of that place, to be erected at Fourth and Federal streets. It will be of gray colored stone, with brown stone trimmings, and contain best office work on interior, and entirely of fireproof materials. The work will be proceeded with after approval of the drawings by the company. Mr. Stephen has other work in progress which will be noted later.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has made plans for alterations to St. John's Roman Catholic Church, Thirtieth street above Chestnut street. The specifications indicate carpenter and mill work, iron work, plastering, painting, gas work, hardware, etc. Estimates now being made in the office of Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, and other contractors. Mr. Watson has also made plans for alteration to the southwest corner of Seventeenth and Market streets, for Frank P. Mellon, owner, and awarded contract to J. P. Hatch & Brother, and work to start at once.

The public building commission last week accepted the resignation of W. J. Phillips, superintendent of heating and ventilating, and elected Edward Davis electrician. The commission also directed the architect and superintendent to complete the specifications for the work during the current year and advertise for bids. Prior to the commission meeting, the commission on tower had an informal discussion as to the advisability of putting in two elevators and a spiral stairway from the clock floor to the base of the statue. The cost was placed at about $25,000, and this some of committeemen thought prohibitive.

In addition to the present Jefferson Hospital building, now being erected at Tenth and Walnut streets, plans have been ordered and in course of completion by James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, for an addition to be erected at 1010-1012 Sansom street, just acquired by purchase. This structure will be in direct keeping with the one now being erected as to material, stories, etc. Nothing will be omitted to make this a leading institution of its kind, in the way of modern science and general appliances. No contract for the new wing has been let, but estimates will be asked when drawings have been finished.

Arthur Stanley Cochran, architect, of this city, died at his home, at Westtown, on Sunday, of pneumonia, following an attack of the grip. Mr. Cochran was born at West Chester thirty-four years ago. After graduating at Swarthmore College he began the study of architecture in the office of F. Roney Williamson, and later opened an office on his own account. The new Friends' Central School, Fifteenth and Race streets; Somerville Hall, Swarthmore; the Westminster Chapel and the church, now under way, together with many private residences in Philadelphia and the suburbs, were planned and built by him. Mr. Cochran was a member of the T Square Club, American Institution of Architects and other kindred organizations. He was unmarried.

Some time ago we noted in these columns the fact that an office building would be erected at 1302 Filbert street, for which we are enabled to give fuller data. John F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 North Thirtieth street, have just completed plans in detail for the above named structure, to be erected and owned by Messrs. Horn & Hardart.

It will be seven stories and a basement, and of Roman brick, with stone trimmings and partly steel skeleton, fireproof material used on interior; copper bays and cornices, two elevators and an individual electric plant will be part of the outfit as well as steam heat; mosaic, marble and iron work, and all modern comforts are in the specifications. Same firm have made plans for a third-story addition to the picker house of Wm. Ayres & Sons, at Third and Cumberland streets. It will be of fireproof material, 35x176 feet in area, and furnished with all the conveniences of the original plant. Work is to be started on both jobs at an early date.

The plans for an apartment house, to be erected at Thirty-third and Chestnut streets, by E. P. Brick & Son, architects, Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth above Chestnut street, have been placed for estimate by contractors. It is to be constructed under their supervision for a local stock company. It is triangular in shape, eight stories high, brick, stone and steel construction, slag roof, with fireproof interior and will embrace steam heat, electric work, marble, mosaic and tile flooring, elevators and lifts, water condensers, ranges and boilers, toilet rooms, lobby and office, reception rooms, and all the latest comforts and conveniences will be introduced. Drawings on boards in office of William R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, and other general contractors. Same architects will modify the plan, noted in our last issue, for the large apartment house at Seventeenth and Arch streets, to comply with instructions of the Building Inspectors and the law, and these are then to be estimated upon, and likely a set for the previously noted structure of the same kind proposed to be erected upon the site of the old Clinton Street Presbyterian Church, at Tenth and Clinton streets. All of which will be operated under a syndicate of capitalists.

Bailey & Truscott, architects 421 Chestnut street, have been selected to prepare all plans for the new P. E. Church of St. John Chrysostom, to be erected at the southeast corner of Twenty eighth street and Susquehanna avenue in this city. The structure will be a departure from the conventional and ecclesiastic appearing buildings devoted to worship. It will be in classic Renaissance style, octagonal in shape, with an immense dome of copper over the centre, 45 feet in diameter, and 112 feet from the pavement to top of cross on the lantern. The exterior wall will be of dressed granite, and the roof of copper. The interior will contain eight supporting polished columns, and the dome ornamented with coffered centres, cornices and entablature, caps of columns, also ornamental. The walls are to be finished in plaster for subsequent decoration, whilst the sides will appear in wainscoting, and floors and steps leading to chancel will be in marble, as well as the vestibule and steps leading from the main entrance. Electric lighting will be quite a feature, whilst the mode of heating will be considered later on and other details perfected. This will be quite an addition to the list of church work completed by the above named architects. In same office plans are being made for rebuilding the property of the Camden Fire Insurance Company, at Fifth and Federal streets, Camden, N. J. The work will include all branches of labor and materials, the details of which we shall note in future.

in commercial circles is known as wind, Wind, as a word in commercial circles, is
usually used in the way of derision

They who have lost, or are rapidly losing
trade or business prestige, through obsolete methods find much comfort in calling the other fellows' up-to-date ways as wind.

Wind in commercial circles is said to have no value. Let us see!

The fast sailing ship upon the sea, lying
listless for the want of wind, represents
daily commercial loss which will soon run
into thousands. Hence, some commercial
owner is the sufferer.

sometimes called wind by competitors, who cannot or will not advertise their wares.

Such wind is commercially profitable,
because it guides and directs the buying
public in a short way to what it wants.
Now right here the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company's Super-Extra Hardware
comes in. The buying public is monotonously
large. That part of it, who are acquainted with the true goodness of the Russell &
Erwin's Hardware, are steadfast and loyal,
but we want everybody to know it. Hence,

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JAN. 11, 1899.

THERE was a little delay in the last issue of the REAL ESTATE RECORD, for which we owe our readers an apology. A pied form was the cause, and such an event will cause more consternation in a printing office than an East Indian cyclone in a harbor full of sailing craft. This was the first break in eight years, and, while such an accident is apt to happen at any time, we sincerely hope that it will not occur again.

The Northern Saving Fund's Statement

The twenty-seventh annual statement of the Northern Saving Fund Safe Deposit and Trust Co., Sixth and Spring Garden streets, is presented in this issue.

Its assets amount to $4,061,316.15, of which $1,229,372.70 is invested in permanent securities, $380,773.52 in real estate mortgage loans, $132,722.11 in real estate, $717,272.42 in collateral demand loans and $724,845.00 in collateral time loans. With a surplus of $375,000.00, equal to seventy-five per cent. of its entire capital, as a result of excellent executive management, besides which it has $15,837.50 in undivided profits after paying its stockholders $7,500 in dividends or 3½ per cent., the company certainly presents a very satisfactory exhibit of its resources and financial success.

The company's deposit account on January 1st amounted to $3,152,978.65. Mr. W. Frederick Snyder is the president of the company and Mr. Horace B. Pearson secretary and treasurer.

The Land Title and Trust Co.

With a very practical idea of utility the Land Title and Trust Co. has had constructed a calendar for 1899 which can very properly be called a legal calendar, for it embraces a vast amount of information in regard to the courts and sheriff's office, besides a list of the judges of the courts of common pleas and orphans' court, all of which was compiled by James W. Fletcher, chief clerk prothonotary's office, court of common pleas. It is just the thing for lawyers and real estate men, for it is truly a directory for ready reference, available at all times, as well as a monthly calendar.

The American Fire Calendar

is the same as last year, except, perhaps, that the colors in Old Glory are richer and deeper because of the battles fought and won in '98. Be this as it may, the selection of the country's flag by an American insurance company whose name is American, as an emblem for the head of its calendar, is not only in good taste, but as patriotic as the company is straightforward and honest.

The Aetna Insurance Company.

The old Aetna Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., of which Mr. Edward J. Durban, 463 Walnut street, this city, is the agent, true to its traditions, heads its calendar for 1899 with its same well-known trademark of Mount Aetna in all its glory of volcanic eruption, as viewed from the ruins of the Grecian Theatre, Taormina. Of course the opportunity for high and effective coloring is not wasted, and the artist as well as the printer have done both work and design in a manner creditable to themselves as well as the company. The losses paid by this company in the eighty years of its existence amount to $83,000,000.

As an American institution the success of the Aetna can be justly regarded with national pride, for it ranks among the very best, and its growth and prosperity, since its organization in 1809, have been so closely interwoven with the development of this country that it would be difficult to recognize a single episode in 80 years whose influence for good or evil had not affected both.

With a capital of $1,000,000 it is a safeguard against loss by fire whose influence is felt in every national industry in every section of the country.

MESSRS. WILLIAM KRAUSE & SON, 1623 North Fifth street, patent pavements and cements, have kindly sent us their calendar for 1899.

THE J. B. Lippincott Company, publishers, etc., of this city, have kindly favored us with one of its useful and attractive calendars for 1899.

THE Arnolt & Schaefer Brewing Company, of this city, have favored us with a unique calendar for 1899. It is a map of the city of Philadelphia by wards, in colors; the wards being so distinctly numbered as to avoid confusion. This is a valuable adjunct to a real estate office.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

In our report of the decision of Judge Sulzberger, in the case of the Commonwealth Title and Trust Company vs. Amos Ellis, in our last issue, the word "architect" was substituted by the compositor for the word "auditor" in the paragraph quoting the third reason why the decision was reversed.

Contractor John W. Puzoldt will at once erect a tool shed, shop and chicken house for the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, at Allens Lane and Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Philadelphia Elevator Company, at Ann street, Richmond, intends to erect at once an elevator, 80 x 125 feet, to be of frame, iron, stone and brick construction; work to start at once.

The Northern Builders' Club, 3723 Germantown avenue, at its annual meeting on January 3d inst., elected the following officers:—President, J. H. Hinkle. Vice-president, H. L. David. Secretary, William T. Weir, Jr. Treasurer, C. W. Messner. Trustees, William H. Schultz, H. G. Schultz, Lowrie Montgomery, James Branagan, H. P. Schneider and John V. Mayer.

Doyle & Doak, contractors, 133 South Fifteenth street, are taking bids on plans for a power house to be erected at the Naval Academy, at Annapolis, Md. It will be 10 x 200 feet and two stories high and on pile foundations; also a sea wall will be erected. Two other structures, an engine house and warehouse, will be erected upon the same site.

Engineer Nichols, of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway, has made complete plans for alterations to the old pier of the Delaware River Ferry Company. It will be 82 x 120 feet, one story high, and contain offices, waiting rooms, etc. The work will include electric wiring, closets, slag roof, iron work and copper cornice, steam heat, etc. The cost will be about $50,000.

The New York Biscuit Company, in this city, located at Third and Levant streets, has bought the vacant lot at Twelfth street and Washington avenue, and will erect thereon a large and improved factory. No plans have been made or contracts let. The home office of the company is in Chicago, Ill., but it is likely the Eastern agency will have charge of the matter. The lot measures 150 x 35 feet and contains debris of a fire some years ago.

There is strong agitation going on at present in regard to the raise in prices of lumber, but so far no definite action has been taken. It is argued by those interested that the scarcity of white and yellow pine and hemlock on the market, as well as the fact that the same must be supplied from long distances by railroad transportation, has a tendency to compel an advance. A committee of retailers, seven in number, is considering the question in all its phases.

George F. Payne & Co., 401 South Juniper street, have received the contract to build the new three-story brick stable for Finley Acker & Co., previously noted from plans by John D. Allen, architect, 017 Chestnut street. Also a contract to make alterations and addition to the stables of William L. Elkins, at Ashbourne, Pa. The latter work, as well as the former will have every modern convenience and comfort introduced, and each in its way will be a model of modern construction, the latter costing about $35,000.

THE PLANT OF THE LAND TITLE AND TRUST COMPANY, Broad and Chestnut Streets

Joseph Farbestein, contractor, will erect at once sixteen two story houses at Sixty-fourth and Callowhill streets. These are to be Pompeian brick and stone trimmings, all modern conveniences on interior.

The United States government has just closed a contract with Francis Brothers, of Kensington, to construct a new floating quarantine station, with fumigating apparatus, etc., which will be sent to Havana, Cuba, when completed.

Macey, Henderson & Co., Heed Building, have a contract to erect for J. G. Brill Car Company, Sixtieth and Woodland avenue, a truck shop, 57 x 165 feet, and will be of brick, stone and frame work. Same contractors are estimating on the drawings for the Delaware River Ferry Company's work, noted elsewhere.

Real estate agents are informed that it has become very fashionable for tenants to vacate, without notice, some time during the night. We know of two cases, in a single block, on Brown street, where one family moved in a dwelling during the night, while two doors away another family moved out as early as three o'clock in the morning.

The members of the survey committee of Councils met at the City Hall last week and afterwards proceeded in carriages over the line of the Philadelphia & Trenton Railroad, on Trenton avenue to the firm of Morris street, where it is proposed to elevate the tracks, an ordinance for which purpose having been introduced in councils and referred to this committee. The committee inspected the surroundings, and, later in the day, a session was held at a nearby hall, where citizens affected by the proposed work were heard, for or against the change.

Robert Johnson & Co., the recent contractors upon the Boys' High School, Broad and Brandywine streets, are about to resume work upon the structure. This job was abandoned some three years since on account of no cash being forthcoming to complete the building. Now an appropriation has been made of $150,000 to make payments, and a contract for $6553 has been given to Filbert & Co. to floor the basement with cement. As payment for future work is assured out of the loan bill, there are prospects of an early completion of the institution, as indicated in this journal some months ago.

Alexander Simpson, Jr., counsel for Robert J. Barr and Howard Yocum, who filed in Common Pleas Court, No. 2, the bill in equity to prevent the city from issuing the $11,000,000 loan, filed an appeal in the Supreme Court last week from the decision of the lower court. Whether the fact that the appeal is taken will act as a supercedas and prevent the city from issuing the loan is doubtful, but it is hardly probable that pending this appeal the city would try to borrow the money. If a speedier determination of the question is desired than can be had in the ordinary routine of business the city can appeal to the Supreme Court to advance the case upon its list for argument.

The Old Guard of the National Association of Master Builders held a reunion in New York City on the 6th inst. Delegates were present from Boston, New York, Baltimore, Buffalo, St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee and this city. The delegates from this city included William B. Carlie, W. S. P. Shields, John Atkinson, Peter Gray, Charles H. Reeves, Franklin M. Harris, George Watson, John S. Stevens, D. H. Watts, Stacy Reeves and W. J. Collins. The headquarters of the delegates were at the Hotel Imperial and they met at the Building Trade Club's rooms, in the Townsend Building, Broadway and Twenty-fifth street. In the evening there was a banquet at the Arena, 3941 West Thirty-first street.

Charles McCaul, contractor, has taken out a permit for the construction of the Law School building, at the University of Pennsylvania, as indicated in our last issue, and will begin work at once. The plans call for a building practically three stories in height. The architecture is after the colonial style and the interior arrangements are superb for the purposes intended. The book stack will occupy the centre of the building and will extend the height of the building. This is to be surrounded on all sides by balconies, from which will open reading, conversation and professors' rooms, the proposed arrangement of books having already been determined on. The first floor will contain six lecture rooms, a debating room and a practice court. No expense has been spared in designing the building, and the walls are extremely heavy for the size of the structure and are as near fireproof as possible. As before noted, Cope & Stewardson are the architects of the structure.

Pemberton & Co., Girard Building, Broad and Chestnut streets are about to erect ten fine dwellings on Thirty-third street, below Oxford, similar to others in the vicinity erected by the same firm. Brick, stone trimmings and all late comforts will be introduced upon interior, hot air heaters, ranges, boilers, etc.

Director Thompson has just awarded to Messrs. Armstrong & Printzenhoff, contractors, for $85,800, the contract for erecting the public pavilion on the new city pier at the foot of Chestnut street, Delaware river. The pier at this point is completed, and the work of erecting the pavilion, which will be constructed above the pier proper, will be commenced in a few weeks and the operation pushed forward as rapidly as possible in order to have the same finished in time for use during the coming summer. The pavilion for which the contract has just been awarded will be ornamental in appearance, and will occupy the entire length of the pier, which has been extended to the new Port Wardens line, entrance to which will be by a wooden bridge extending across Delaware avenue, from the west side of that thoroughfare. Previously noted in full.

A joint meeting of Council's sub-committee on the location of schools and of the Board of Education committee on property was held on the 9th inst., when the former committee submitted a report for the distribution of the $300,000 appropriation for school buildings and lots. The distribution as allotted, which exceeded the sum appropriated by $5,000, was as follows: Thirty-third ward, $70,000, for new school at G and Ontario streets; Twenty-sixth ward, $70,000, for a building at Sixteenth and Porter streets; Twenty-ninth ward, $70,000, for a building at Thirtieth and Oxford streets; Sixteenth ward, $30,000, for a new building at Girard avenue and Leopard street; Thirty-second ward $30,000, for an addition to the Blaine School, Thirty-first and Norris streets; Twenty-second ward, $10,000, for an addition to the Keyser School, Coulter and Morris streets; Thirty-sixth ward, $35,000, for an addition to the Alcorn School, Thirty-fourth and Wharton streets.

We have been furnished by the survey bureau with the projected work of a public character for this year, which will be pushed under the various appropriations of city council and help of the Loan Bill now before the Supreme Court for final adjudication: Re-construction of sewers, $38,378.14; abolishing of objectionable footway gutters, $500; reconstruction of inlets, $1,000; branch sewers, $25,000; dredging the Schuylkill river, $51,000; for the Manayunk intercepting sewer, $20,000; retaining wall at the grounds of the Commercial Museum, $30,000; for main sewers, $500,000; for new bridges, $600,000; for Gray's Ferry bridge, $148,000. This list aggregates the sum of $1,549,278.14, which with the money from loans still to be utilized in completing the Pennsylvania avenue subway, the widening of Delaware avenue and the dredging of the Delaware river, will bring the aggregate to be spent during the year to considerably over $2,000,000. These figures do not include the $900,000 included in an ordinance now pending in councils for elevating the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks on Trenton avenue, which money is to come out of the loan bill, nor do they include the $1,500,000 provided in the proposed loan of Common Councilman Dixon, of the Twenty-first Ward, for elevating the Reading Railway tracks on Ninth street. The sum of $145,000 for the new Gray's Ferry bridge will pay for the completion of the iron work of the superstructure, contracts for which have now all been awarded and signed. Chief Webster states that $100,000 will be needed for paving and painting the bridge, but Director Thompson is now in consultation with officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Union Traction Company, to determine whether those corporations will not assume their portion of the expense. An ordinance providing for the expenditure of the $500,000 included in the loan bill for new main sewers was passed at the last session of councils, and the work can proceed as soon as the money becomes available. For the reconstruction of old sewers the bureau has over $35,000 available, and the work will be begun as soon in spring as possible. The same holds good for the extension of the Manayunk intercepting sewer system in upper Manayunk, by which much of the present objectionable surface drainage will be abolished. For branch sewers in other sections of the city a quarter of a million will be spent, which money is also available.

Through Pennsylvania.

The Hotel Main and the Levin Building, adjoining, occupied by Nelson & Jones' tailoring establishment and A. M. Brown's drugstore, were destroyed by fire a few days since. The estimated loss is $100,000, on which there was an insurance of $85,000.

—At York York county, it is probable that a large silk mill will be erected by a stock company recently organized, composed of ex-Senator C. C. Kauffman, of Columbia, Pa.; W. H. Landis, of York, Pa., and D. Ashley, of Paterson, N. J. No details have been arranged as yet or contracts awarded.

Probably the idea that a humble red brick would ever play any part in electrical experiments has occurred to few. However, this is just what a certain lot of bricks composing a pier at the Reynolds Laboratory did and will continue to do as long as they are within reasonable distance of the delicate electrical instruments used in the laboratory. A suspicion that the above contingency might exist has been in the mind of Prof. Henry E. Lawrence of the University of Rochester for some time past. That it is a reality he now feels sure, and the methods he used to come to that conclusion are most interesting.

VOL. XIV.—No. 3.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1899.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

H. D. Dagit, architect, 435 Chestnut street, is taking estimates on wiring the whole building in course of erection at St. Columbia's school, Twenty-third street and Lehigh avenue.

Fred Fox, architect, 35½ North Fifteenth street, has made plans for a four-story building to be erected at 728 Sansom street. The front of brick and stone and interior furnished with all late conveniences. It will be 18x70 feet, costing close to $10,000.

H. C. Mann, architect, Frankford, has placed on boards of Contractors William Steele & Sons, 596 Walnut street, the drawings for a mill for E. Holden & Co., to be erected at Margaret and Ditman streets. It will be of brick and stone, slow burning construction, and two stories high. Bids were offered during the last week.

Harry Peale, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has made plans for one hundred dwellings, to be erected by John J. Andrews, at Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Thompson and Master streets. All are to be of faced brick, stone trimmings, and every modern convenience, including hot air heat, ranges and boilers, etc.

H. E. Yessler, architect and superintendent, York, Pa., has at present on the boards a silk mill to be erected at York, Pa., 42x260 feet, with tower, boiler house, etc., three stories high, brick and stone, slag roof, toilet rooms, steam heat, fire hose, fire escape, elevators, etc., to complete. Boiler house separate, containing 3 boilers 2 engines, electric light plant, etc. To cost about $30,000.

Horace W. Sellers and Chester H. Kirk, architects, have just taken a fine suite of offices, 1301 to 1304 Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth street, above Chestnut street, where they will have increased facilities for business. Messrs. Sellers & Kirk are engaged on quite a number of building projects which will be noted as the plans may develop. They have associated with them L. C. Holden, No. 1 Union Square, New York.

R. T. Rasmussen, architect, 1213 Filbert street, has made plans for the erection of quite a number of dwellings by J. C. Rasmussen. At Twenty-ninth and Reed streets 213 will be erected, 25 at Twenty-fourth street and Lehigh avenue, and 47 two-story ones at Front and Clearfield streets. All are to be of faced brick, stone trimmings, and interiors fitted with hot-air heaters, ranges and boilers, etc. Plans can be seen at above address.

Some time ago we noted an addition to be made to the residence of Mr. A. C. Harrison, at Germantown road and Somerset streets, from plans by Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320-324 Walnut street. These have been estimated on, and contract awarded to Stacey, Reeves & Sons, 1611 Filbert street. The work consists of a two-story building, with peaked slate roof, and contains on interior all the finest and latest comforts and conveniences, decorations, etc.

All the competitive plans for the League Island Park have now been received in the office of Chief of City Property Eisenhower, and will be scheduled by numbers and a committee of citizens will be named at an early date for the purpose of making the award of prizes and selection of the design most approved. The first prize will be $750 and the second $250, this amount having been appropriated by Councils last year for the purpose and fully noted in these columns at that time.

The school of architecture at the University has just closed the monthly competition in design with the following result: Senior subject, "A Music Hall," first mention, Charles Gilpin; second mention, W. H. Thomas and S. H. Baker; third mention, P. R. Siegel and F. L. Badine; junior subject, "Vestibule to a Palace," first mention, J. C. Willing; second mention, Louis Magaziner and A. R. Warwick; third mention, A. F. Shenk and A. P. Hiltbreitel. The judges were Edgar V. Seeler and F. Miles Day.

James T. Fernald, architect, 4303 Fairmount avenue, has prepared plans for a hall store and lodge building, to be erected at Fifty-third, Vine and Haverford streets, West Philadelphia. The drawings indicate a three story structure, 72x140 feet, brick, stone and terra cotta work for the walls, and eight stores, fitted, on the first floors; the second to contain an auditorium seating twelve hundred persons; and the third two fine, large lodge rooms, with all paraphernalia, and electric work, steam heat, as well as general conveniences, introduced.

Edwin Gilbert, architect, 1420 Chestnut street, is taking estimates on the Dr. J. V. Shoemaker office building, previously noted in these columns, to be erected on South Penn square, west of Broad street. It is to be fireproof and a thoroughly up to date structure in all particulars. The award of contract may be expected in a few days. Mr. Gilbert is engaged on drawings for alterations and additions to the residence of D. J. McGowen, at Copestown, N. J. The work will include an entrance hall, two rooms on second floor and one on the third. Bids to be asked in a short time on the work.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, will make plans for the contemplated new nurses' home, to be erected at the Episcopal Hospital, Front street and Lehigh avenue. It will be three stories in height, built of terra cotta and brick, and will cost, when completed, $100,000. The structure will contain accommodations for seventy-eight nurses, each of whom will have a separate room. A bath room will be supplied to every even room, and the whole building will be fitted in the most improved style. It will face Huntingdon street, which will make the rear entrance at the back of the home face the rear of the hospital. The heat will be from the present plant, and electric lighting and all modern comforts and conveniences will be introduced.

Some months ago Edwin F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, gave this journal a privileged advance note of plans in course of preparation for the monastery and college building to be erected by Augustinian Order at Villa Nova, Pa. These are now completed, given in full, and work is to be started in the early spring months. Among the contractors who have plans on the boards for estimates for the erection of the structure are Thomas Reilly, Jacob Myers & Sons, William R. Dougherty and Macey, Henderson & Co. The monastery building will have a frontage of 255 feet, with two wings extending north. That on the west side will be 183 feet, and on the east 133 feet. There will be a courtyard in the centre. The building will be three stories, and a fourth, or attic, from the Gothic roof. There will be a tower in the centre, extending 101 feet to the top of the cross on the tower. In this will be the main entrance door. At each side of this main tower there will be two smaller towers 85 feet to the top of the cross. There will be a porch around the entire south side, and another entrance through the sacristy. At the eastern end there will be a new chapel, 133 feet by 42 feet 8 inches, and running the entire height of the building. There will be a main altar and thirteen side altars. In the west wing there will be a dining room, 52 feet by 60 feet. Most of the rooms on the ground and other floors will be dormitories. The main hallway goes through the centre of the building. The college building will have two wings running north and south and situate on the east and west ends. The two buildings adjoin at the west wing of the college building. The college has a frontage of 253 feet 6 inches, and the wings are 176 feet 6 inches long and 55 feet wide. On the first floor there will be a dining room in the east wing, 88 feet by 5 feet, and a gymnasium in the west wing. Around the main entrance will be lecture and reception rooms, and the other rooms will be for students. The building is also three stories, with attic, and the entrance door is on the east side, where there is a tower 112 feet high. The whole structure will be Gothic and built of gray stone. The heating and lighting arrangements will be most complete. The building will stand on the high ground adjoining the old parish church.

in commercial circles is known as wind, Wind, as a word in commercial circles, is
usually used in the way of derision

They who have lost, or are rapidly losing
trade or business prestige, through obsolete methods find much comfort in criticising the other fellows' up-to-date ways as wind.

Wind in commercial circles is said to have no value. Let us see!
The fast sailing ship upon the sea, lying
listless for the want of wind, represents
daily commercial loss which will soon run
into thousands. Hence, some commercial owners are the sufferers.

Pointed, terse and telling advertising is sometimes called wind by competitors, who cannot or will not advertise their wares.
Such wind is commercially profitable,
because it guides and directs the buying
public in a short way to what it wants.

Now right here the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company's Super-Extra Hardware
comes in. The buying public is monotonously
large. That part of it who are acquainted with the true goodness of the Russell &
Erwin's Hardware, are steadfast and loyal,
but we want everybody to know it. Hence,
this advertisement.

A Tip for Highwaymen.

Gentlemen of the profession who are looking for an opportunity to crack the skull of some innocent wayfarer and borrow indefinitely the wealth that he may have upon his person, are respectfully informed that a delightful opportunity is presented nightly within the square of the Public Buildings.

The lights are carefully arranged, in order that they may afford a slight departure from absolute darkness, and while no apology is intended, gentlemen of the cudgel must understand that in the face of the many millions that have been applied to the construction and maintenance of the structure that an effort at least in the way of proper lighting must be made, or the tax-paying citizens might find room for justifiable complaint.

No irony is intended in the above, for while the city has outgrown many of her country village characteristics the things that are relegated to those in charge of its affairs are beyond the ken of those who would have them otherwise.

The Mechanics' Insurance Company.

The forty-fifth annual statement of the Mechanics' Insurance Company, Fifth and Walnut streets, shows some handsome gains for 1898.

With a cash capital of $250,000, its surplus as to policy holders is $538,314 73; by deducting the capital from this amount it will be seen that its net surplus is $288,314 73. Its available assets now amount to nearly one million of dollars, the exact figures being $955,402.75. The officers of the company are Simon J. Martin, president; Charles J. Gallagher, vice-president; John A. Snyder, secretary; Hon. Theo. F. Jenkins, solicitor.

We call attention to an advertisement in this issue, offering for sale the well known property situated at 1426 Chestnut street.

It is seldom that a site of such dimensions, 50 x 235 feet, can be secured in this immediate vicinity, even under the most liberal offers.

There is but a limited number of these choice sites for office buildings in the vicinity of Broad and Chestnut streets, and their value is not likely to become depreciated through any influence under the sun, while the probabilities are that there are those who will live to see property in that vicinity sold at prices equal to the enormous sums that have been realized from the sale of land in the immediate neighborhood of the Bank of England, London.

IN Germany the slag from furnaces is used in the manufacture of bricks. The slag is granulated and mixed with lime and water, and the mortar or concrete so produced is placed in molds and is allowed to set. The bricks are grayish white in color. They are superior in many ways to the burnt clay bricks of the ordinary type. They absorb more water than do the common brick, but do so very slowly. The slag from different kinds of furnaces gives bricks of different qualities.—Exchange.

Glass Pavements.

"When we compress fragments of glass reduced by heat to a pasty state," says Cosmos. "the glass is devitrified and loses its transparency, while its hardness, infusibility and resistance to shock and to pressure are increased. It thus forms a new substance, glass-stone. Reaumur studied it for a long time about 1727. The principle discovered by him has found new applications, and, owing to perfected methods, a glass-stone is now made that is used for various purposes. Among other things, interior walls to imitate marble, granite or mosaic are made of it, as well as the floors of houses, and the pavement of sidewalks, court yards, bath rooms or factories that require a stout resisting substance not attacked by acids. On the other hand, the recent use in large quantities of 'ceramic stone' in the Rhone factory, both in the machine rooms and on the facade, has given the best results. The city of Geneva has experimented with glass pavement, and it gives perfect satisfaction, as well from the standpoint of looks as from that of durability and freedom from slipping. The city of Nice is also about to try the method of paving. All bits of broken glass can be utilized by this new industry, which is taking on a large development. In France at present there are two factories, one at Demi-Lune, near Lyons, the other at Bousquet-d'Orb, which is connected with the Carmaux Glass Works. Besides this, two factories are being erected, one at Point St. Esprit and the other at Creil. In a few years we shall perhaps realize the dream of a glass house, so dear to a certain philosopher; but it will not be transparent if it is made of glass-stone."—Translated for the Literary Digest.

Architect Notes.

In a previous issue we noted the intention of Provost C. C. Harrison and a number of other professional gentlemen to erect on the University of Pennsylvania grounds, at Pine and Thirty-sixth streets, a combined physiological, pharmacological and pathological building. The drawings for the structure have now been completed by Percy Ash, architect, 4211 Chester avenue, and submitted for examination to those interested. The building has three floors, devoted to physiology, pharmacology and pathology, respectively. The main part of the laboratory building is 192 feet in length, and there are wings running back at each end 128 feet. Large student laboratories are placed in the wings, while the front of the main building is divided into a number of special research rooms, offices and workrooms of various sorts. To the rear of the centre of the main building there is on each floor a special demonstration room, a lecture room arranged in the form of an amphitheatre. The material will be brick, stone and terra cotta, iron skeleton and fire-proof throughout. The cost of the new laboratory will be something like $300,000, and of this amount some $40,000 has already been secured. Provost C. C. Harrison has pledged himself personally to raise half the total amount, $150,000. To co-operate with him a committee of the following physicians has been appointed: J. M. Baldy, William C. Posey, Charles W. Frazier, F. A. Packard, Albert Stengel, Richard Norris, B. F. Stahl, Judson Daland, Thomas C. Porter, J. Wilkes O'Neill, Henry Beates and Dr. Woodward.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Thomas H. Marshall, contractor, 413 Locust street, has the contract for the one-story addition at 238 Christian street, for church purposes. It will be of brick and stone.

A destructive fire occurred at 1028 Filbert street, on the 10th inst., destroying the entire sixth floor and damaging the lower floors to a great extent. Repairs are to be made at once.

Contractor Lewis Ahles will build two two-story brick dwellings, each 14x29.3 feet, on the southeast side of Thompson street, southwest of Lehigh avenue, in the Twenty-fifth ward.

The Germantown Dispensary and Hospital has taken title to ground containing 5½ acres and 20 6 10 perches, on Stanton avenue, in the Twenty-second ward, from Henry Weiner, for the consideration of $30,000.

D. Knaur, contractor of Atlantic City, N. J. will build the house for Mrs. William Moland, at that place, from plans by Scherhorn & Reithold, 430 Walnut street, and fully noted in these columns previously.

Horace E. Frick, contractor, will at once erect a steel stack, 125 feet high, for the Electric Storage Battery Company, on Allegheny avenue, east of Eighteenth street. Foundation of stone, with some brick work, cost; $1800.

The Fidelity Mutual Life Association has purchased the properties on the north side of Arch street 82.6 feet and 79 6 feet, West of Broad street, measuring 21x118 feet and 23x102 feet, respectively, from Emma C. Rommell, for $45,000.

At Chicago, Ill., the sanitary trustees have instructed the engineer to advertise for bids for constructing the Chicago & Western Indiana bridge, on section L. The estimated cost is about $150,000.

At Baltimore, Md., proposals are invited for furnishing one million feet of "conduit material," more or less, for use of the electric commission, for the City of Baltimore, during the year 1899; either wood conduit, treated with preservatives or iron-armored, cement-lined pipe, or vitrified tile conduit, single or multiplied duct pieces or both. Proposals will be received by the board of awards until January 25, 1899, and must be accompanied by a certified check for five hundred dollars, made payable to the mayor and city council, of Baltimore City. The right is reserved to make a selection of the types of conduit to be purchased, and the award will be made to the lowest responsible bidder in the class selected. Fire entirely destroyed the stable of Daniel Goodman, 215-17-19 Fitzwater street, on the night of the 10th inst. The structure was built two years ago and cost $11,000, and it is likely Mr. Goodman will again rebuild as soon as details can be arranged.

Killough Brothers, builders and owners will at once build six two story dwellings, 15 x 40 feet, on Hatfield street, east of Fifty-second street. They will be of fancy brick fronts with porches; fine interior, furnace heat, ranges and boilers, and all comforts.

The Standard Steel works, at Burnham, Pa., will erect an addition, 60x180 feet, one story high and to be used as a foundry. It will be of corrugated iron, stone foundation. The plans were made by their own engineer. Roydhouse, Arey & Co., Master Builders' Exchange, are now estimating on the work.

Plans are on the boards for estimates at the office of Contractors Doyle & Doak, Fifteenth and Sansom streets, for the erection of a one-story guard house for the marines, at League Island. The structure will contain a guard room, 10x30 feet; five cells, each 6x8 feet; a toilet room, the same size, and a corridor.

Solomon Greenberg contemplates erecting a number of dwellings in the vicinity of Jefferson and Canal streets, in Germantown. The bids for the work have all been submitted, and it is understood that the operation will shortly be begun by the erection of fifty houses on Weaver street, south of Upsal.

The cell room on the sixth floor of the Public Buildings Broad and Market streets, has been ordered to be converted into a nicely equipped court room. The interior will be in hard woods, and furnishing about the same as those already in use. W. Beyden Powell, the architect, has the matter in charge.

F. A. Poth is about to begin a small operation of dwellings, but of a fine character as to material and design, at Belmont and Parkside avenues. These are to be of stone fronts, fancy brick trimmings, copper bays and cornices, tin roofs, electric work, hard wood finish, steam heat, fine painting and decorations, etc.

The Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis will make application to the State Board of Charities, for $150,000, to be used for the erection of a hospital for the isolation of consumptives. If the Board of Charities reports favorably on the project, a bill providing for the hospital will be at once introduced in the Legislature.

William F. Deakye, real estate operator and agent, 1001 Chestnut street, is the purchaser of the Clinton Street Presbyterian Church property. It is altogether likely that a transfer will soon be made to a syndicate, who are to erect an apartment house upon the site. This project has been noted previously in these columns.

It has been decided by Secretary Long, of the Navy Department, to construct the large dry dock at League Island, in this city, of timber entirely; $350,000 is the amount appropriated by congress. The Concrete dock will go to Boston, Mass., and only one of this kind has been ordered out of the five contemplated in the act creating the system.

Contractors George F. Payne & Co., 401 South Juniper street, are receiving estimates for the erection of a house to be built at Overbrook, according to the plans of Architect T. Milton Rodgers, whose office is at southwest corner Fifth and Chestnut streets. The structure will be of stone, frame and brick work, with all modern conveniences on interior.

Chairman Burton, of the river and harbor committee, at Washington, D. C., says his committee has agreed to recommend $300,000 as the amount to be expended on improvements on the river Delaware. This is $200,000 short of the sum hoped for by the citizens who recently appeared before the river and harbor committee upon this important subject.

James D. Arthur, 14 South Broad street, has on hand one of the largest building operations undertaken for some time by any one contractor. This work is to be done in New Orange, N. J., and is for the Industrial Association of that place. It includes about 310 dwellings to be built, and will involve all kinds of materials and modern improvements for comfort. The original cost of the ground was about $100,000.

The various societies and the alumni of the University of Pennsylvania are considering the project of erecting upon the grounds in West Philadelphia a memorial tower, commemorating those students and graduates who went to the recent war with Spain. The matter is assuming a tangible shape, and already one or two meetings have been held with this object in view. It is estimated the cost will be about $61,000.

Contractors Appleton & Burrell are estimating on extensive alterations at Vernon Hall, at the corner of Main street and Chelten avenue, Germantown, which was noted in this column some time ago. The plans were drawn by Architect Adin B. Lacey, and they provide for the rearrangement of the old hall, transforming it into an office and lodge room building. The bids go in on the 21st inst. The work will be done for the Nugent Home for Baptists.

Harry T. Saunders, builder, 230 North Twenty-second street, is taking estimates on two three-story dwellings to be erected at Fortieth and Lancaster avenue. Also for a stable to be built at Twentieth and Locust streets, with English red stone front, cement floor, electric light, elevator and all general conveniences. Mr. Saunders will remodel a suite of offices in a large wholesale house, to be 30 feet wide and 100 feet long. These are to be in quartered white oak, glass partitions and electric work introduced.

A move is now being made by the authorities of the Commercial Museum, of this city, to push along the work upon the main building, on the west side of the Schuylkill river. Enough promises of a temporary loan, and future legislation by city councils have been given to assure success, and an intention upon the part of the board is indicated to let the contracts at an early date. All the plans have been completed for the work, and only the latter move is necessary to success.

It has been decided by the Trustees of the Presbyterian Hospital to erect a nurses house upon the grounds, adjacent to the present buildings, and it is altogether likely the work will be started early in the spring months. The entire matter was before the board recently, but only the preliminary matters were gone over. No architect has been engaged as yet to prepare the plans, and consequently no contracts let. Quite a fund is already in hand for the project and Dr. Dickey has cause for congratulations upon the present condition of the institution.

Chief Engineer Vodge has recommended to the Park Commission the expenditure of $30,000, to complete the work of widening East Park river drive; $10,000 for macadamizing Lincoln avenue drive, from Wissahickon avenue to Walnut lane; $1,000 for vitrified brick bicycle paths on Chamounix drive; $25,000 for continuing Thirty-fourth street drive to Callowhill street bridge and $10,000 for laying new walks in various parts of the Park, all of these sums to be taken from the $100,000 appropriation for permanent improvements. The recommendations were referred to the committee on plans and improvements.

Estimates are being received by Frank A. Souder, at the office of Richards, Hallahan & Co., at Stephen Girard Building, on Twelfth, above Chestnut street, for the erection of 24 two and three-story dwellings, to be erected in the Thirty-fourth ward. About eighty of the houses will be three stories in height, while the balance will be two stories high. Some of the former will have side yards. The fronts of the dwellings will be constructed of different colored Pompeian brick, and there will be changes in the style of architecture, which will class this operation among the best of the coming season. Hundreds of houses, in other locations in West Philadelphia, are in prospect.

The Master Builders' Exchange held its twelfth anniversary dinner, on the evening of the 12th inst., at the Hotel Lorraine. The table was beautifully decorated with palms and plateaus of cut flowers, and music was rendered by an orchestra hidden behind a floral bower. About 100 members were present. Charles H. Reeves the retiring president of the Exchange, presided, and presented W. S. P. Shields as toastmaster. The speakers included: Alexander Simpson, Jr.; ex-speaker Henry F. Walton, Representative John H. Fow, John Atkinson, the new president of the Exchange; Franklin M. Harris, John S. Stevens, George Watson, Stacey Reeves, H. A. Slack, building inspector; W. C. Haddock, Chief Eisenhower, of the Bureau of City Property; J. S. Thorn, W. B. Land and Charles Gillingham.

Architect Notes.

Henry D. Dagit, architect, 435 Chestnut street, has on boards for estimate drawings for additions and alteration to rectory of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church at Perth Amboy, N. J. Masonry, carpenter work, cement work, and all modern accommodations are in the specifications for the work.

Lawrence Vischer Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has completed plans for six houses and stores to be erected at Glenside Farms, Glenside, Pa. These are to be of red brick, stone trimmings, slate roofs; interior to have hot air, ranges and boilers, as well as all modern comforts. Estimates are in order and being made.

Wilson Bros. & Co., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, having made last year general designs for the Commercial Museum building, to be erected in West Philadelphia, have now been directed to complete with haste the details, so that the estimates may be asked, contracts awarded and the buildings completed in time for the opening of the coming exhibition. A full description of these buildings, material, etc., was given some time ago in these columns.

The union of the Spruce Street and Chester Avenue Baptist churches has now been fully consummated and the former church property is to be sold and funds applied to the erection of the new building, for which plans were made months ago by Charles W. Bolton, architect, Witherspoon Building, and noted in full. A chapel was also erected on the rear of the lot for present use. The new structure will be Gothic in style, 50x117 feet, stone, with slate roof and seat about 150 people. Fuller details later.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have been directed to get estimates on the German Protestant Home for the Aged, to be erected at Second street pike and Old Soldier road. The plans were completed some months ago, and fully noted at that time in these columns. It will be of granite and brick, slate roofs, four stories high, and contain fifty rooms in all. Heated by steam, electric work, and best culinary work in kitchen ranges, boilers, etc. It will contain also a chapel and other departments, etc.

In the matter of selecting plans from the drawings presented by competing architects for the First Baptist Church structure, to be erected at Seventeenth and Sansom streets, by that congregation, we can only say at this time that at a meeting of the sub-committee, on Monday evening, the 23d inst., the entire number of drawings, as presented, were gone over entirely on merit, in numerical order.

Those presented by Edgar V. Seeler, architect, Real Estate Trust Company Building, seemed, in the judgment of the committee, to possess features best calculated to meet requirements. This, however, not final in action, as the general committee and the congregation must yet pass upon the matter, which will be done in the next ten days or two weeks at the farthest.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut street, have been given the contract to erect the eight-story addition for the Philadelphia Cold Storage Warehouse Company, Delaware avenue and Noble street; also have a contract to erect a storehouse for the Lehigh Valley Railroad at Packerton, Pa. It will be 70x302 feet, stone and ironwork. Same firm have on boards for estimate drawings for a nine-story office building for the Evening Star, of Washington, D. C., 51x123 feet, and pink granite and white marble will be used for the front, interior in brick, with steel skeleton. Interior will be in mosaic work, marble and tile work, fitted with elevators, electric work, finest of plumbing, also gas fitting, cement work, iron and brass grille work, etc. W. J. Marsh & W. G. Peter are the architects, whose office is 1503 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C.

Milligan & Webber, architects, 521 Walnut street, have just completed plans for an apartment house to be erected near Thirtieth and Chestnut streets, for parties whose names are not given at present. The structure will be very ornate in buff or Pompeian brick, with heavy Indiana limestone trimmings on front and sides and a series of large bays extending from the second story to the eighth; the whole will be beautified by a roof garden on top. The interior will be arranged in suites, single and double rooms, with a large dining room and kitchen on the seventh floor. The first will contain an office, parlor, a reception hall, and a smoking corner with a large fireplace introduced as a special feature. The vestibule and entrance will be in mosaics and marble work, leading from a large main door to the elevators, which will be enclosed in brass and iron grille work. The basement will contain dynamo and engine for power and heat, which will be steam. Each floor will be provided with baths and closets of special system. The entire building will be fireproof in character, the skeleton lining of steel, floors and partitions of hollow material. Estimates are to be invited on the work during the latter part of the current week. The same architects are working on other plans of an extensive character which will be noted later.

Dull, Peterson & Crawford Coates, architects, 1111 Walnut street, have completed plans for an apartment house to be erected at Fortieth and Sansom streets for Miss Ellen Clement. The structure will have an ornamental front of brick, stone and terra cotta work, with a fine vestibule and parlor, also large hall leading to the elevator and office; also on the first floor will be dining room and reception rooms, etc. All the other stories will be in single and en suite. Basement will contain a boiler room, electric dynamo and general fixtures; cement floor will be laid. Specifications call for grille work of iron and brass, all modern conveniences in plumbing, gas fixtures, ranges and boilers. Estimates being made in office of William R. Dougherty, 1614 Sansom street. The same architects are engaged on plans for a large one and two-story structure for the Annapolis, Md., Ice Manufacturing Co. at Annapolis. The building will be 58x113 feet, of brick, stone and iron construction and the necessary machinery on interior. The plans are to be estimated on at an early day. Same architects are engaged on drawings for a fine theatre building, to be erected at Edington, near Torresdale, on the Delaware river. It will be one story frame structure, with ornamental entrance and stage and cellar, electric work and seating for about 250 persons.

As noted in this journal in a previous issue, the property at Tenth and Clinton streets, belonging lately to the Clinton Street Presbyterian Church, has been sold to Charles B. Prettyman, builder and real estate operator, at Broa' and Catharine streets; and the purchaser has retained Messrs. Dull & Peterson and Crawford Coates as architects, to prepare plans for the erection of a ten-story apartment house on the site. The structure will be of Pompeian brick, stone and terra cotta work, very ornamental in design, and the interior will be specially fitted with windows which will flood it with light. It will contain a large restaurant and special rooms for amusements, such as billiard, pool and chess rooms, reception halls and parlors. On the first floor will be an office and main hall leading to the elevators. In the basement will be engine and dynamo and storage rooms, etc. The entrances will be finished in marble and mosaic work, and elevators encased with brass and iron grille work, considerable cement work will be used also artificial set pavement on the exterior. Mr. Prettyman is very desirous to have the plans ready for estimate by about the middle of February, so as to make an early spring start in the work of construction. The building will be absolutely of fireproof material. Mr. Prettyman is now taking bids on forty dwellings which he will build on Kingessing avenue between 60th and 61st streets, and forty more on the east side of Upland street between the same numbered streets. They are to be of faced brick, stone trimmings; porches; and the interior fitted with hot air furnaces, ranges and boilers, tile work, papering and painting, etc.

Wind, as a word in commercial circles, is
usually used in the way of derision
They who have lost, or are rapidly losing
trade or business prestige, through obsolete methods find much comfort in criticizing the other fellows' up-to-date ways as wind.
Wind in commercial circles is said to have no value. Let us see!

The fast sailing ship upon the sea, lying
listless for the want of wind, represents
daily commercial loss which will soon run
into thousands. Hence, some commercial
owner is the sufferer.

sometimes called wind by competitors, who cannot or will not advertise their wares.

Such wind is commercially profitable,
because it guides and directs the buying
public in a short way to what it wants.

Now right here the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Company's Super-Extra Hardware
comes in. The buying public is monotonously
large. That part of it, who are acquainted

WM. C. HADDOCK, chief of the board of building inspectors of this city, will make an effort to simplify and generalize the building law of 1897, of which he was the author. This is the result of Mr. Haddock's practical experience as chief of the bureau, and it is but natural that he should, after the three years of efficient and very satisfactory service he has rendered the city, desire such changes in the law as appeal to his intelligence and experience.

Mr. Haddock's administration has been satisfactory and profitable to both the city and the builders, for, while in the exercise of his duties he has been firm, he has also been just. Entirely free from arrogance or egotism, he is always accessible, even to the humblest. He runs his office on business principles, and all issues are settled in strict accordance with the law, without fear or favoritism. Courteous and affable at all times, it is not at all strange that he is popular and that his department is regarded as one of the most capable and efficient in the municipal government.

Insurance Patrol's Report.

The Fire Insurance Patrol, of this city, held its annual election on the 19th inst. Its record of fires, which can be relied on, reports 2441 fires for 1898 or 41 less than in 1897. The losses are estimated to amount to $1,400,000. There were 1123 fires in dwelling houses, which represents the greater part of the loss. There were 101 fires in buildings occupied as groceries. There were only 25 fires which had losses of over $10,000, and only three which had losses in excess of $100,000 each. These are as follows: McCadden & Bro., 619 Market street, with a loss of $167,580; Thomas Potter & Sons, Second and Venango streets, loss $173,125.00, and the Atlantic Refinery Co. at Point Breeze, $125,000, which was not insured. There were also other fires representing losses amounting to $300,000 on which no insurance was carried.

The American Fire Insurance Company

The American Fire Insurance Company, in its eighty-ninth annual statement, which appears in our columns, shows that its assets amount to $2,710,727.67, of which amount $1,080,560.56 is invested in bonds and mortgages, $824,027.50 in stocks and bonds, $389,189.23 in real estate, $67,700.00 in collateral loans, $21,320.00 in ground rents, $25,782.77 in interest and rent due and accrued, and the balance in premiums and cash in office and banks.

The capital stock is $500,000 and its surplus amounts to $504,733.42.

The officers of the company are as follows: President, Thomas Montgomery; secretary and treasurer, Richard Maris; assistant secretary, William F. Williams; general agent, William B. Kelly.

Architect Notes.

Charles W. Botton, architect, Witherspoon Building, is making plans for a Presbyterian church to be erected at Newport News, Va. It will be stone and brick, one story; a Sunday school and class rooms; slate roof; steam heat; electric work, etc.

Bunting & Shrigley, architects, 1429 Chestnut st., are making plans for a gymnasium to be erected for the Swarthmore College, at Swarthmore, Pa. It will be 50x80 feet, two stories high, stone and brick, slate roof, steam heat, electric work, cement work, etc. No contracts let.

Charles Balderston, architect, 413 Walnut street, has completed drawings for connecting 810 Arch street to 806 and 808, same street, for L. Dannebaum & Son. The work will consist of cutting walls, putting in girders and columns of iron, etc. Estimates have been offered.

Some time ago Joseph M. Huston, the well-known architect prepared preliminary plans and sketches for the proposed hospital building to be erected by and for the Women's Health Protective Association of this city. As about $40,000 has been placed to the credit of the board of directors, it is their intention to at once begin active preparation for the work of constructing at least one of the buildings contemplated, and have set aside a few sites now offered to select from. There is no doubt at present but that Mr. Huston's drawings will be adopted for the structure, which we shall note at the proper time, when details have been arranged. At the meeting held on the 19th inst., Judge William N. Ashman was re-elected president of the board of directors to govern the proposed hospital; Justice C. Strawbridge was chosen vice president; Dr. Clara T. Dercum, secretary, and Dr. J. Madison Taylor, treasurer. The directors elected were Dr. Edwin Rosenthal, Dr. W. T. Smedley, Miss Eliza W. Redfield, Dr. Edwin E. Graham and Dr. Charles E. Pancoast, for three years, and Charles W.

Lee, Dr. James Tyson and Dr. George M. Gould to serve in the places made vacant by resignations.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

As previously noted in these columns, the Twenty-second school section is to get $10,000 for an addition to the Daniel L. Keyser School, out of the $150,000 appropriated for such purposes. Jos. D. Anschutz, architect to board of education, will make the drawings and supervise the work when it is done.

Solomon Greenberg, the builder, believes this a good season for the erection of small dwellings, two and three stories high, and will about the 1st of March begin a large operation of 160 houses at Upsal and Jefferson streets, in Germantown. All will be of brick and stone, with general comforts and conveniences on interior.

William F. Albrecht, contractor and builder, 3008 Diamond street, will at once begin the erection of a store and hall building at the northeast corner of Elwyn street and Ridge avenue. It will be 70x150 feet, two stories, brick, stone and copper trimmings, steam heat, electric work, tin roof, ventilators, best of plumbing, closets and toilet room, etc.

Mrs. John H. Converse, of this city, is at the head of a movement to lease or purchase a property in the central part of the city and fit it up for the purpose of teaching and conducting a school of housekeeping. Mrs. Converse has offered to furnish the money to start school, and also accepted the presidency of the society, who will conduct the work and select quarters at an early day. Of course this will require furnishing throughout with all the paraphernalia of a comfortable home.

Richard Humphries, Jr., builder, 1416 Porter street, has bought the entire block of ground from Sixty-seventh to Sixty-eighth streets, Lansdowne and Lebanon avenues. Also about three and a half acres at West Overbrook, adjoining. Mr. Humphries intends to improve the site by erecting a large number of dwellings during the current building season. These are to be of brick and stone, side yards and porches, electric work, hot air heating, ranges and boilers etc. An office will be upon the grounds, from which the work will be supervised.

In the Bureau of City Property office Chief Eisenhower has drawings for two fire stations, both of which were noted some months ago in this journal. The first, by Architect Joseph M. Huston, will be erected at Jasper and Adams streets, Frankford, and the second will be from plans by Charles E. Oelschlaeger, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets. The latter will be built at Thirty-first and Gray's Ferry road, and be three stories high and former 2 stories. All will be of brick, cut stone and terra cotta work, iron work, cement work, gas, electric work, and general conveniences for such buildings will be introduced. Estimates being made in the above office.

There is a considerable inquiry at the present time for ground suitable for operations and investment.

The Land Title and Trust Company offers a number of desirable sites for building purposes or for investment. See advertisement.

It is a sad and bitter episode in the life and experience of W. S. L. Rhoades that he is now without a home notwithstanding the hundred- of beautiful homes he has built for the comfort of others.

Estimates are being taken on the third story addition to the factory of Wm. Ayres & Sons, at Third and Cumberland streets, from plans by J. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 North 13th street. Previously noted in these columns.

George Ruhland, the well-known builder, will at once begin the erection of seven three story dwelling at Hobart and Vine streets and Fifty-ninth and Vine streets. All are to be of faced brick, stone trimmings and modern conveniences.

John Birkenbine, engineer, 25 North Juniper street, has prepared plans for developing and using the force of the Whirlpool Rapids at Niagara Falls. It is estimated that $20,000 will be expended on the work to obtain a 25,000 horse power plant.

Doyle & Doak, contractors, 133 South Fifteenth street, have on boards for estimate plans for an addition to the Philadelphia Free Library at 1221 Chestnut street; and the specifications call for iron work, carpenter work, stairs, painting, plumbing, etc.

Thomas McCarthy, contractor 345 York avenue, has received the contract for the new office building to be erected at 132 Filbert street, after plans by J. F. Stuckert & Sons architects, 49 North Thirteenth street, and specially noted in these columns two weeks ago.

Mr. B. H. Warner, vice president of the Washington Public Library, appeared before the house committee on public buildings and grounds, a few days since, to request that a sub-committee be authorized, before whom the library trustees could appear upon the selection of a site for the proposed public library building, for which Mr. Andrew Carnegie has donated $250,000. The sub-committee was authorized, and consists of Mr. Mercer, Mr. Hicks and Mr. Bankhead.—Senator Hoar's bill, to provide for the erection of a building for the Department of Justice, is now on the Senate calendar, having been favorably reported by Mr. Vest, and it will probably be called up for consideration at an early day. The bill provides for a fire-proof building upon the ground belonging to the government, at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Madison place, part of which ground is now occupied by the building in use by the department. The bill provides also that the construction of the building shall be in charge of the Attorney-General, who shall be authorized to select and to adopt plans for said structure and for the removal of the old building, after proper advertising $1,000,000 will be appropriated for the building.—A bill has been reported to the House providing for the widening of Nineteenth street, making the street ninety feet wide between Florida avenue and Columbia road. New Hampshire avenue will probably be extended. The extension proposed lies between Whitney avenue and Brightwood avenue or Seventh street road, and is to connect an already improved part of the avenue with the thoroughfare leading from what is now known as Columbia Heights.—The length of the extension is about 170 feet.—It is reported that the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad will soon be operating a branch line into Georgetown, and eventually that the main depot of the company will be located in that part of the city.—In a special report by Col. Charles J. Allen to the chief engineer, giving a result of a survey made by him of the Anacostia river, with a view of reclaiming the flats and improving their sanitary condition, two estimates have been made. The proposed Anacostia river improvement covers about seven miles of river, and the area of reclamation would be about 1389 acres (including reservoirs above Benning bridge). The estimated cost of the low-grade filling would be $2,839,320, or of the high-grade $6,967,150. If the work be limited to the part below Benning bridge, the area reclaimed will be about 843 acres, at a cost, to low grade, of $2,194,720, or about 6 cents per square foot.—The Senate committee on the District of Columbia, at a meeting held a few days since, took favorable action on a bill authorizing the location on Mount Vernon Square as a site for the Carnegie library building.—Ground has been broken for the proposed Holy Cross College at Rosemont on a tract of ground adjoining the property of the Roman Catholic University. The plans have been prepared by A. Von Herbulis, of Washington, and call for a building of the purely Corinthian style of architecture. The material will be Indiana limestone and Vermont granite. The interior will be finely finished throughout and fitted up for the intended purpose, particular attention being paid to the plumbing and the ventilating of the building. The very Rev. Dr. Zahm, provincial of the congregation of Holy Cross, has the matter in charge. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy by September.—Work will soon begin on the stable to be erected for the Heurich Brewing Co., on the river front at the foot of Twenty third street. It will be of brick and terra cotta; Dutch in style of architecture, two stories high and 112 feet wide. All sorts of labor saving methods will be introduced, and all modern conveniences. The plans have been prepared by Appleton P. Clark.—James T. Hill has prepared plans for a number of improvements, including a new entrance, for the dwelling of S. W. Woodward, on Wyoming avenue, Washington Heights. The same architect has prepared plans for the three-story building to be erected on the grounds of the Girl's Reform School, on the Conduit road. It will be of buff colored brick, well finished throughout, and provided with all modern conveniences and improvements.—Governor W. R. Merriam, of Minnesota, has bought the dwelling, 1414 Sixteenth street, giving in exchange the property 2401 Pennsylvania avenue. Mr. Merriam will have extensive changes made to the property, remodeling it throughout and introducing all modern conveniences. Mr. Jno. Johnson, who comes into possession of the Pennsylvania avenue property, will also make many alterations, converting the present building into an apartment house, for which plans have been prepared by Thomas Mullett; these call for fine interior finish, sanitary plumbing, tiling, elevators, etc.

The building will contain hard wood finish, slate roof, steam heat, and best comforts and conveniences, etc.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, has been retained to prepare drawing, for a large six-division parochial school for St. John's R. C. Church on Thirteenth street, above Chestnut, in this city. The structure will stand in the rear of the church edifice, facing upon a small street running from Twelfth to Thirteenth street, and will be three stories high, red brick and stone trimmings, slate roof, interior fitted entirely for school purposes, steam heat, electric bells, best plumbing, etc. Mr. Watson is quite busy with other work in his Atlantic City branch, as well as this city, and which we shall note later.

Charles W. Bolton, architect, 1007 Witherpoon Building, has just completed plans, in detail, for the new nurses' home to be erected at the Presbyterian Hospital in this city. The structure will be 52x123 feet, three stories high; base of Hummelstown brown stone, and the two or three stories of Pompeian brick and terra cotta work, copper cornices; also a fine copper bay will be placed in the centre of the second floor on Thirty-ninth street. Interior will be finished in ornamental marble and mosaic work and natural wood work, and the basement will be subdivided into store rooms, kitchen, dining rooms, and an elevator running from basement to the third floor. The structure will be heated by steam, and furnished with every comfort and convenience, including electric work, best system of plumbing, offices and reception parlor and recreation room. Estimates are soon to be asked upon the work.

Louis Korn, architect, 37 Maiden Lane, N. Y., is now preparing plans for the large dry goods warehouse, 150x200 feet, to be erected for Ludwig Bros. on the present site on Fourteenth street, south side, between Fifth and Sixth avenues. The work will be done in sections, in order to allow the regular business to continue without interruption. The building will be fit-t-d up in the most modern style. Mr. Korn also reports plans on the boards for the seven-story apartment house, 40x102.2, to be erected on the southwest corner of Seventy-fourth street and Park avenue. This building will be furnished in the most elaborate style, including steam heat electric light, elevators, refrigerators, etc. Plans will be completed ready for bids within a few days. Plans by the same architect are also in preparation for an eight-story fireproof warehouse to be erected on Tenth street, between Broadway and University Place.

Joseph D. Anshutz, architect to the board of Education, has completed plans for a new school house to be erected at Sixteenth and Porter streets, and another at Ontario and G streets. Both will be three stories high, of stone and brick construction, tin roof, and all the latest conveniences introduced; and bids are to be asked within, possibly, ten days, or two weeks at the farthest. It is likely bids will be invited about the same time on a twelve-room addition to the James G. Blaine School at Thirtieth and Norris streets. Also for a four room addition to the Kayser School at Coulter and Morris streets, Germantown; and an additional story to be put on the Wharton school, on Fifth street, above Washington avenue; for all of which plans are completed. It is confidently expected that considerable other school work will be accomplished during the current year under the provisions of the new loan bill, which is now before the supreme court for final adjudication.

Penn Mutual's Statement.

It is no surprise that the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, of this city, maintains its prestige among Philadelphians, who, through their natural conservatism, prefer safety as against other inducements even at a smaller cost for insurance. There may be cheaper rates than the Penn Mutual can offer, but it is certain that no institution under the sun is better managed by its executive heads, nor can security in its broadest sense be more fully assured to policy holders than that obtained through this old Philadelphia company. The statement is particularly gratifying, as it shows that during 1898 14,049 new policies, representing $38,839,718 00, were issued. With net assets on January 1st amounting to $33,985,502.54, a net increase during the year 1898, of $3,163,249.02, it will be seen that this company is in a prosperous condition. The statement also shows that the company had, on January 1st, 65,798 policies outstanding, which stands for $165,524,302.00 worth of life insurance. Mr. Harry F. West is the president, Mr. Geo. K. Johnson, vice-president and Mr. Henry C. Brown, secretary and treasurer.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Report.

On January 28th R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade conditions embraced the following:

"The country is in a stronger position than a week ago. Remarkable strength in its industries is important, but it is not the chief element. Public confidence in the business of the country and in its securities has been tested to an unusual extent by the sudden fall in stocks and the subsequent rise. Confidence in the value of wheat, corn and cotton has been shown by the markets, and at rising prices the world buys because it has to buy. The vast supply of unemployed capital has been shown impressively, and the new and startling independence of foreign money market fixes attention. The lumber movement is unusually large for the season, with prices of low grades sharply advancing. Railroad earnings and tonnage have shown surprising gains."

Bradstreet's Report

was as follows for the week ending January 28th:

"The apparently steady rise in the tide of general business has been diversified this week by an outburst of speculative interest in a number of staples, notably cotton and wheat, which heretofore have registered steady gains on actual consumptive demand rather than on the development on marked bullish speculation. Large transactions and buoyant prices have been features in these staples, and signs are not wanting that sympathetic, though smaller movements, in a number of other lines are either under way or contemplated.

"Exceptional industrial activity, particularly in the iron and steel trades, is another feature of note, and here, too, price advances are all but general, reflecting, so far as can be seen, the urgency of consumers' requirements, the claim, in fact, being made that speculation has not yet entered into the buying in this branch of industry. The same claim, however, can hardly be made as regards a number of movements toward consolidation in his and other industries, where, in fact, the movement toward combination is described as approaching a virtual craze. In the regular channels of distributive trade conditions continue, in the main, satisfactory."

German American Charity Ball.

The twelfth annual German-American Charity Ball is announced to take place on Monday evening, February 6. The proceeds are to be devoted to the University Hospital and Sheltering Arms of this city. The ball will be held under the auspices of the Maenecor Society and the tickets will cost $5, admitting a gentleman and two ladies. See advertisement for particulars.

Architect Notes.

Sellers & Kirk, architects, Stephen Girard Building, are engaged on plans for an apartment, or what may be regarded as a flat house, to be erected upon a location yet to be fixed upon. The details as to number of stories also has not been determined. The structure will be of brick, stone and other fireproof material, and interior will combine all the latest improvements, including elevators, electric work, special system of plumbing and gas fitting, mosaic and tile work, cement and concrete work, etc. When all details are completed we shall give a description of the buildings and facts as to location, owners, etc.

Chief Eisenhower, of the Bureau of City Property, has appointed William W. Frazier, Justus C. Strawbridge, of the firm of Strawbridge & Clothier; Charles W. Henry, a member of the Fairmount Park Commission; Chief George S. Webster, of the Bureau of Surveys, and Walter Cope as the committee of citizens which shall have charge of the competitive plans for the development of the site of League Island Park, which comprises over 300 acres. Two cash prizes, one of $750 and the other of $250, will be awarded by the committee to the person or firm who, in their judgment, shall submit the best plans. The latter, which are thirteen in number, have been arranged in frames in the two large rooms on the fourth floor of the City Hall, recently occupied by the Citizens' Committee on Peace Jubilee, which were placed at the disposal of Chief Eisenhower for that purpose by the Public Buildings Commission. Each contains a number or motto, placed there by those submitting the same, and when the selections are decided upon by the committee the name of the landscape architects will be made public. Previously noted in these columns.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

George L. Sipps, contractor, 212 S. Seventh street, will at once make alterations to interior of 1116 S. Eleventh street, for John Wyeth & Bro.; also cut walls and raise the roof of the structure.

Louis Paul, builder, will at once begin an operation of eight dwellings at Twenty-fifth and York streets, each to be 15x45 feet; brick, with stone trimmings; interior work will be of the best; ranges, boilers, hot air heaters, etc.

An effort is being made by a prominent real estate operator in this city to organize a syndicate for the purpose of erecting an office building on or in the vicinity of South Penn Square. Further details when the matter has matured sufficiently.

Charles McCaul, contractor, No. 10 North Eleventh street, is making estimates on a car shop to be erected for the Philadelphia & Reading R. R., at Schuylkill Haven, Pa. It will be of steel and frame work and have a slag roof. It will be 399 feet long and wings, 10x80 feet.

Estimates are being made in the office of S. R. Riley, contractor, 627 Filbert street, for a dwelling to be erected at Chelsea, N. J., after plans by Guy Kling, architect, 431 Walnut street. It will be of brick and frame work, and contain all modern conveniences on interior. Previously noted.

The big mills of W. Judge & Bro., at Columbia avenue and Blair street, were badly damaged by fire last week. All the floors but the lower one were burned and carpets destroyed. The two upper floors will have to be rebuilt and machinery replaced, as well as appliances to building; steam heat, electric work, etc.

The estimate for a new smith shop for League Island has been made, and Congress asked for $420,000 to erect it. The total estimate for improvements at the Island for 1899 amounts to over $850,000, including an iron-workers shop, new quarters for officers, etc. The new smithery is to be built of steel and brick, 75x200 feet. No contracts can be let until an appropriation is made.

In regard to the report that the old Girard Hotel at Ninth and Chestnut streets, was to be torn down and a new one erected, we can only say that, notwithstanding the decision of the Orphans' court, recently rendered in the matter against the Moore estate, we regard it as a matter of speculation entirely, and that no such structure as has been noted in the daily papers will be constructed.

The tower to be erected at the University of Pennsylvania, in this city, commemorative of those who became soldiers and sailors during the Spanish and late Civil wars, will be built by contributions and stand directly in the triangle of the dormitories now erected at Thirty-sixth street and Woodland avenue. It is intended to have plans prepared by students of the School of Architecture and select those best suited to carry out the design. C. C. Harrison, assisted by the various societies of the University has the matter in charge and will raise the money, which will be about $60,000.

The annual meeting of the board of directors of the Master Builders' Exchange, which was held on the 24th ult., resulted in the election of seven directors, to serve for three years, as follows: R. C. Ballinger, Joseph E. Brown, John J. Byrne, William S. P. Shields, Peter Gray, William B. Carlile and W. J. Collins. The Exchange will meet for reorganization on February 7. The annual report of the board of directors which was presented at the meeting, showed an average daily attendance of fifty-five during 1898. The assets are shown to be $162,398.01; liabilities, $140,543.29; leaving a credit balance of $21,854.75. The total membership of the Exchange is 221, a decrease of 14, including five deaths, from 1897. The trustees of the Trade School report an endowment fund of $74,000 on hand.

The Lafayette Memorial Association of this city is making progress in raising the $10,000 necessary to erect the proposed memorial to Marquis de Lafayette in one of our public squares, where it is proposed to locate it. The work will be in bronze and granite and about 19 feet high. Officers of the association elected for the current year are: President, Judge S. W. Pennypacker; vice presidents, Most Rev. P. J. Ryan, D. D., Rev. Henry C. McCook, D. D., William N. Ashman, Mr. Ferdinand Dreer, Mr. Edward W. Bok and Col. John I. Rogers; secretary, Dr. Robert S. J. Mitcheson; treasurer, Mr. William G. Huey. The executive committee consists of Mr. Carl Edelman, Mr. A. F. Bornot, Mr. Robert E. Matthews, Dr. Robert S. J. Mitcheson and Emile C. Geyelin. A sketch of the work has been made and approved, but as yet no contract for the construction work has been awarded.

Director Riter, of Public Safety, on the 27th ult., opened bids for the erection of stations for fire purposes for the Thirty-first and the Thirty-sixth ward, as follows: Thirty-first ward, Wm. R. Dougherty, $5,615; Doyle & Doak, $16,836; Philip Anns Co., $16,123; James Detrick, $8,143; Thomas M. Seeds, $14,038; Macey, Henderson & Co., $15,851; and H. B. Shoemaker, $15,500. Thirty-sixth ward, William R. Dougherty, $19,701; H. C. Nichols, $19,315; Doyle & Doak, $19,497; Philip Anns Co., $22,512; James Detrick, $21,923; Thomas M. Seeds, $16,883; Macey, Henderson & Co., $17,949; H. B. Shoemaker, $19,000; J. R. Wiggins, $18,700; W. J. Smith, $22,300; James A. Davis, $17,500; Thomas Rice Company, $17,700, and Thomas Cannon, $22,334. The appropriations for this work are $22,000 for the Thirty-sixth ward house, and $15,000 for the other house. In both cases Thos. M. Seeds Jr. is the lowest bidder. This work has been fully noted previously.

Architect Notes.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut streets, has made drawings for alteration and addition to 1217-19-21 Callowhill street. These are quite extensive in exterior and interior work.

Architect Thomas Stephens, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., has completed plans and estimates are being received for the erection of a factory and store building to be built along the boardwalk, at Atlantic City, N. J., for the Bohemian Art Glass Works. It is estimated that the work will cost $20,000. The bids go in on the 13th inst.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have prepared plans and awarded the contract for a two-story and basement printing house, 20 by 100 feet, to be erected on the southeast corner Third street and Girard avenue, for the estate of Charles Shirliff. The building will be of brick, and will cost about $7000. George W. Krall has the contract.

H. D. Dagit, architect, 435 Chestnut street, has completed plans for a fine residence, to be erected at 1927 Vine street, for Jno. F. Cronin. It will be very ornamental in form, of Pompeian brick and dressed stone work, tin roof, and interior to be fitted in a handsome manner in hard woods, best plumbing, heating, and ranges and boiler, etc. Estimates being made in W. R. Dougherty's office, 1604 Sansom street, and other contractors.

Estimates have been asked and are being made on the new school house, to be erected on the east side of "C" street, between Ontario and Thayer, by the board of education. The plans are by Joseph W. Anschütz, and call for a three-story structure, stone and brick, slate roof, hot air heating, electric work, lightning rods, and all improvements will be introduced on the interior for comfort of teachers and scholars. Previously noted in this journal.

Architects Bunting & Shrigley, 1420 Chestnut street, have requested bids on the gymnasium building to be erected at Swarthmore for Swarthmore College. As previously stated in these columns; it will be stone and brick, 54x84 feet, two stories, with shower baths, lockers, running track, hand-ball court, billiard room, water closets, steam heat, electric lighting, etc. Plans are in the offices of a number of general contractors for bids. Jno. R. Wiggins, 1215 Filbert street; Wm. R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, are figuring.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have been retained to prepare all plans for the new P. E. Church to be erected at Second and Rinker streets, under charge of Rev. C. A. Robinson, of the church of the Evangelists of this city. The details in regard to the structure have not all been agreed on as to the interior work, etc., but it will be quite an ornate building of stone, slate roof and towers with double columns along the nave supporting the roofwork. In the near future we shall give a fuller description from the plans of the architects who are pushing them to completion.

Harry J. Shumway, architect, Law Building, Atlantic City, N. J., has made plans for a hotel, to be erected in that city for Dr. J. B. Thompson, and called the "Chelsea." It will be of stone, brick and frame work, five stories high, and fitted complete for hotel work, with elevator and lift, steam heat, electric work, tile and tin roof, dynamos, billiard and shuffle board-rooms, best system of plumbing in toilet and bath rooms, cafe and barber shops. All modern conveniences will be introduced. Philip Anns & Co., Bourse Building, and others are estimating on the work.

Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title & Trust Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, has made plans for a power-house and gatekeepers' lodge for Wm. L. Elkins' house at Ashbourne, Pa. These are to be of stone and brick work, one and two stories high and fitted with all modern appliances of the best. Estimates are being made on the work by a number of contractors.—Mr. Trumbauer also made the plans for the R. H. & B. C. Reeves Co. drying room and printing house in Camden, N. J., and estimates are being made in offices of Geo. F. Payne & Co., and Jacob Myres & Sons. It will be of brick, stone and iron, shingle roof and three stories high, steam heat and power.

Architect Edwin Gilbert, 1420 Chestnut, is at work on drawings for six three story Pompeian brick and porch front dwellings, to be built on Seventeenth street, above Ontario street, for Charles E. Frick. Each house will measure 16x50 feet, and contain three rooms on the first floor; two chambers, a library and bath room on the second floor, and three chambers and a storage room on the third floor. The interior finishing materials include hard woods, tiling, etc. Mr. Gilbert is at work on the final drawings for a house to be built at Cooperstown, N. Y., for D. J. McGown, previously noted in this column.

As indicated in this journal two weeks ago the plans of Edgar V. Seeler, architect, Real Estate Trust Co. Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, have been accepted for the construction of the New First Baptist Church, at the Southeast corner of Seventeenth and Sansom streets. The details will be arranged in accordance with the ideas of the committee after which the drawings completed will be placed upon the boards of contractors for estimate. The lot will be 95x150 feet and is at present fully covered by dwelling-houses. A full detail of the material selected and general notes of importance about the structure will be given when Mr. Seeler has completed the drawing.

Dull, Peterson & Coates, architects, 110 Walnut street, have completed the plans for the large apartment house to be erected by Charles B. Prettyman, at Tenth & Clinton streets, upon the site of the Presbyterian Church, and estimates are to be asked during the current week. It will be 100x15 feet in area, erected of brick, stone and iron, with other fire-proof materials, natural oak, marble and mosaic work, will be largely used on interior, electric work, plumbing, cement work, gas fitting, painting, glazing, steam heat, iron and brass grille work are among the specifications. Mr. Prettyman intends to make this second to none in all the varied appointments. Previously noted in these columns.

The managing committee of the John Stewardson Memorial Scholarship in Architecture announces by authority of the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, who act as trustees of the memorial fund, a competition for a scholarship of the value of $1000, the holder of which is to spend one year in travel and in the study of architecture in Europe under the direction of the committee. Candidates must be under 30 years of age, and must have studied or practiced architecture in the State of Pennsylvania for the period of at least one year preceding February 13. The preliminary examinations will take place at the School of Architecture of the University of Pennsylvania, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, February 13, 14 and 15.

Messrs. Baker & Dallett, architects, have taken a fine suite of rooms in the Crozer Building 1420 Chestnut street, and will fit them at once for office purposes, where they can be seen and consulted after the 10th inst. The same architects have just prepared detail plans for the West Chester State Normal School, to be erected in the near future in that place. The building will be of serpentine green stone, two stories high, and full basement, which will be utilized as a play room, storage and heaters, etc. A special division will be set aside on the first floor for a primary or kindergarten school for which a separate entrance will be provided. The main doorway and hall will be upon the front leading to the various divisions of the Normal School. The building will contain all modern improvements and comforts for children and teachers, including coat rooms, finest system of plumbing and ventilation, electric work. Both main floors will be subdivided into class-rooms for both sexes and furnished in accordance; and for which plans have been accepted. Also plans for alterations to the residence of Mr. Jesse Darlington, of that place. These are exterior as well as interior, and will include all comforts and conveniences, etc.

REAL ESTATE GOSSIP has it that the "North American" was purchased by the Anti-Quay syndicate, with the Hon. John Wanamaker at its head. Gossip further says, that Ex-Judge Gordon is to be its editor-in-chief. The price paid is said to have been $155,000.

We hope the administration has not concluded to drop the question of disciplining General Miles, for if it would do the administration any good it is certain that it would not hurt Miles in the least.

General Miles is all man from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet; as the general of the army he understands his whole duty, even to the coralling of rascally politicians and swindling contractors, and he is not afraid to perform it. If he has a duty, which is even more sacred than any other, it is the protection and safety of the lives and health of the soldiers under him.

There is a vast difference between Algerism and Milesism, and the people recognized the difference many moons ago. If the administration is figuring on the proposition that the people are fools it will awaken to a realization of the contrary.

The U. G. I. Co.'s Report.

The statement furnished the City Controller by the United Gas Improvement Company, giving the improvements and betterments made during 1898, as provided in its lease, shows that $3,112,829.07 have been expended. This sum represents the cost for improvements to the manufacturing and storage plant, as well as extensions to the distributing system.

A new water gas plant with a capacity of 20,000,000 cubic feet, has been erected at Point Breeze; this includes a generator house, an engine and boiler house, a condenser house, one relief holder, one exhaust valve and meter house, and one purifying house. All of these buildings are built of brick and stone. There is also under construction at the above plant one coal gas retort house, with a capacity of 3,000,000 cubic feet. Other extensive improvements have been made for the Point Breeze Works; such as boilers and engines to serve many purposes, a complete system of water mains, coal storage shed, coal conveying apparatus, pavements, sewers etc.

Eight sets of Lowe apparatus have been added to the Twenty-fifth Ward Gas Works, a purifying house, a condenser house with a capacity of 12,000,000 cubic feet have also been constructed, besides, which a vast amount of remodelling has been done, including one holder with a capacity of 2,000,000 cubic feet.

A stable with room for 100 horses has been erected at the Ninth and Diamond streets station.

A new holder with a capacity of 2,000,000 cubic feet, has been built at the Market street works.

In the streets there have been laid approximately nine miles of 30-in main, connecting the Point Breeze Gas Works with the Market street holders and the Twenty-fifth Ward Gas Works with the Ninth and Diamond streets holders, and the Ninth and Diamond streets holders with the 30-inch main previously laid on Sixteenth street. There have been laid approximately 11½ miles of mains, including pumping and distributing mains to Chestnut Hill and Manayunk and distributing mains of from 6 to 20 inches in diameter, laid throughout the city to improve the distribution and supply the many buildings erected during the year and to keep ahead of the paving operations undertaken by the city.

The results of the various changes, as far as they affect the service to the public, have been the increasing of the illuminating power of the gas to an average of something over 22 candles, and an improvement in the distribution to such an extent that whereas some parts of the city have in the past had insufficient pressures, all are now supplied with gas at pressures that are satisfactory for all purposes.

Another result of the improvements and extensions is that the manufacture of gas at the Market street works has ceased and the odors and smoke emanating from that works, and which for many years have been more or less objectionable to the inhabitants of the neighborhood, have ceased. This plot of land comes into possession of the city in a few days. Mr. Seeds, chairman of the finance committee of Councils, has said that the city would probably realize from the sale of this property in the neighborhood of $2,000,000.

The United Gas Improvement Company, in obtaining new consumers and improving the service of consumers who were troubled with lack of pressure, has laid about 26,800 services and set about 82,000 meters during the year. In carrying out the provisions of the lease there have been set about 290 new street lamps.

In the laying of services and making betterments to mains and services, there were 40,000 openings made in the streets of the city, in addition to the 119 miles required by the laying of new mains.

The following clipping from the New York Herald of January 26th is important, as indicative of the present condition of the two countries:

In December, as in the preceding month, exports from the United States were larger than those from the United Kingdom, the excess for the latest month being more than five and one-quarter million dollars.

The most striking features of the British record are the increased imports of grain and a decrease of $11,125,000 as compared with the previous year in value of woolen and worsted goods exported to the United States. Cracking the statistical nuts we present the kernels of the British and American returns for the year in millions of dollars (00) omitted, thus:

UNITED STATES.
Exports, merchandise . . .	$1,254,925
Exports, net, silver . . .	24,767
	$1,279,692
Imports, merchandise . . .	633,664
Imports, net, gold . . .	141,841
	775,505
Net excess exports	$504,187
UNITED KINGDOM.
Exports, merchandise . . .	$1,470,049
Exports, net, silver . . .	4,729
	$1,474,778
Imports, merchandise . . .	2,353,020
Imports, net, gold . . .	85,657
Net excess imports	$913,899

It will surprise those who fancy that one of the chief ends of commerce is to import as little as possible to learn that the British trade journals are as much gratified by the increase of nine and one half per cent. in imports during December as by the gain of eight and one half per cent. in exports. Our own exports for the year broke all records, while our imports were the smallest since 1885, when the population was one-third smaller than at present. After deducting from the balance of $515,000,000 in our favor for the last year the maximum estimate of charges for freights, insurance and returns on foreign capital invested in this country, there remains upward of $200,000,000 represented by return of securities or money still due us abroad—an unparalleled exhibit.

Architect Notes.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, has completed plans for a Girls' House of Refuge, Twenty-second and Poplar streets and awarded the contract to James Johnson, contractor, 1713 Sansom street. It will be of brick and stone, 40x60 feet, four stories high and contain all the best convenience in plumbing, ventilation, steam heat, electric work, etc.

of the city's storage yards. The sub-committee of the highway committee of councils, which has been considering for some months past the drafting of an ordinance providing for the paving with improved pavement main streets and streets forty feet and less in width, for which $2,000,000 is provided for in the big loan bill of $11,200,000, has completed the ordinance, but the general committee is not likely to report the same to council until some time early next month. The task of apportioning the streets to be improved has been a very difficult one, as the members of councils were desirous of including as many streets in their respective wards as possible in the bill. Some weeks ago the sub-committee reported the bill in its unfinished condition to the general committee, and now that it is completed it will be favorably reported to councils by the latter body.

VOL. XIV.—No. 7.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1899.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

Architect T. H. Scott, Pittsburg, Pa., has completed plans for a six-story brick business building for Mrs. Amy Hostetter-Du Puy, at the northeast corner Liberty and Fifth avenue. It will cost $50,000.

James Pollock & Sons' factory building, at Josephine and Oxford streets, was almost wholly destroyed by fire on the 10th inst. Loss is about $20,000, and it will be rebuilt as soon as details can be arranged.

Henry A. Macomb and Louis L. Calvert, architects and engineers, have formed a partnership for the practice of their profession, and taken a suite of offices, 1603-4 Real Estate Trust Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, where they can be consulted.

The board of education at McKeesport, Pa., is it stated are dissatisfied with either the plans or the architects selected; as a result of the recent competition for plans for the high school building to be erected at that place, and may re-open competition for the same.

The drawings for the new college and monastery building, at Villa Nova, Pa., by E. F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, have been revised to some extent, and new estimates are being made in offices of Charles McCaul and other contractors. The general plans are not altered at all as to size or shape of structure, but somewhat in detail and specification.

T. Melon Rogers, architect, Devon, Chester county, Pa., has made plans for a back building to be erected in rear of 1225 Walnut street for Mr. Henry Savage, owner. It will be three stories high, and contain a dining room, kitchen, bath room, dumb waiter, hot air flues and general modern accommodations, etc. Estimates being made in the office of Roydhouse, Arey & Co., Master Builders' Exchange.

Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel Building, have completed plans for extension to the coal shed at Point Breeze gas works, and these show a structure 125x202 feet. Specifications call for steel work, masonry, corrugated iron work, etc. Bids have been made in office of Louis Havens, Girard Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, and other contractors during the past week. Contract will be awarded in a few days.

I. P. Dallis, architect and builder, No. 822 East Centre street, Mahanoy City, Pa., has completed drawings for a handsome private dwelling for H. K. Christ, at Mahanoy City. The structure will embrace all modern improvements and the latest style of plumbing. The decorations will be in Sterec relief, and the interior of the dining hall will be paneled with quartered oak; all interior trim will be of hard woods, with tile floors. Vestibule and hall drawings for two other buildings are also under way.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, has made plans for a fine house to be erected at Radnor, Pa., for George A. Fletcher, and estimates are now being made on the work by contractors. The structure is to be two-and-a-half stories high, colonial style of architecture; interior will have all the latest improvements and comforts, stone and frame material. R. C. Ballinger & Co., 218 North Thirteenth street, have plans on boards. Same contractors are figuring on plans for a house for Dr. H. L. Smedley, of Media, Pa.

Charles E. Oelschlager, architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has completed plans for a three-story store and dwelling on Broad street, below Washington avenue, for Charles M. Sullivan. It will be 2'x'5-feet, of Pompeian brick and stone trimmings, galvanized iron cornices and bay windows. Interior in oak finish, tiling and plumbing, electric work, steam heat, porcelain bath tubs, range and boiler in kitchen, and all the best conveniences will be introduced. Estimates to be asked and made at once.

Wm. L. Price, architect, 731 Walnut street, has been selected to prepare the plans for the new country residence at Overbrook for Jno. O. Gilmore, of Wayne, Pa. The structure will be three stories high, of stone and brick, slate roof and exterior as well as interior of unique and beautiful design. The interior will be in hard woods and tile work, best system of plumbing and culinary department fitted with ranges and boiler of most approved kind. Mr. Gilmore purchased a large lot last summer at the above named place and invited competitive designs of quite a number of leading architects of this city.

Thomas Stephen, architect, Masonic Temple Camden, N. J., has completed drawings for the work at the Soldiers' Home at Vineland, N. J. It includes heating, lighting, refrigerator, kitchen and laundry, toilet room and general interior improvements, and will cost about $20,000.—Same architect has made complete plans for alteration and addition to the office building of J. E. Lee & Co., at Conshohocken, Pa., which will include galvanized and ornamental iron work, steam heat, marble work, electric work and other details, as noted in our last issue.—Also plans for a store and light manufaturing building, to be erected on the boardwalk, at Atlantic City, N. J.

More than one year ago we noted the contemplated erection of an addition to the Penn Mutual Life Building, 925 Chestnut street, on the north side of Chant street in the rear of their building, from plans prepared at that time by their architect, Mr. Louis C. Hickman, whose offices are in Brown Bros.' Building, south-east corner Fourth and Chestnut streets. The company will begin the erection of a five-story structure at present, with the ultimate design of increasing it to ten, if necessary. The building is chiefly necessary for storage of archives and clerical forces, and will be entirely fireproof in material, brick, stone and iron being used in construction; also on the interior hollow ware for partitions, tile work, electric work, best system of plumbing, elevator and lift, and all conveniences introduced. Connection with the main structure will be by an arched tunnel under Chant street. A main entrance will also be upon the latter street. Mr. Hickman will supervise the entire work of building when the same shall be started.

Mr. William G. Huey of City Councils will at the next session of that body present an ordinance and plans for adoption, creating a boulevard, leading from the junction of Broad and Wood streets to Fairmount Park, in the vicinity of Green street entrance. The project would involve an expenditure of about two millions of dollars and would require a street 275 feet in width from the north side of Carlton street to the south side of Pearl street, Wood street being the central factor for the avenue. In this form the proposed concourse will extend in a straight line to a point just west of Twenty-first street, where it will curve gradually to the north, and will cross Spring Garden street between Twenty-second and Twenty-fourth street. The land within the triangle bounded on the south by Spring Garden, on the west by Twenty-sixth street, and the southeast by Pennsylvania avenue, will be included at the western end. The ordinance provides for an asphalt street and beautiful piazzas and sidewalks; also a court of honor at Broad and Wood streets entrance, whilst at the curve of Twenty-first street would appear another arch of beautiful design, commemorative of historical events. All the plans were prepared for Mr. Huey by Messrs. Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects and engineers, 439 Walnut street. Same architects have been retained to prepare plans for a proposed eleven-story hotel to be erected upon the site of the old Girard House at Ninth and Chestnut streets. The question of building and right of proprietorship are now in litigation in the courts, and will be appealed to the Supreme Court of this State for a final adjudication. Also plans are being made for a three-story building, to be erected at Bryn Mawr, Pa., for Mr. W. H. Ramsey. It will be of brick and slate roof, steam heat, electric work and all late conveniences and comforts. Other plans being prepared will be noted later.

THE owners of central dwelling properties will do well to take a hint from the dissatisfaction expressed by those living in the suburbs at the delay in getting to and from their homes during the present cold weather.

The fact is there will be an active demand for dwellings within comfortable walking distance of the business centre, provided the owners of these properties will modernize them.

It is certainly fair to recognize the desire of renters for better home conditions, and it is useless to rail or fight against it, for the process of education has gone too far.

Vacant houses are an expensive luxury for the owner, and the absence of monthly rentals soon exceeds in amount the cost of making inviting home comforts and improvements which are in demand.

The record of alterations and additions should amount this year to at least ten millions of dollars.

This is a question which owners must settle for themselves, for it is useless to find fault with their agents because of their inability to rent dwellings which are not wanted because they are not in the condition tenants desire.

It is the old question of expending money to make money.

THE Boston architects are disposed to take advanced ground in regulating public architecture as to its appearance. At a recent meeting of the Boston Society of Architects it was proposed to introduce a bill in the present Legislature for the establishment of an architectural commission, each member to be a practical architect. Some of the members are to be appointed by the mayor, others by the trustees of the public library, one by the trustees of the city hospital, and others by public institutions of the city, such as the school board. This committee is to be a court of appeal for the settlement of mooted questions, as that of the Haddon hall, over which the mayor held a recent tilt. To this architectural commission are to be submitted plans for all public buildings.—Exchange.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

On the 8th inst. fire destroyed the mill building of Woodcock Bros., Jefferson, near Wakefield street. The rear portion is entirely gone, whilst the front is severely damaged, and will, it is understood, be rebuilt at once. Loss is about $50,000.

Arthur H. Williams' Sons, contractors, 217 Pear street, have a contract to make additions and alterations to the residence of W. W. Justice & Co., on Manheim above McKean street, Germantown. Cost about $6000. Previously noted in these columns.

The Second National Bank, of Wilkinsburg, a part of Pittsburgh, with a capital of $100,000, is to be organized. It will be located near Penn and Swissvale avenues. A new building may be built. W. E. Hammet, of that place, can give information.

Bids on asphaltting Broad street, between Vine and Spring Garden streets, and the humps at Lehigh avenue, will be asked in a few days by the bureau of highways. The work must be completed by early spring, which will make that thoroughfare one of the finest in the country for general travel.

Councils' Committee on Charity and Correction have acted favorably upon an ordinance to appropriate $60,000 for enlarging the insane wards of the Almshouse. It is stated that the insane population in the Almshouse had almost doubled within ten years and that the present quarters are wholly inadequate for the proper care of the patients.

Fire gutted two floors of the Hocd Building, Third and Vine street, owned by James McCloskey contractor, 212 New street, on the night of the 8th inst. Mr. McCloskey's loss is about $10,000, and he will rebuild it at once. The lower floors are badly damaged and will need considerable work in plastering, painting, plumbing, etc.

The contract for the erection of the third story addition, 34x64 feet, at the picker house at Third and Cumberland streets, for Messrs. William Ayres & Sons, has been awarded to Contractor Charles McCaul. The plans, were drawn by Architects J. F. Stuckert & Son. It is estimated that the work will cost about $5000, and has been fully noted in these columns.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., contractors, 401 South Juniper street, have been awarded a contract to build an eight-story building at 112 1/2 North Twelfth street for Walter E. Herring, from plans prepared by Harry Peale, Jr., architect, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets. The structure will be of brick, stone and iron construction and be fitted with lifts and elevator, electric work, steam heat and power, as well as all modern conveniences.

Jno. H. Smith, carpenter and builder, 1032 Cross street, has prepared plans for alteration of properties, 610-12 1/2 and 16 Hancock street, for the Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and Granting Annuities as owners. The work contemplated includes taking off the fifth floor, putting in new Pompeian brick fronts, brown stone trimmings, galvanized iron cornices and bay windows, fire escapes, drainage pipes, cement work, etc. Work to be started at an early day.

Application has been made by the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Co. for license to construct two new piers at Port Richmond, to be known as A and G. The first will be 682 feet long by 168 feet wide; and the latter, 182 feet wide by 660 feet long, and are intended for the export trade of the company at the port. The Neafie & Levy Ship and Engine Building Company have also asked permission to fill up a dock on their property south of Palmer street. Permission was asked by the Atlantic Refining Company to extend a pier at Point Breeze, and by the American Product Company to extend a pier at Morris street, on the east side of the Schuylkill River. These were all referred to committees.

Complications have arisen in connection with the letting of the contracts for the construction of the new buildings, including a power house and a sea wall at the Naval Academy, at Annapolis, that have so far prevented the award and are expected to require attention at the hands of Congress. The Department has changed the specifications for the buildings so as to provide for the use of granite instead of red sandstone and brick, as originally planned. This change involves an addition to the cost of about 25 per cent, which cannot be met save by an additional appropriation. Secretary Long therefore has referred the matter to the Naval Committee of the House. All of the bids for the construction of the power house were in excess of the appropriation made by Congress, namely, $100,000, the lowest being $140,000, and, to add to the difficulties of the Department in letting these contracts, it is said that objections have been lodged by other architects against the plans prepared by the architect, which may also come before Congress.

The committee on plans and improvements of the Fairmount Park Commission have resolved to request the Union Traction Company to submit plans for a new and ornate station at the Fairmount avenue entrance. The present passenger shed was erected in 1870, and has become so dilapidated that the Commission started to tear it down, but were stopped by the Green and Coates streets Passenger Railway Company, which erected the shed, which claimed the right to maintain it there. This the Commission concedes, and the company named, in a letter, suggests that the Union Traction Company, the operating corporation, be required to make the improvement. The committee also decided to request the Fairmount Park Transportation Company to expend the sum of $4900, being 2 per cent. of the gross receipt is of the company for last year, in improvements and betterments around Strawberry Mansion. Under the license granted the company that corporation is required to pay over or expend in betterments 2 per cent. of its gross receipts. Chairman Henry states that the only part of the Park early injured by the installation of the trolley road is at Strawberry Mansion, and that a retaining wall and considerable sodding is needed west of the mansion.

Contractors generally have been making estimates during the last week on the ordinance building, to be erected at League Island. It will be two stories high, brick, stone and frame work, 52x112 feet, with a boiler house attached, 49x65 feet in dimensions.

The dwelling of Mrs. M. C. Jackson, at 3015 North Broad street, was damaged to the extent of $1000, on the 9th inst., by fire supposed to have originated from a defective flue. The rear of the dwelling, from the cellar up, was badly burned, and the contents ruined.

On February, 8th inst., the following were elected as officers of the Delaware Insurance Company of this city: President, Tattall Paulding; vice-president, Charles H. Yarnall; secretary, Henry Lyburn; assistant secretary, J. Parsons Smith, Jr.; agency secretary, William Hall.

The Camden Board of Freeholders have passed a resolution to bond the county for $40,000, to build an addition to the asylum at Blackwoodtown. The room is an actual necessity and it is proposed to push the matter for practical results at once. No plans have been made or contracts let.

Smith, Kline & French Co. intend erecting additions and making repairs to their factory building, which was recently destroyed by fire, at Poplar and Canal streets. Contractor William H. Clark will do the work, under their supervision, and owners will let sub-

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION OF RED LEAD.

At some works in Germany a caskful of minium or red lead had become hardened and in order to work up the mass again a commencement was made of breaking it into pieces, the whole being left for the night covered up with a few sacks. The oxygen of the air soon acted upon the fractures, raising the temperature of a mass, while reducing and igniting the resinous substances that had served to agglomerate the red lead cement, and a fire was only prevented by the fortunate arrival of the watchman.—Architecture and Building.

Consolidation of the Plumbing Supply Trade.

The movement looking to a consolidation among the plumbing supply houses is reported to be making headway. The parties who have the negotiations for the deal in hand were in New York last week and conferred with the representatives of a number of the leading concerns in this line. We learn from a well informed source that the result of the conferences was so encouraging that the prospects of an early consummation of the enterprise are believed to be practically assured. The project originated in Chicago and is being engineered from that city, but New York capital is also said to be largely interested. Not all of the plumbing supply concerns have been invited to join the combination, nor is it the plan of the promoters to control the entire trade. The concerns in New York City who are likely to join the proposed combination are the Colwell Lead Co., Ronald & Johnson Co., Dimmick & Fink Co., Henry McShane Manufacturing Company and F. N. Dubois & Company. The scheme, as we learn, contemplates the acquirement, by purchase outright, of the various business, as in the case of most of the large consolidations recently organized. Ample capital for the purpose is claimed to have been already secured. While there remain some authorities in the trade who express doubts as to the ultimate success of the present movement, in view of the large number and diversified nature of the goods included under the general head of the plumbers' supplies, the promoters of the deal express themselves as being convinced that it will go through.—Journal of Building.

In a few days Chief Eisenhower, of the Bureau of City Property, will place plans on the boards at his office for alterations and additions to the Fourth district station house, on Fifth street above Race. The plans were made by Architects J. Franklin Stuckert & Son.

Contractors Appleton & Burrell have plans on the boards for estimates providing for alterations to the residence at 3112 Frankford avenue, and a two-story stable, to be built at the same place, for Dr. J. S. Shoemaker. The drawings were made by Architects Dull, Peterson & Co., 1010 Walnut street.

Thomas Bennett, architect, 198 Fifty-third street, N. Y., has plans for three residences for Thomas E. Van Pelt and Mr. Ferguson, Fifth street, near Sixth avenue. John T. Windim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, has purchased a fine piece of ground at Devon, Pa., of Wendell & Treat, and will erect a very fine residence at that place, and for which plans are now being made. The structure will be of stone and brick, slate roof, and all modern comforts and conveniences introduced.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, are making plans for a store and dwelling combined, for George Foy to be erected in Pottsville, Pa., on a site upon the public square. It will be of brick, stone trimmings and interior in chestnut and oak finish. Also all the latest conveniences and comforts on interior. Other plans in preparation will be noted later on as details are completed.

W. H. Abbott, Jr., architect, 17 Broadway, New York, has plans for a flat building for Olaf Olafson, 313 Forty-seventh street. Brick and stone, iron beams, tin roof, bathroom outfits, dumb waiter, tiling and gas fixtures; cost, $9500. Same architect has also plans for a colonial residence for William C. Adin B. Lacey, architect, 1020 Chestnut street has completed plans for alteration of the entire third floor of a building in Germantown belonging to the Geo. Nugent Baptist Home, and located near that institution, and awarded the contract for the work to Jno. W. Fritzinger, contractor, of Roxborough. The third floor will be divided into offices and lodge rooms, and supplied with steam heat, electric work, plumbing, etc. Also an elevator is to be placed in the building, and general adoption of the whole structure to the purposes stated.

Architect M. J. Smallheiser, 215 Bowery, New York, has plans for three tenement buildings for Friedlander & Barker, 57 Graham avenue. Brick and brownstone iron beams, tin roofs, skylights, concrete cellars, slate mantels, dumb waiters, tiling and gas fixtures; cost, $96,000. The same architect has plans for three tenement buildings for Bulldesen & Wexler, 42 Varet street. Construction calls for light brick and limestone, terra cotta, iron beams, tin roofs, skylights, concrete cellar floors, tiling, wood mantels, dumb waiters and gas light; cost, $31,500.

Hales & Ballinger, architects, 1200 Chestnut street, have completed plans for two stores and dwellings, to be erected at the north corner of Sumac street and Manayunk avenue, Roxborough. These are to be of light buff brick, stone trimmings, tin roof, interior fitted with all the latest comforts and conveniences, furnace heat, electric work, plumbing of the best, etc. Also plans on boards of the same architects for a large stable to hold about one hundred horses, which will be of brick and stone, and all late conveniences introduced. Details later. Name of owner and location of the latter job withheld for the present.

The plans for the Prettyman apartment house, to be built at Tenth and Clinton streets, are on the boards at the office of Contractors Doyle & Doak for estimates. The plans for the new ordinance shop, to be built at the League Island Navy Yard, are on the boards at the same office. The plans for the apartment house were prepared, as noted in this journal, by Messrs. Dull, Peterson and Crawford Coates, Jr., architects, 1010 Walnut street. All estimates will be scheduled, and a contract for the structure to stand at the corner of Clinton and Tenth streets will be awarded in time for an early spring start at construction.

The plans for the Nurses' Home at the P. E. Hospital at Front street and Lehigh avenue, have now been placed on boards of contractors for estimates. The structure will be four stories high, and of brick, with stone trimmings and terra cotta work, steel columns, iron beams and iron stairways, steam heat electric work and every modern comfort. Eighty rooms will be furnished for the nurses. The bids of sub-contractors are now being made in offices of Jacob Myers & Sons, at Juniper and Sansom streets, and other general contractors. Previously noted in full in these columns Hewitt Brothers, architects, Bullitt Building, Fourth street, below Chestnut, made all plans.

Laundry, 1224 Market street, and before it was under control involved in total loss and damaged properties as follows: Nos. 1220-22 Market street, Ivins, Dietz & Metzger, carpet dealers, loss $20,000 from water and smoke; fully insured, and to be repaired at once by Nathan Snellenberg, the owner.—No. 1224 Market street, P. J. Hallahan, owner, loss on building, $80,000, to be rebuilt, and Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, will make the plans; details later.—No. 1226 Market street, Laundry, owned by John Wanamaker; loss on building, $75,000; on machinery and contents, $75,000; total, $150,000; self insured, and will be rebuilt.—No. 1228 Market street, Warner Drug Company, $300,000 on stock and $80,000 on building; total, $380,000; will be rebuilt at once; Wm. R. Warner is the owner.—No. 1230 Market street, Fernberger Bros., wines and liquors, loss on building and contents, $50,000; fully insured; will be rebuilt; plans by Jno. D. Allen, 1017 Chestnut street.—From 1232 to 1238 Market street, all are damaged to a more or less extent, and will be repaired at once; also from No. 1 to 19 South Thirteenth street, in rear. These properties are badly damaged, and in each case repairs are to be started as soon as arrangements can be made.—St. John's Roman Catholic Church, badly damaged, $10,000, and St. John's parish house and contents, $40,000. The church will be reconstructed and a new parochial school erected, for which Frank R. Watson, the well-known architect, 1208 Chestnut street, had prepared plans some time ago, and fully noted in these columns. Mr. Watson has been retained now for the entire rebuilding of the parochial house and church structure as well. Mr. Watson informs us that he will at once prosecute the work, and that whilst the new buildings will be of elegant design, economy will be practised and the most substantial materials only enter into the work of construction. General details will be given in these columns when they have been agreed upon. Mr. Watson is also preparing plans at his Atlantic City, N. J., office, for the erection of a house on North Carolina avenue, south of Pacific avenue, that place, for Charles E. Ellis. It will be a three-story brick and shingle structure, 48x57 feet, to be built after the Italian style of architecture.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut street, will at once start the construction of the eight-story addition to the Philadelphia Warehousing and Cold Storage Company's plant at Delaware avenue and Noble street, for which they received the contract some weeks ago. It will be of granite, brick, iron and steel construction, and cost about $30,000. Previously noted in full in these columns.

Obituary.

The death of Mr. Horatio G. Stephens, a former vice president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, of this city, which occurred on the thirteenth instant, was a surprise to many of his personal and business friends, for, although seventy-seven years of age he had been actively engaged as advisory counsel of the company up to a few days of his death, his illness having been of short duration.

Mr. Stephens had been connected with the Penn Mutual for forty-eight years. He was its first bookkeeper, having been selected for that position in May, 1851.

He was a quiet, unostentatious gentleman of the old school, esteemed by those who knew him for his many estimable personal qualities, while in the life insurance circles he was recognized as an efficient and capable officer and as a man of sterling character.

The Board of Trustees of the company met on the seventeenth instant and passed resolutions laudatory of the great personal worth of Mr. Stephens as well as the brilliant services he had rendered the company almost since its inception.

A Good Man for Architects to Know

Among the limited number of manufacturers and dealers in French ranges and special cooking apparatus intended to meet the requirements of larger institutions, hotels, restaurants, etc., there is none who justly merits the patronage of architects and owners more than Mr. William H. Ingram, whose establishment is at 106 North Third street, this city.

Mr. Ingram, besides possessing many years of practical experience in his particular line, also has a strong intellectual appreciation of the necessities of large institutions and the arrangement of their culinary plants; so much, so indeed, that he is frequently consulted by architects with the view of securing the efficiency desired, as failure in nearly every instance would entail serious loss as well as disappointment and delay. Mr. Ingram's advertisement appears in another column.

1898 Mineral Product.

According to the Engineering and Mining Journal, the gold mined in the United States during 1898 was in value equal to $64,200,000 which was an increase of $5,500,000 over 1897.

The silver product amounted to 64,060,000 ounces, the largest since 1892.

The copper production was 546,367,793 pounds, an increase of 7 per cent. over 1897 and fully two-thirds of the world's entire production. About 54 per cent. of our copper was exported to European countries, which now depend largely upon us for their supply.

The pig iron production was by far the largest ever reported, reaching a total of 11,712,000 tons, or 2,050,000 tons more than in 1897.

For almost the first time in our history a considerable part of the iron and steel production was exported, the value of our foreign trade in iron and steel products reaching nearly $80,000,000.

The production of coal was 298,500,000 short tons, about 8,000,000 tons increase and the largest on record. The official figures from Great Britain will be required to show whether that nation or the United States produced the greatest quantity of coal for the year.

Our smelters turned out 305,459 short tons of lead, of which 217,067 short tons were from ores mined in the United States and the balance from imported ores and base bullion. The zinc also shows large increase. In all minor products there were substantial gains.

Figures also collected by cable from South Africa, Australia, Russia, South America, etc., show that the total production of gold in the world in 1898 was $286,216,954, an increase of $48,886,498 over 1897.

It would seem that the whole country had gone mad in wild speculations. The question of values is not worth a consideration. Millions will be gained and lost, but the after clap will surely follow, and then sound reason will usurp the place of the present chimerical and crazy rush for riches, and the lasting strength and safety of land and houses will again assert themselves. Real estate will soon have its inning, and its length will be gauged by the seriousness of the speculative collapse when it comes.

These speculative eras have little to do with prosperity. It is the inherent strength of the people, as well as geographical and climatic conditions, which alone are responsible for the rapid strides our country has made.

Congressman John F. Shafraath, of Colorado, in a speech in the House of Representatives last May, asserted that the 75,000,000 Americans, as consumers and producers, are equal to 700,000,000 of the average balance of the world.

An English statistician, named Mulhall, has stated that the effective power and force of this country was nearly equal to that of Great Britain, Germany and France combined.

Professor Francois, a French economist, places the wealth and power of the United States as one-fourth of that of the world; that its wealth in 1890 was $62,600,000,000, while that of the entire world was at that time $291,550,000,000.

The total railroad mileage of the United States is, exclusive of side trackage, 182,776 miles, while that of the whole world is 436,210 miles, this leaves 253,434 miles for the rest of the world.

Professor Mulhall also states that in 1892 the railroads of the whole world carried 1,348,000,000 tons of freight 100 miles, of this amount the railroads of the United States carried for this distance 845,000,000 tons, this is over half of the total.

The steam power of the United States amounts to 14,400,000 horse power against 50,150,000 for the whole world.

The United States in 1896 produced 10,235,000 bales of cotton, 600 pounds to a bale, while the production of the whole world amounted to 13,330,000, this is ten-thirtieths of the world's product, while in 1897 it amounted to three fourths.

The production of corn in this country is more than four-fifths of the world's product, while the production of wheat is between one-fourth and one fifth of the world's entire product.

The grain of all kinds produced in the United States in 1896 was more than half of the grain produced in the whole world.

Over one-fourth of the pig iron of the world is produced in the United States.

Nearly one-half of the coal product of the world in 1897 was mined in this country.

48,412,666 barrels of petroleum was produced in the United States in 1894 out of the 84,330,500 barrels produced throughout the world.

The lumber produced in the United States equals 9,300,000,000 cubic feet against 32,460,000,000 for the whole world.

More than one-fourth of the world's product of gold is mined in the United States, while the silver product is more than one-third.

Professor Mulhall estimates that the working energy of the United States equals 129,306,000 foot tons daily, this is 1940 foot tons daily per capita; i. e. the forces used is equal to 1940 times greater than could be exerted without the aid of tools or machinery. Compared with the rest of the world the mechanical force is as follows:

FOOT TONS DAILY.

United States	129,306,000,000
Great Britain	16,100,000,000
Germany	45,800,000,000
France	34,500,000,000
Austria	22,510,000,000
Italy	11,390,000,000
Spain	10,600,000,000
Balance of world about	126,000,000,000

Total for the world..... 450,106,000,000

The above are certainly potent reasons why real estate should improve.

THANK GOD there is one judge at least who is beyond the reach of the corrupting influences of railroad corporations. A railroad ticket is personal property and can be resold, and any other interpretation of the rights of owners of such property is stupid nonsense.

The total of last year are given as $334,918,229, which, in round figures, $107,000,000 less than the imports of 1897 and $200,000,000 less than those of 1893. This Journal is mailed Weekly and Continuously to Every Architect in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Washington, D. C.; also to every builder and owner obtaining a building permit in Philadelphia and Camden; also to every person reported in its columns as building or going to build anywhere and everywhere.

This is our Contract with advertisers, and is independent of our subscription list; it means more buyers of construction material than is reached in the above territory by any journal in America.

purchased in some suburban locality and laid out in house lots by a party with capital enough to buy the land and plot it out. The principal does not appear in the transaction, but the property is deeded to another party, who might not inaptly be styled the stoolpigeon for the principal. Then the principal takes a mortgage on the lots for twice or thrice their value. When things have reached this stage of the game the ostensible owner looks around for a contractor who is willing to erect a house, the first payment to be made when it is enclosed. When this is done he finds the man unable to pay and naturally proceeds to put on his lien to recover for material and labor. Then the contractor for the first time learns that there is a mortgage on the land, and that the land holds the building. The principal, or mortgagee, now appears on the scene, and, flourishing his mortgage in the face of the bewildered contractor, says: 'Lood here, sir, hold a mortgage on that property, and if you want to recover your money invested in the construction of that house, you must first pay me my claim, as otherwise I shall hold the building subject to my mortgage on the land.' "

The victims in these transactions are the smaller builders who have no large capital behind them. The only protection the contractor has is to look up in advance the financial standing of the owner and ascertain what encumbrances are on the property.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

There is considerable inquiry among trust companies for loans for small amounts on bond and mortgage.

The property at 1102 Walnut street, 27.6 x145 feet, has been sold to Samuel H. Austin Jr., by Henry C. Baird, for $45,000.

Michael Ehret has purchased the property at the southwest corner of Twenty-second and Walnut streets, 27x13.9 feet, from David E. Dallam, for $60,000.

M. J. Smith & Co., 1111-1112 Betz building, have plans on boards for estimates on country residence for Mr. William Diller, to be erected at Weldon, Pa.

John W. Mortimer, 3463 Hope street, will build two two-story brick dwellings, each 14.6x37 feet, on the east side of Hope street, 860 feet north of Ontario street, in the Thirty-third Ward.

ceeding those of the exceeding year by $1,200,000. The reduction in the importation of non-dutiable articles is principally due to the transfer of wool and tea to the dutiable list and to a restriction in the free importation of manufactured articles. Of the total importation of 1898 42.2 per cent. were brought in free of duty, against 50.9 per cent. in 1897, 48 per cent. in 1896, 51.8 per cent. in 1891 and from 32 to 85 per cent. in the years from 1884 to 1890. The reduction of more than $100,000,000 in imports is apportioned as follows: Articles manufactured for consumption, $14,000,000; articles manufactured for use in mechanical arts, $22,000,000; articles of food and live animals, $33,000,000, and articles in a crude condition for domestic industry, $39,000,000.

THE Boston Herald tells of a bunco game played on suburban contractors by a certain class of land speculators in the vicinity of Boston. The scheme, as the Herald reports it, is something like this: "A plot of land is Fire entirely gutted the buildings at Nos. 211-13-15 church street on the 15th inst. The gutted buildings are a part of the Levering estate, of which the Pennsylvania Trust Company is agent.

James Armstrong will build twenty-seven houses on Arbour street, between Clearfield street and Allegheny avenue. All are to be of faced brick, stone trimmings, ranges, heaters, boilers and all modern comforts.

John H. Smith, contractor, 1032 Cross street, will make all repairs to 522 Market street, this property being badly damaged by fire on the night of the 12th inst. Same contractor will make alteration to the entire front of 439 Market street.

Bids are being received for alterations and additions to No. 1607 Chestnut street, for the estate of E. C. Knight. The work includes a new first story front, interior alterations, tearing down the back building and putting up a one-story building covering the entire lot.

The contract for repairing the fire-damage at 1635 North Tenth street, for A. E. Mitcheson, owner, has been awarded to contractors J. Borden & Bro. It is estimated that the work will cost $5000, and a permit will be issued as soon as the plans submitted are approved.

Plans are on boards of Macey, Henderson & Co., contractors, Heed Building, 1215 Filbert street, for a pattern storage warehouse, to be erected by Baldwin Locomotive Works, Fifteenth and Hamilton streets. It will be of brick, stone and iron work. Estimates are being made.

The Secretary of War will, under the new appropriation of Congress for the improvement of the Delaware River, be authorized to expend about $1,000,000 annually to increase the depth of the channel to thirty feet from the city to the sea. It is estimated that the entire work will cost about $5,385,000.

Benj. Ketcham & Sons, contractors, Tenth and Brown streets, will build a five-story warehouse for F. M. Borden & Co., at 122 North Second street. The structure will be of brick and stone and slow-burning construction, with lift and all modern conveniences on interior. Work to start at an early day.

Chief Haddock, of the Bureau of Building Inspection, has ordered all the dangerous walls in the Market street buildings damaged by fire to be torn down. The buildings condemned are Nos. 1223, 1225 and 1230 Market street. Most of these walls are in such condition that they are a source of extreme danger.

That the work of the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art may be carried on more advantageously, it is desired to add a wing to the present building. The Associate Committee of Women of the Board of Trustees has undertaken the task of raising the $15,000 needed, and subscriptions will be solicited.

Charles J. Spencer will repair the fire-damaged building at the southwest corner of Front and Brown street. This is the building which the police charge was a lodging house, and which was visited by flames several days ago, causing persons to jump from the windows into the street to escape the fire. An entire new interior will be constructed.

The contract for the erection of an iron stairway from the pavement on the north side of Chant street, east of Tenth, to the gallery floor level of St. Stephen's Church has been awarded to the S. J. Cresswell Iron Works. The same firm are bidding on the iron work at the Nurses' Home, to be built at the Episcopal Hospital at Front street and Lehigh avenue.

and those for the Scott Paper Company's building, the addition to Rudolph Blankenberg's mill, two new public schools, the Smedley House at Media, and the Fletcher House at Radnor, went in. Estimates for the new ordnance shop at League Island Navy Yard were offered February 18th.

Record has been made of the transfer of the property measuring 230.2x154.34 feet, on the southwest side of Haverford street and the east side of Fifty-third street, to Henry Brooks, by John Yewdall, for $10,000. This is the site on which it is proposed to build the new three-story store, hall and lodge room building, for which estimates are now being received. This work was fully described in this column previously.

John J. McDevitt has filed a petition in the Orphans' Court asking to have George M. Moore required to show cause why he should not be made a party to the proceeding of Mr. McDevitt against the executors of the estate of Andrew M. Moore, deceased, for the carrying out of the agreement for the purchase by Mr. McDevitt of the Girard House property, to build a new hotel on the site. The controversy is now pending in the Supreme Court.

John R. Wiggins, 1215 Filbert street, has been awarded contract to build the four-story brick factory, 60x164 feet, for the Scott Paper Company, at Sixth street and Glenwood avenue, and also to put up the two-story country dwelling for Walter S. Cramp, at Rosemont. For the latter structure Messrs. Savery & Sheetz, architects, Stephen Girard Building, made the plans, which have been fully noted in these columns.

William R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street, is asking estimates for the erection of a five-story iron, brick and stone factory, 2510x61.75 feet, at No. 1231 Appletree street. It will be used for making plumbers' brass work and supplies. The fifth floor will be fire-proof, and the structure will contain the latest improvements. Mr. Dougherty is also taking bids for the new Nurses' Home, to be built on the grounds of the Episcopal Hospital, Front street and Lehigh avenue.

Contractors J. E. & A. L. Pennock, of this city, were the lowest bidders for the newspaper building for the Evening Star, to be erected at Washington, D. C., but as yet they have not heard whether they will get the contract or not. This work was fully described in this column some time ago. The above-named contractors have plans on the boards at their office for the erection of an office building at Washington for the Southern Railway Company.

Contractors and Builders Maconaghy Bros. contemplate erecting seventy-seven porch front dwellings at Sixty-ninth street and Paschal avenue. The houses will include forty-three eight-room; sixteen six-room and eighteen four-room structures. The plans and specifications can be seen at the builders' office. Bids for this job will be received until March 1. The specifications provide for brick work, carpenter work, plumbing, painting and glazing, tile work, heater and range work, etc.

At a meeting of the committee, held last week, having in charge the preliminary arrangements for the Philadelphia Exposition to be given next fall at the Commercial Museum Building, reports of the sub-committees on amusements, machinery, heat, light and power were submitted and many matters of interest were discussed. After adjournment Director Wilson announced that the plans and specifications for the buildings would be ready in a few days for the inspection of the contractors who wish to bid for their construction.

The Naval Committee of Congress have recommended an appropriation of $1,600,000 for improvements during 1899 at League Island Navy Yard in this city. These will include a plate building shop, extension of dry dock, officers' quarters and offices. A new commandant's office at $53,735 is allowed, also $20,000 for railroad tracks, $73,920 for the east wall of the caseway, $25,000 for four officers' quarters, $36,000 for structures along the reserve basin, and $50,000 for the continuation of the sea wall west of the new dry dock. A coal storage and coal handling plant is put down for $50,000.

A number of improvements will be made at the Mint, in this city, and when they are completed the facilities for manufacturing money will be greatly increased. The changes include the enlarging of the rolling room by taking in the west portico, the installation of a gas plant and gas annealing furnace and the addition of considerable machinery. It has been decided to proceed with these improvements at once, as it is not expected that the new Mint can be occupied for two years, at least, during which time the present establishment will be greatly benefited by the changes. All of the machinery will be moved to the new Mint when it is finished.

Commissioner Guilfoyle and Chief Clerk John J. Byrne, of the Brooklyn, N. Y., Building Commission, paid a brief visit to Chief William C. Haddock, of the Building Inspectors, here on the 15th inst. These gentlemen were nicely entertained by our affable chief and force in the local office, and expressed themselves much pleased with the conduct of business here, and, above all, with the fact that a perfect division of the labor was placed in such hands schooled in their particular branches, scientific and otherwise. The only regret expressed on both sides was that appropriations annually made are not commensurate with the needs of so great a branch of the public service.

The Parkside apartment house, recently erected at the corner of Girard avenue, Fortieth street and Fairmount Park, has proven such a success that the company has purchased a large piece of land adjoining the present building, on which it will build a large eight-story addition. The first six stories will contain handsomely appointed suites of two rooms each, containing private halls and baths, while the seventh floor will contain a ball room, banquet hall and a completely appointed miniature theatre. Plans for this addition have been prepared, and the erection of the building will be started about April 15th, and were fully noted previously in this journal.

The Public Buildings Commissioners have awarded contracts to Allen B. Rorke for doing work that will cost at least one-half of the sum appropriated by Councils for work on the building for the year 1899. Mr. Rorke will have the contract for doing stone work and iron work, copper, bronze, and mill work, carpenter work and plastering, and supply quarters and furniture for the Board of Public Education for $412,500. He was also awarded the contract for brushes, combination fixtures, incidental stonework and repairs, mackite blocks and tiling, mosaic and tereza. This was on a composite bid in which he stated that he was willing to take the contract for doing all the work and to wait for the money until it was available.

The Select Council bill to appropriate $300,000 for new schools has been passed. The money is to be divided as follows: Thirty-second ward, $105,000; Twenty-ninth ward, $70,000; Twenty-sixth ward, $70,000; Thirty-sixth ward, $30,000; Sixteenth ward, $30,000; Twenty-second ward, $10,000. Other bills passed were to authorize the Union Traction Company to rearrange the street car tracks on Walnut street, between Second and Third streets, in order to make use of a single track instead of the present double tracks; to authorize the construction of a retaining wall on

position to be held in this city under the auspices of the Commercial Museum and Franklin Institute have been completed, and within the next day or so proposals for their erection will be invited. A meeting of the Museum trustees, at which Charles H.
Crampt presided, was held in Mayor Warwick's office on the 20th inst. Mr. Elkins, who has had charge of the matter of plans for the exposition buildings, submitted a report from the building committee. The action of the committee in approving the detailed plans and drawings, as well as the specifications, was concurred in. A committee consisting of Messrs. Elkins, Strawbridge, Wanamaker, Miles and Wright have been authorized to invite proposals for the erection of the buildings. Previously noted in full in these columns.

During the recent blizzard the snow-ploughs of the Traction Company bombarded to a considerable extent the bulk windows of business houses on Eighth street, among which were the following stores: Smith & Haldermann, southeast corner Eighth and Buttwood streets; J. Koons, 503 North Eighth street; J. Belville, 505 North Eighth street; C. Schetzel, 597 North Eighth street; Highway Survey Bureau, 509 North Eighth street; Thomas Johnson, 513 North Eighth street; H. Saar, 515 North Eighth street; Shannon's drug store, southeast corner
Eighth and Spring Garden streets; Elwood
McCloskey, 639 North Eighth street; Hicks Brothers, 651 North Eighth street; George Schimpf, southeast corner Eighth and Parrish streets, and Leon Isman, northeast corner Eighth and Poplar streets.

The outlook for contractors and builders when spring opens and operations are resumed, is most favorable. The vacation of the building at 1344 Chestnut street, on March 10, opens the way for the contemplated addition to the Real Estate Trust Company's big structure at the corner. It is also expected that something definite will be outlined for the adjoining properties, including the building formerly owned by the Presbyterian Board of Publication. The designs for the new First Baptist Church, at Seventeenth and Sansom streets, are being rapidly finished. Estimates will probably be asked in the latter part of this week, or the beginning of next, for the Commercial Museum buildings, and the rebuilding of the big structures lately destroyed by fire will cause a big outlay.

The Board of Directors of the Master Builders' Exchange organized on the 16th inst., and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, John Atkinson; first vice-president, Peter Gray; second vice-president, John S. Stevens; third vice-president, William Conway; secretary, William Harkness and treasurer, Charles H.

Reeves. The newly-elected officers will preside at the first regular meeting on March 14th.
The administration of President Atkinson, we predict, will be one of a positive character, whose whole energy will be put into play, and whose ambition will be to keep the Master Builders' Exchange where it now stands, second to none in this nation. The retiring executive officer, Mr. Charles Reeves, has given general satisfaction, and during the year just closed advanced the interests of the organization to a high degree of success.

It is quite probable that steps will be taken in the near future by a host of prominent Philadelphians towards erecting a new Academy of Music. At the same time the proposed structure will be used as a home for such organizations as the Philadelphia Orchestra. The subscribers to the project are Alfred C. Harrison, C. Hartman Kuhn, Andrew Wheeler, Jr., B. Frank Clyde, George H. Frazier, Sidney F. Tyler, Henry Whelen, Jr., Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, G. Heide Norris, and quite a large list of prominent citizens.
G. Heide Norris says: "There is no time like the present for taking action looking to the erection of a building which will be a fit home for the Philadelphia Orchestra. There are now plenty of sites to be had in the central portion of the city, and a number were under consideration last year by some members of the committee. There were even certain large sub-riptions offered. All the project needs now is revival under proper auspices. The necessity for pushing it is obvious to any one who has been inside the Academy of Music during the past few years."

Contractor Charles McCaul has placed plans on the boards at his office providing for the erection of an eight-story and attic building for the Bell Telephone Company, at the northwest corner of Seventeenth and Filbert streets. The building will be of iron and steel skeleton construction, having a frontage on Seventeenth street of 117 1/2 and 58 1/2 feet each on Filbert and Outhbert streets.
It will be 114 1/2 feet high. Granite, brick and terra cotta will be the materials used in the front, with a granite base, and the heads and sills of the windows will be of the same material. The main entrance will be in the centre of the building on Seventeenth street.
The operating room will be located on the seventh floor. This work was fully noted in this journal in the fall of 1898. Mr. McCaul also has on the boards the plans of Architects Cope & Stewardson for alterations and addition at 1608 Chestnut street, for the estate of E. C. Knight. The work consists of a new first story front, lowering the joists on the first floor of the front dwelling, tearing down the back building and erecting a new one-story building covering the entire lot. The

Architect Notes.

Revised bids on the college and monastery building to be erected at Villa Nova, Pa., are now being considered by Edwin F. Durang, architect, who prepared plans and will supervise the construction.

The T-Square Club has awarded first and second prizes to J. J. Bisseger, and third mention to G. S. Morris, as a result of competition among members for composition sketches as suggested by a quotation from a poem.

Contractor H. J. Wenzelberger will build the three-story brick and stone trimmed front dwelling, 18x82 feet, at 1927 Vine street, for John F. Cronin, owner. H. D. Dagis, 435 Chestnut street, made all plans and were noted February 8th in these columns.

The contract for the construction of the stone water tower at Camp Hill, for Alexander Van Rensselaer, has been awarded to Contractors Appleton & Burrell, of this city. It will be 56 feet high and 18 feet in diameter. Architect Frank Miles Day made the plans. Previously noted.

George T. Oplinger, architect, Slattington, Pa., has just made plans for a residence for Idwal W. Griffith, to be erected on Second street, Slattington, Pa., which will be of fancy brick and stone, slate roof, interior to be in hard woods, hot water heat, electric work and all general comforts and the latest conveniences.

Kurt W. Peukert, architect and engineer, 1411 Filbert street, has on boards plans for a three-story and basement cold storage warehouse, to be erected at 2337-39 North Ninth street, for the Pennsylvania Bottlers' Association. It will be 85x45 feet, built of brick, stone, iron and lumber work, with all conveniences for the business intended.

J. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 North Thirteenth street, have completed plans for alteration to front of store, 504 South Delaware avenue, for Benj. F. Teller & Bro. The work will consist of brick laying and painting and glazing a pavement of brick and other minor details. Estimates are being made on the work in office of the architects.

Plans are being prepared by Architects Hales & Ballinger, 1200 Chestnut street, for a three-story brick stable, 60x150 feet, to be built at Thirteenth street and Glenwood avenue for the National Biscuit Company. It is also said to be the intention of the company to erect a large bakery, to measure 300x200 feet, in the near future. Estimates to be made at once.

Edwin F. Bertolette, architect, Head Building, Filbert street, above Twelfth, has completed plans for alteration and additions on an extensive scale to the Baltic Brewing Company's plant. The work includes a new engine and boiler house; also provisions for an ice machine in the near future. The walls of the new work will be one-story high, but made to bear additional stories.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have placed for estimate the plans for the new P. E. Church of St. John Chrysostom, and specially noted some months ago in these columns. Roydhouse, Arey & Co., Master Builders' Exchange, have received a full set of blue prints, and will make bids in general. For full description of this fine structure see our issue of January 11th, current year.

The contract for the three-story building, to be used as a nurses' home at the Presbyterian Hospital, at Thirty-ninth street and Powelton avenue, has been awarded to Contractors William W. Rea's Sons, Higley & Co. have the contract for the plumbing work at the building. This work has been already fully described in this column. Architects C. W. Bolton & Co., Witherspoon Building, noted in previous issue of this journal, made the plans.

Plans are on the boards for estimates at the office of Contractors Appleton & Burrell for the alterations and additions at 4807 Chester avenue for Dr. Charles Shaffner, previously noted. Architect Edwin Gilbert, 1420 Chestnut street, made the drawings. The above named contractors also have the plans of Architects Cope & Stewardson for the two-story choir and robing room building to be erected at Nineteenth and Walnut streets for the Church of the Holy Trinity.

Seymour Davis, architect, 907 Walnut street, has been retained to prepare plans for the new high school to be erected in Norris town, Pa., by the Board of Education of that place. It will be erected upon the old site of the Oak street building, and be three stories high, of stone and brick construction. All the latest conveniences will be introduced—steam heat, electric work, large blackboards, partition work, the best systems of plumbing and ventilation. Fuller details later.

H. C. Lea has purchased property adjacent to the building at the northwest corner of Sixth and Arch streets. The newly acquired property has a frontage on Arch street of 45 feet, and plans are now being prepared for the erection of a six-story addition to the corner building on the site. The proposed structure will measure 45x180 feet, and it will be used for office and light manufacturing purposes. Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut street, will make the drawings.

Architects Savery & Scheetz, Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth above Chestnut street, are putting the finishing touches on plans for a number of three-story brick and shingle houses to be built at Narberth, Pa., for Charles E. Shoemaker, of that place. The above named architects have awarded the contract for the erection of the two-story brick and rough-cast house at Rosemont, for Walter S. Cramp, to Contractor John R. Wiggins, of this city. This work was noted in this column some time ago.

The Summerfield M. E. Church congregation have decided to go ahead in the erection of their new church not later than May 1st, current year. Some time last year we noted this work from plans prepared by Field & Medary, architects, 1430 South Penn Square, whose plans have been accepted. These indicate a stone and brick structure and handsomely fitted with all the latest conveniences. A Sabbath school and a parsonage will ultimately be erected upon the same site, which is at Dauphin and Tulip streets, in this city.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut streets, has completed plans for a new Sunday school building for the Park Avenue M. E. Church, at Park avenue and Norris street. The structure will be 58-29 feet, two stories high, stone and brick for materials in walls. First floor will be fitted for general school purposes and meeting rooms, basement contain a kitchen, drill room, reading room and storage room. The gallery room will contain the organ, class rooms, coat and board rooms. Specifications indicate masonry work, cut stone, iron work, galvanized iron, plumbing and gas fitting, etc.

Yarnall & Goforth, architects, 14 South Broad street, have completed plans for a new building to be erected for the Delta Phi Fraternity of the University of Pennsylvania, at Woodland avenue and Thirty-sixth street. The structure will be three stories high, of brick, stone and terra cotta work, basement floor in cement, iron beams and columns, slate roof, interior in hard woods, best of plumbing, painting and glazing, electric work, baths, etc. All modern conveniences will be introduced for comfort. Estimates are being made in office of Jno. R. Wiggins, 720 Head Building, Filbert, above Twelfth street. In the same office may be seen plans for the Lehigh Avenue Baptist Church and chapel, to be erected at the northeast corner of Twelfth street and Lehigh avenue, from plans by Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, which were previously noted in this journal. The structure will be two stories high, and built likely of Holmesburg granite and Indiana limestone trimmings, slate roof, with ornamental towers and the brick work to be laid in French's peerless mortar color; considerable galvanized iron work, hot water heat and best system of ventilation to be introduced; also a baptistry of the most approved method. Hard wood chairs and seating, upholstering, chancel work, fancy leaded windows in iron frames, cement work and two iron gates are among the specifications. Bids are now in order on the work.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, MAR. 1, 1899.

THE election of Mr. Henry R. Shoch to Select Council, by the citizens of the 29th ward, can justly be regarded as a well merited recognition of the worth and character of the man, as well as the services he has rendered this city as one of the important influences in its great development.

As a representative of the building interests Mr. Shoch's election can be taken as a proper appreciation of its importance from a business standpoint; indeed, the elevation to political preferment of a strong, capable business man, belonging to the building interests of this city, as a pleasant episode, is so seldom as to merit more than a passing notice.

To intrust the business interests of this city in both the executive and legislative branches to men of this type represents the highest degree of safety, as well as the greatest discrimination in the selection of administrative ability.

The man who has proven himself to be the master of his own business affairs to the extent of an honorable acquisition of large wealth has certainly established his executive ability beyond all question.

To this status Mr. Shoch not only belongs, but his natural characteristics are such as to justify the assertion that he can never be made subservient to the party lash, in the advocacy and support of measures that are inimical to the city's interests; for no man, more than himself, realizes that municipal business affairs should be free from sentiment.

Mr. Shoch is not only a large owner of real estate, but his knowledge of what is most needed to advance its interests is equal to that of any man in this entire community.

IMPROVEMENTS in the way of the renovations of old properties should begin now, and the sooner the better. Much must be done, and well done, to buildings of this class if their owners hope to find desirable tenants.

It is stupid economy to save dollars and waste opportunities, for while dollars are not over plentiful opportunities at present are even scarcer.

Painting and papering go very far in producing effective changes, but in most cases a little modernizing is needed, and in this respect a little money will go much farther just now than it will at the end of the year.

Prices for all kinds of building material are hardening, and we know of instances where stocks in hand have been marked up already from ten to fifteen per cent.

In some instances price lists have been withdrawn and quotations are only made when wanted.

It is useless for those who contemplate improvements to speculate on the probability or even the possibility of a dull season, for it is highly probable that heavy work will create a demand, which will more than offset any impairment in operative work, and while this is moderately certain, it is not at all sure that at the end of the year any impairment of the latter can be recognized.

Of course it is but natural that as business improves the demand for commercial money will be greatly increased.

It is also fair to presume that another bond issue will have to be made to meet governmental requirements, but it would seem, from present and past money conditions, that these two factors will have but a trifling, if any, influence upon the supply hence it is safe to conclude that there will be money in plenty for legitimate building enterprises inaugurated by reputable builders.

Trust companies have in some cases thrown out their three per cent. accounts altogether, while others have served notice that two and one-half per cent. is the limit for inactive accounts.

This means a dearth of demand, notwithstanding the present appetite for speculation in stocks, and, indeed, in this respect the bank statements from New York have for several weeks presented the singular feature of largely increased deposits with but slight changes in loans and in some instances these have been largely decreased.

To argue that the money equal to the amounts required for the millions of shares that have been purchased and retired came from the trust companies is paradoxical, for it is fair to infer that if this were the case there would be no necessity for the trust companies to revise interest rates with their depositors.

The outlook for operative work at present is not as good as is desired; of course the hard winter has greatly delayed matters in this respect, but it is guessing, and perhaps very bad guessing, to predict any falling off from last year. The fact is at present this seems to be the only outlet for enormous sums of money which must perforce take business chances or remain idle.

We believe that absolute refusal of advances in cases meriting consideration will be the exception, while rigid discrimination and investigation will be the rule in all cases.

Ten millions of dollars, or even more, could be very profitably invested in what we term alterations and additions. This would perhaps involve not necessarily an equal amount for betterments, such as general repairs or "old work," which are never included in our record of building operations.

Our record of building permits for January and February show a serious falling off from last year. The difference is as follows:

1898	1899
Permits Issued.	Permits Issued
New Buildings 573	New Buildings 192
Alterations and add. 431	Alterations and add. 268

But the two first months of this year represent the worst kind of weather for construction work.

We made an effort to canvass for the opinions of those whose opinions were worth publishing. We are able to report but a limited number, owing to the disinclination of many to have their opinions published. However, the consensus of opinion is thoroughly optimistic, and in many instances this optimism is backed by such evidence as the purchase of land and contracts for work and material already made.

Mr. Allen B. Rorke, general contractor, says:

"He regards the condition of the country generally propitious for at least a decade of prosperity! When material and labor are in demand, at an advance in prices, and money plenty, at moderate rates, with large operations in iron and other industries, which is the fact now, we must feel that good times have come to stay. Of course there are always those who go to the wall under any circumstance, by taking work at unprofitable figures, and added incompetency or inexperience in building must suffer the consequences."

Clifford Pemberton, Jr., of the firm of Pemberton & Company, said:

"The outlook for real estate for 1899 is most promising. During the past three years the movement in real estate had been gradually growing less and less, and the past year has been the duller in all our business experience. We attribute this congestion to the introduction of the trolley system in Philadelphia, and we regard it as the inevitable result of throwing such a great area of land on the market ready for immediate development, as has been done by this new system of conveyance. Department stores also.

"It will be remembered that during the years of great industrial depression, around 1894, real estate in this city was unaffected by the surrounding dullness. The year 1894 was the best year our firm has had; last year was the worst; in the one year we sold the greatest amount of real estate and in the other the least.

"It is our opinion that years 1899 and 1900 will be the best years for operations in real estate since 1886, with an active market and actual demand for immediate use and speculative purposes. Anticipating this improvement in the market, we have been buying land during the past year, and now own over one hundred and twenty-five acres of ripe land in the Twenty-seventh and Thirty-fourth wards of this city. With the immense amounts of money now seeking investment, with the markets bare of any good income-bearing bonds and with call loans at two per cent. to two and one-half per cent., we believe for an active market in real estate season with prices advancing fifty per cent. above those of 1898."

John R. Wiggins, 718 Heed Building, Filbert above Twelfth street, says:

"1898 has been a good year, and thinks prosperity is coming steadily to stay. Has hopes for 1899 to open well, and busy at present."

W. T. B. Roberts, builder, says:

"The two and three-story operation business has been somewhat overdone, but good suburban residences are still sales at fair prices. Whilst it is a little early to indicate the future, there is hope that the prosperity now started will continue in manufacturing interests, which must help all others, and home building in general. We shall continue our elegant suburban improvements upon recently acquired ground at Willow Grove Jenkintown, Ogontz and other sites, hopeful of a full measure of success."

Wm. R. Dougherty, contractor, 1604 Sansom street, says:

"I have been favored with a good share of contract work during the past year. I look for considerable of a future in general contract work, large and small, during the coming year, and think times will steadily improve and safely so."

John Loughran, builder:

"Reports a very fair year for business. He has no reason to complain. Thinks it is a little early to predict the outlook for next year but hopes that the increase in manufacturing business and other interests will have a good effect on real estate."

M. J. Smith & Co., builders, say:

"We have no cause to complain of our business for the year just closed. We think the outlook very good for the coming year for the building trade, and expect to share in the general prosperity."

Wm. F. Albrecht, builder, says:

"That he has strong hopes for good business the coming year from the fact of the large orders that have been given out for iron."

Charles McCaul, contractor, says:

"I look for a gradual and firm increase in the prosperity of the nation. The height will not be reached this year, but likely in 1900. Real estate we all know is the last to be effected by panic, and the last as well to recover in prosperity. We are busy in construction, and will be for the current year."

William Albertson, contractor, says:

"The fixed policy of the administration and general condition of business warrants a hopeful outlook for the next few years at least. Business is being conducted on a firm and careful basis. I have no cause for complaint."

William C. Merritt, builder:

"Looks for better times ahead, and the activity of capital in iron and other industries must inure to the benefit of those who rent and build houses."

John Stafford, builder, No. 1608 Susquehanna avenue, says:

"I consider the outlook for 1899 is very bright, and fully expect to build."

Jno. S. Stevens, iron merchant and manufacturer:

"Believes we are on the eve of a prosperous decade. All things are propitious for a general resumption of all kinds of mercantile interests and invested capital."

Walter R. Kohl & Co., 14 South Broad street, builders, say:

"It is a little early to forecast an opinion, still we think the spring months will develop a better condition of business."

I. B. Blum, builder:

"Thinks building should be cautiously done this year, owing to overproduction of houses, unless capital can be put in operation and await the market for return in rents and sales."

Stacey Reeves & Sons, 1611 Filbert street, say:

"There is no doubt of a great improvement in general business conditions, and the growth will be naturally slow but sure, and upon a sound basis. Building interests may not be great this year, but likely in the next a great volume of prosperity can be looked for. The financial policy of the government is sound, and money seeking the natural channel of investment will surely help to realize our anticipation."

William Irvin says:

"That whilst real estate has not increased in either price or demand, yet he believes there is no doubt that we are entering upon an era of general prosperity; no better indication being extant than the booked millions of tons of iron on the market."

R. C. Ballinger & Co., 218 North Thirtieth street, general contractors, say:

"That whilst they have been and are now busy, they expect an unprecedented year in 1899 for all kinds of business. The rise in prices in iron and immense market for the commodity, as well as all the railroads overloaded with freight, their large orders for cars and other straws blowing with the wind, guide them to such conclusions. The stock markets of the world would not jump upward if the earnings and surroundings did not warrant."

Wendell & Smith, 14 South Broad street, say:

"There is no doubt about an encouraging condition existing at present, and will continue so. We have handled and sold about a quarter of a million of dollars worth of improved land and houses in the suburbs during the last three months, and expect to more than duplicate those figures in the next six months. In place of building to hold for sale, we expect to build chiefly to order at Overbrook, Pelham and elsewhere."

William S. P. Shields, general contractor and builder, 1430 South Penn Square, says:

"He is a great believer in the business indication of pigs and pig iron. When they are in demand and rise in price, as they have the last three months, there is no doubt as to a prosperous boom in all other branches. These, coupled with cereals, rule the markets of the world. I will not build this year. My contracts for their work are heavy and will keep me busy."

Florey & Bevan, builders, 14 South Broad street, say:

"We are finishing a large operation of fine houses now, and look for a good market for them. If this result becomes a fact we shall simply keep right on and build more. Good times and prosperity are in sight when we find advances in all material that enters into building operations and real estate held at firm prices. Houses will not be bought or built at the prevailing prices a year hence."

James Maguire, 1013 Chestnut Street, says:

"A little early to say; may or may not build, just as times improve, or whether there is no doubt but that we are drifting that way."

Charles B. Prettym in, real estate operator and builder, says:

"I am in receipt of your favor of January 12, but have been so busy that it has been impossible for me to answer any mail except very urgent matters."

You ask me in your note my opinion as to the business prospects for the year 1899. I presume you refer to the real estate end of business in general.

In my judgment, first, I believe there will be very little building done during the year of 1899. Second, as to the general outlook of the real estate business, from a business standpoint as a large operator myself, I think real estate is on a steady rise. I have sold through my office and purchased together, very near a half million dollars' worth of property in the last thirty days, and have both paid fair prices and sold for fair prices.

In addition to my Philadelphia sales, I have sold the Grand Atlantic Hotel, at Atlantic City, New Jersey, on South Virginia avenue, to Clarence M. Busch, of Washington, D. C.

One of my recent purchases which I have just made is the Clinton Presbyterian Church, at Tenth and Clinton streets, containing 155 feet on Tenth street, 100 feet on Clinton street and 100 feet on Bond street. I paid $70,000 for this property and am now preparing plans as rapidly as possible and propose to erect a handsome ten-story ornamental apartment house, with all the very latest improvements, at a cost of about $350,000.

I have made several other smaller purchases and also sales besides the above mentioned, and I believe that the outlook for the year 1899, as far as the real estate business is concerned, is very good.

There is only one question which has popped in my mind, and that is why it is that material of every description connected with the building business has advanced from ten to fifty per cent., and the assessment of property has been raised by the State officials from fifteen to twenty-five per cent. This is one question I cannot answer myself. Why real estate can possibly remain in its present state when these two items above mentioned are actual facts, and the money market is so easy, in fact, the market is glutted with money-to-day. As you are aware, there are no stocks or bonds on the market to-day that will pay over two to three per cent. There are no ground rents or mortgages worth having at the present day, so money must seek investment in real estate, hence real estate must come to the front.

The total expenditure involved is about $250,000, and the bids, which were very numerous, were referred to be scheduled.

Contractor John R. Wiggins, Heed Building, 1213-15 Filbert street, has started work on the erection of the four-story brick factory, 60x164 feet, on the north side of Glenwood avenue, west of sixty-third street, for the Mallory, contractor and builder, 704 Real Estate Trust Company Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, is taking bids on 164 dwellings, to be erected on ground bounded by Wyalusing street and Girard avenue, Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh streets. All kinds of materials and workmanship included. Plans on exhibition at office as above noted.

A sub-committee of Councils' committee on Fire and Health last week visited the proposed site for a new fire house at Main and Carpenter streets, Germantown. The lot is directly opposite the present home of Engle Company No. 9, and is said to be valued at $11,000, although the Carpenter estate will, it is said, let the city have it for the $10,000 which has been appropriated. The committee expressed themselves well pleased with the site.

Ryan & Kelly and Stacy B. Oddyke, contractors, were on the 24th inst. given contracts to construct a large coal yard, at Fifteenth and Callowhill streets, and hoppers as well, for the Bement Miles establishment at that place. The former bid $19,973 50 on the yard and the latter bid for the hoppers $4213. This work is made necessary by the construction of the great subway for the Reading Railway.

Contractors Samuel B. MacDowell and Doyle & Doak are estimating on the new two-story infirmary to be built at the Masonic Home of Pennsylvania, at 3333 North Broad street. Architect Fred G. Thorn made the plans, and the specifications provide for stone masonry, brick, iron, carpentering, plastering, plumbing gas fitting, tin, painting and glazing work; also hardware, dumb waiter, fireproofing and heating. The latter will contain nine class rooms, three coat rooms, teachers' rooms and large corridors. The bids on these jobs go in on Monday.

The building will measure 40x60 feet, and the work will cause an expenditure of $18,000. Architect Addison Hutton made the plans. Mr. Johnston will also make alterations at 1217 and 1219 Callowhill street. Previously noted in full.

The First City Troop, of this city, have resolved to erect a new armory, and have appointed a building committee to consider the matter of which Captain Jno. C. Grooms is a member. This move has been rendered necessary on account of the destruction of their roof and upper floors by the recent blizzard. It has not been fully determined whether they will build upon the present site or seek another, but this and selection of an architect to draw plans will be considered at an early day. The estimated cost of the new structure is about $100,000.

All the plans for the new Commercial Museum buildings, to be erected in West Philadelphia, are now on boards of general contractors for estimate, and are most comprehensive in detail. Prettyman, from drawings by Dull, Peterson & Crawford Coates, Jr., architects, 1010 Walnut street, have been scheduled and forwarded to Mr. Prettyman, at Los Angeles, California, where he is now sojourning for a short season. It is probable that within the next two weeks the announcement of the contract will be made, and work started at an early day. Bidders are Doyle & Doak, Macey, Henderson & Co.,

Jno. R. Wiggins, J. S. & A. L. Pennock, and Thos. M. Seeds, Jr.

The Union Republican Club, of the Fortieth ward, has purchased from John Gibson, the builder, the building on the corner of Felton terrace and Woodland avenue, for the sum of $500. The club will occupy the same on March 1st, after the necessary additions and alterations have been completed. Baths, barber shop and wheel-room will be provided in the basement. The entire roof space will be taken up with a roof garden. Steam heating and electric lighting will be introduced.

During the current week estimates have been made on the school house to be erected at Glenwood avenue and Oxford street, a building which has been fully noted previously in this journal. Plans by Jos. D. Ansbutz architect to the board of education. It will be a three-story structure, of stone and brick work, with a large open bay of hammered glass extending from the second floor upward, slate roof, iron truss work; interior will contain warm air heat by the induction fan system, hard wood work, sliding partitions, blackboards, closets and toilets, plumbing and electric systems most approved, steel ceilings and cement floor in basement; lightning rods, artificial pavement, painting and glazing, etc., for the exterior. It will be an up-to-date building in all its features.

Builder James Gibson says that he was receiving estimates and would begin work on April 1 on the erection of 144 houses and six stores in the Twenty-fifth ward, to cost in the neighborhood of $262,000. These structures will be up to date and contain six, seven and eight rooms. They will be built on Allegheny avenue, Westmoreland, Linden and Osborne streets. The dwellings built on lots measuring 14x50 feet will be 14x30 feet, while the houses on lots 14x60 feet will measure 14x40 feet. All the structures will have porch fronts, with galvanized iron cornices and bay windows. The interiors will be fitted up with the latest improvements, including bath tubs, wash stands, wash trays, laundry in basement, tile work, etc. The houses on Allegheny avenue will be finished in hard woods. Architect Harry Peale, Jr., Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, made the plans, previously noted.

The committee on plans and improvements of the Commissioners of Fairmount Park met on the 23d inst., and opened bids for the widening of the East Park drive, the Lincoln drive, for continuing the construction of the river wall on the west bank of the Schuylkill and rubble masonry work. The contract for the construction of the river wall was given to C. E. Riley as the lowest bidder, at $2.13 a cubic yard for the wall and $1.75 for the concrete foundations. Robert Patton secured the contract for rubble masonry work at $2.23 a cubic yard. The bids for widening the East Park drive and Lincoln drive were order to be scheduled. The contract will be awarded to the lowest bidder. Jesse T. Vodge, superintendent of the Park, reported that $981.95 was needed for laying underground conduits on the Wissahickon drive to the Falls bridge. The committee decided to advertise for bids for a four-cut conduit at Wissahickon entrance and as far north as an appropriation of $5000 would permit.

On the 23d inst. all interests of the Philadelphia Ferry Company and those of the West Jersey Ferry Company were merged into one, and the new organization will be known as the Philadelphia and Camden Ferry Company and controlled by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. A new ferry house is to be erected under their auspices, at the foot of Arch street, Camden, into which all passenger traffic will be centered, both local and general. This means much labor and many contracts, as plans will be prepared under Mr. A. Felspaugh, architect and engineer of the latter company, for the construction of one of the largest depots in this country. In this work it is proposed to utilize all the old spans and arches of the late depot in this city, so far as the structural work is concerned. Besides the making of new docks, there will be masonry and brick work, cement flooring, grouting work, piling and heavy platform construction; also steam work upon an elaborate scale, iron work, plumbing, electric plant, etc. All this will follow in the wake of the action of the two companies above named.

Architect Notes.

Architect and Engineer Kurt W. Peuckert has removed his office to 259 South Fourth street; formerly at 1411 Filbert street.

Rowland W. Boyle, architect, has taken an office room at 1550 Chestnut street, and fitted it appropriately for professional labors. Mr. Boyle has preliminary sketches for a number of projects which we shall note later.

John T. Windrim, architect, 1110 Walnut street, has made plans for a five-story store, 70x80 feet, to be erected at northwest corner Third and Race streets, for W. F. Moore. It will be of brick and stone, and all the latest conveniences introduced; steam heat and power, and freight lift, electric work, plumbing, etc.

Kean & Mead, architects, 1420 Chestnut street, have made plans for two fine houses to be erected at Overbrook, for Wendell & Smith, owners, and awarded contract to Milton W. Young, of same place. These are three stories high, stone and brick, hard wood interiors, electric work, steam heat, and all modern conveniences, etc.

D. Knickerbacker Boyd, architect, Harrison Building, has completed the previously noted plans for the house at Devon Pa., to be erected for Samuel Eckert, and estimates are now being considered. It will be of stone, frame and brick work, and hard wood interior, with electric work, and all general comforts introduced. Mr. Boyd is engaged on other work which we shall note later on.

Jno. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 North Thirteenth street, have made plans for an additional factory building for Henry H. Roeloffs, to be erected at Twelfth and Olive streets. It will be a one story structure, about 22 feet high, of brick, stone and slow burning material on interior, fitted with steam heat and power, electric work, etc. Estimates are to be made at once in office of the architects. Messrs. Stuckert & Son have on boards other drawings which will be noted later on.

Architect H. L. Duhring, Jr., 1010 Walnut street, has prepared plans for a new amphitheatre and laboratory of hygiene for the University of Pennsylvania. The new building will be added to the present hygiene building at Thirty-fourth and Locust streets, and it will be two stories high and measure 60x50 feet. Brick and brown stone will be the materials used on the exterior, the style of architecture to correspond with that of the present building. The first floor of the new structure will contain a lecture room with a seating capacity for about 350 persons, and the laboratory will be located on the second floor.

Geo. O. Rehfuß and Spencer Roberts, associate architects, 1017 Harrison Building, have made plans for a large and very handsome steel pier, to be erected at Atlantic City, N. J., for the Auditorium Pier Company. It will be of steel and frame work, 30x1500 feet, and will contain a roof garden approached by a colonnade. The latter will seat about 1500 persons, and fitted with a stage and effects, whilst the lower auditorium will hold 2500 persons. A tower at each corner and walks upon sides will be special features of beauty. Electric work will be utilized to enhance the surroundings and make a brilliant night scene.

Dull, Peterson & Crawford Coates, Jr., architects, 1110 Walnut street, have been retained to prepare plans for an apartment house, to be erected by John McCrea, of Chestnut Hill, upon the site of the George W. Childs Mansion, at Twenty-second and Walnut streets. It is altogether likely the building will be either six or eight stories high, and of brick, stone and terra cotta work, with fireproof materials on interior. All the latest and best conveniences will be introduced, including steam heat, electric work, elevators, grille, iron and brass work, mosaic, marble and slate work, etc. Fuller details will be given in these columns later.

The T-Square Club, at a recent meeting, passed a resolution addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury, calling his attention to the Tarsney act, adopted February 20, 1893, in connection with the appropriations about to be made for public buildings to be erected at Wilkesbarre, Altoona, Washington, New Castle, McKeesport, Shamokin and Johnstown, all in this State. The Tarsney act provides for the selection of local architects by limited competition to devise plans and supervise the construction of public buildings and the club requests that the Secretary of the Treasury exercise his discretion, as provided in the act, to select architects for the above-named buildings.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, is engaged on plans for a Protestant Episcopal chapel to be erected at Catasauqua, Pa. It will be 30x75 feet, of stone and frame, and seat about 250 persons, heated by furnace, hard wood seats and general church furnishings. Mr. Watson is also busily engaged on the drawings for the structure to be erected at 1224 Market street, and those for the parochial house, church and schoolhouse, to be erected on the grounds of St. John's Roman Catholic Church, lately destroyed by fire. The basement of the old church will be fitted at once for use, whilst the superstructure will be entirely remodelled, decorated and refurnished in every particular.

Quite an animated meeting of the Art Department of the Civic Club was held on the afternoon of the 4th inst., when an illustrated lecture was delivered upon Municipal Building and "what can be done to improve the art of the city," by Mr. Albert Kelsey, a well known architect of the firm of Kennedy, Hayes & Kelsey, of this city. The question of skyscrapers was discussed in a very able manner by Mr. Kelsey, who was followed by Frank Miles Day, Harvey K. Watts and others. Mr. Kelsey also made a demand for advance in the science of architecture from the modern standpoint and no return to the antiquated style or practice of the past. The affair proved most instructive and will no doubt be productive of good results from an educational point of view.

In the matter of the awards of prizes for drawings to be used in improvements of League Island Park, in this city, the committee in charge have given first prize to Samuel Parsons, Jr., whose address is Arsenal, Central Park, New York City; second prize to R. Ulrich, of the same city, and honorable mention of the work of Nathan Barrett, of this city. It is the intention of the authorities to commence the work of developing the Park at once. For this purpose (Councils made an appropriation for 1899 of $15,000, which, with the $9,992.50 remaining unexpended of the appropriation made in 1898, makes the sum available $24,992.50. The plans, as was stated in these columns recently, are quite elaborate, and a considerable sum of money will be required to carry them into execution. Considerable grading will be necessary, and the greater portion of the money now available will be expended in this character of work. The proposed structures are: An iron bridge to carry Broad street over the drive, bicycle path, bridle path, and foot walks; two rustic stone bridges, to carry drive over the water; one iron bridge, with stone foundations to carry drive and walk over water; one stone arch to carry drive over walk; five rustic wooden bridges; one culvert, to carry brook under Broad street; one boat house and skaters' shelter; one music pavilion; houses for public comfort; retiring and dressing rooms in connection with boys' and girls' playgrounds and shelters in case of sudden storms. The sewage from the buildings and grounds to be carried into the city sewers at Pattison avenue and Broad street; the drainage to depend on two sluices at Government avenue. The work may be taken up as follows:—1. Grading of Broad street circle, playgrounds and construction of drainage. 2. Building of carriage, bicycle, bridle, and footpaths. 3. Grading, painting and construction of lakes. 4. Building casino, toilet buildings, arbors, shelters, rustic fences, band stands and such other ornamentalations as may be provided for.

Obituary.

The death of Mr. Andrew Carty on February 28th, at his residence at Fraser, Chester county, Pa., removes an enterprising business man, as well as an estimable citizen of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Carty was well known throughout the building interests of this city as a member of the firm of Irvine & Carty, proprietors of the Knickerbocker Lime Co.

The funeral was on Friday last; the interment at Cathedral Cemetery.

Fine Paintings at Auction.

Commencing on Thursday afternoon M. Thomas & Sons, 1519-21 Chestnut street, will sell at auction a rare collection of paintings representing the best work of popular modern masters, such as De Baul, Piot, Perrault, Haquette, Siegnac, Edw. Moran, G. Wiess, Robie, Innes, Richter, Coessin, Jeminez and others. Indeed it has been a long time since a collection of such uniform merit has been offered at auction in this city. The sale will occupy the last three days of this week at least, as besides paintings, art furniture and art objects, from the residence of Wm. B. Bement, are included.

Health Notice to Householders.

"Water boiled for ten minutes is absolutely free from typhoid fever germs.

"Boil water in the evening, set aside in a clean place over night, keep free from dust, and use the following day.

"By request of the Board of Health, January 24, 1899."

The above notice must have a striking effect upon the average visitor to this city.

For years Philadelphia has been recognized as a good place in which to live and bring up one's children; it is now being popularized as a good spot in which to contract the worst of diseases expeditiously with a moderate certainty of death.

Funeral directors should advertise cut rates generally, and a wholesale discount where families require their services frequently.

The owners of real estate must be patient while their interests are being sacrificed; to kick is equal to disloyalty to the G. O. P. and treachery to the flag. In good time, perhaps after thousands of worthy and estimable residents have met untimely deaths, and thousands have been scared or kept away, then something will be done, but that something, be it known, must yield its proper share of boodle, without which, of course, there can be no merit.

In the meantime kettles will be in demand, for it is a choice between boiled water and death. The kettle for boiling water is bound to become an office fixture, for the fellow who must run home every time he needs a drink will find his business chances greatly impaired. Indeed, the absence of portable kits for boiling and cooling water shows a decided want of enterprise among our local manufacturers. It would be so nice for ladies who desired a drink to stop on our street corners, set up their kits, and settle the business at once.

The serious side of the question is another thing, as the following clipping will show:

(From the New York Medical News.)

"The reports of the respective Boards of Health of the cities of New York and Philadelphia for one week ending during the month of January are before us. In Greater New York, with an estimated population of over three and a half millions, fourteen cases and six deaths from typhoid fever are reported; in Philadelphia, with a population of a little over a million, the total number of new cases of typhoid reported is 427 and there were forty deaths from the disease. Could there be any more bitter reflection on municipal government than is afforded by such figures? Typhoid is an easily preventable disease. The great cities of the Old World have practically gotten rid of it. Cases of typhoid are extremely rare in Vienna, while in Berlin, as our foreign correspondent noted at the beginning of last year, the occurrence of a case of typhoid in the autopsy-room of the Charite, where nearly 2000 autopsies are performed every year, is such a rarity that particular attention is called to it and special study made of it as of some curious, infrequent, pathological condition. A great city of the New World in the midst of our boasted progressive American civilization permits its citizens to be carried off by typhoid year after year and does not wake from the disgraceful lethargy of its criminal negligence.

What a record is that given by our Philadelphia correspondent last week in the statistics of typhoid fever in that city for the last ten years! There has been an average of nearly 300 cases of typhoid fever every year, and over 500 deaths; and these ten years are almost the last ten years of this enlightened Nineteenth Century, and the last of the ten years is the worst of them all. Philadelphians are to be congratulated on their long suffering. We hope they will reap a reward for it in another world, since it is not the sort of virtue that is rewarded in this. Perhaps for this reason they are satisfied to be hastened out of it forthwith.

If the police department of Philadelphia were to allow 500 people a year to be killed in the streets of the city and some 2500 more to be laid up for months because of the attacks of foot pads, would Philadelphians in their going perfect Quaker spirit meekly submit to that, too? Or if they dared to protest and their protest was answered by the declaration that the presence of factions in the City Council, each one striving to get boodle for itself, regardless of citizens' lives and safety, prevented agreement on any plan by which the police might be made more effective, would they shake their tolerant heads and murmur, 'Ah! these city fathers, who can do anything with them?" and then go on about their business, hoping they would not be among the next to be waylaid?

The present state of affairs is a blot upon civilization, a crying shame in the face of the world. No Philadelphian should presume to raise his voice in any question of general interest and importance while the city in which he lives is under this awful cloud. There must be an unlimited supply of the material out of which slaves are made dwelling within the shadow of Independence Hall when this flagrant violation of the inalienable right to health and the pursuit of happiness is allowed to go on year after year and the mass of the people remain indifferent. Quousque tandem?"

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Buck & Gallagher, cut stone contractors, corner Ninth and Wolf streets, are furnishing the sandstone for a country house for Mr. G. Brinton Roberts, at Bala, Pa.

Rev. P. J. Mellon, of St. Gabriel's Roman Catholic Church, at Thirtieth and Reed streets, is raising funds for the purpose of building a new church in that locality.

Rev. James T. Fitzmaurice intends to have a new red brick front and terra cotta work put in St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church, at Second and Jefferson streets.

The contract for fitting up the offices of the United Gas Improvement Company, at Broad and Arch streets, has been given to George W. Smith & Co., of this city, Thirteenth and Powelton avenue.

William Steel & Sons, contractors, 506 Walnut street, will erect a two-story factory and warehouse, 60x10 feet, at Millin street wharf. Brick and stone, the material, with general conveniences introduced.

J. F. Molloy, contractor, is at work making the repairs to the basement of St. John's Roman Catholic Church, Thirteenth street, for temporary worship, whilst the auditorium overhead will be rebuilt and refurbished.

The amount appropriated by Congress for improvement of the Delaware river for the current year is $500,000, and will be applied to deepening the channel. $350,000 has been given for improvement of League Island docks.

Appleton & Burrell, contractors, have the contract to build an office and storage building at Fifteenth and Bainbridge streets for M. Meyerhoff & Co. It will be of brick and stone and slow-burning construction, and all conveniences. Previously noted.

James E. Clark, builder, will erect twenty-five dwellings, 14x41 feet, two-story, on west side of Fifty-first and a-half street, between Wyalusing and Westminster avenues. All of brick, with stone trimmings, heaters, ranges, boilers, and all conveniences, etc.

It is reported that Gimbel Bros will make an effort to largely extend their department store at Ninth and Market streets. Negotiations, it is stated, are under way for the property on Market street now occupied by Sharpless & Bros. and also for that occupied by the Chicago Merchandise Co. These properties together with two on Eighth street, when secured, will represent the dimensions of the extension. If successful, extensive alterations will be necessary.

said a suburbanite to a U. G. I. Co. official.

"I was deeply interested in my law studies—wanted to accomplish just so much that night. Well, the gas commenced to go up, then down, then up, then down—same effect as a flash light on the eyes. I had to stop and go to bed."

"Same thing happened every night for months. Then I got mad, and sent to The U. G. I. Co. Well, they replied in short order, found the trouble, and now I'm all right. It pays to kick, especially when they ask you to."

 mated cost is about $50,000. Plans have been prepared by Charles E. Cassell for the proposed Friends' high school building to be erected at Park avenue and Laurens street.

 It will form a part of the Friends' meeting house on the same site and will conform in style and general appearance to that structure. It will be of gneiss stone, will be three stories high, granite and copper trimmings, slate roof, finely finished interior, all modern conveniences and improvements. —Mr.

 Joseph C. Hobbs has begun work on four

 Penwood avenue, West Arlington. They will be two-and-a-half stories high, of brick and stone, finely finished throughout, all modern comforts. —A large storage warehouse will be erected by the Northern Central Railway Company at the foot of Bond street, upon the site of the old cotton press warehouse, recently destroyed by fire. The plans for this structure have been prepared by William H. Brown, chief engineer of the ground railroad company. —Nineteen acres of at Roland Park have been bought by Mr.
 C. Morton Stewart from Charles O'Donnell
 Lee and wife. The price paid was $30,000.
 It is probable that improvements will be made. —It is said that the newly consolidated electric light companies, the Northern, Brush and Edison, will make extensive improvements to the present plant and erect a

Washington, D. C.

 William R. Ward will erect a four-story brick and stone apartment house on Fourth street, between "F" and "G" streets, Northwest. The front will be of Indiana limestone and mottled brick with a handsome copper cornice. The structure will contain sixteen suites of apartments, with five rooms each and bath room, each suite surrounded by fireproof partitions. The floors of the main hall and stair hall will be tiled and the stairs will be of iron. The interior will be finely finished, electric lights, elevator, steam heat, all modern conveniences. The plans have been prepared by B. Stanley Simmons. —Mrs. C. F. Harbingan will erect two dwellings at 1218 and 1220 Twenty-eighth street. They will be two stories high, of press brick, well finished throughout, all modern conveniences. —Five dwellings will be erected at 645 to 653 "F" street, Northeast, by L. B. Bunsey, from plans prepared by

 A. B. Mullett & Co. They will be two stories high and well finished throughout. —Thomas L. Risheil will erect four dwellings on "T" street, Northwest. They will be two stories high and finely finished throughout. —Ray E. Meddaugh will erect three dwellings on "C" street. —John W. Gregg will erect three similar dwellings also on "S" street. —The President has signed the act regulating the height of buildings. Some of the provisions of the new act are that no buildings shall exceed ninety feet in height on a residence street, nor 110 feet on a business street, except on business streets or business avenues 100 feet wide, where a height not exceeding 130 feet may be allowed. It is also provided that the height of buildings on corner lots shall in all cases be regulated by the limitations governing on the broader street. There is some dissatisfaction expressed, as the new law does not apply to the height of federal or municipal buildings in the district, such structures being expressly excluded. —The Senate last week passed bills for public buildings at Wilkes-barre, Pa., to cost $135,000; Canton, O., $55,000; Cleveland, O., $2,250,000; New York City Custom House, $750,000 and Jamestown, N. Y., $75,000. —Henry Ives Cobb has prepared plans and is receiving estimates for an addition to the Southern Railway Com-
 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15, 1899.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, has made plans for alteration to the building 912 Walnut street, for the Hastings & Garside Truss Co. An addition, three stories high, will be erected in rear also. It will be 24x52 feet, brick and stone, with all the best conveniences on interior.

H. J. Hardenbergh, architect, 10 West Twenty-third street, N. Y., will prepare plans for an extension to the Manhattan Hotel, 326 25 Madison avenue. It will be fourteen stories high, of same material as the present structure, and in keeping architecturally as well. Interior to have electric work, elevators, steam heat, etc.

Henry D. Dagit, architect, 435 Chestnut street, has made plans for a parochial house for St. Edwards' Church, at Eighth and York streets, and plans for a new church, to be erected in the near future, adjoining the above. Both buildings will be of stone and brick, and possess on interior all the best comforts and conveniences.

Furness, Evans & Co., architects, Provident Life Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, have made plans for alteration to Mr. Nixon's residence, 542 North Broad street. The work will include modern accommodations, plumbing, carpenter work, painting, glazing, decorations, etc. Estimates being made in office of general contractors Jacob Myers & Sons and others.

Barney & Chapman, architects, 1236 Broadway, New York, are making plans for a ten-story steel skeleton hotel, to be erected by the White estate, at southwest corner of Seventh avenue and Thirty-eighth street, in the above city. It will be 100x100 feet, first two stories of granite, rest of light colored brick and terra cotta work, elevators, mosaic and marble work, electric lighting and all late conveniences introduced.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., contractors, 401 South Juniper street, have begun work on the foundation for the eight-story addition to the Globe printing establishment, Twelfth above Arch streets, and for which Harry T. Peale, architect, Harrison Building, made the plans. As previously noted in these columns, it will be of brick, stone trimmings, steel skeleton and fitted with elevators, lifts, electric work, steam heat and power as well as all other conveniences.

Edward Wenz, architect, 1491 Third avenue, New York, is engaged on plans for a flat building of brick and stone, to be erected by Raquette & Wolf, Third and Alexander avenues. Iron beams, tin roof, concrete cellar, mosaic work, wood mantels, grille work, plumbing, gas fixtures, steam heat, etc. Also plans for interior alteration to a brick and stone business building, corner of 101st street and Columbia avenue, New York City, and owned by Geo. W. Engers, 109 West 101st street. Cost $15,000.

The entire works of the Charles Scott Spring Company, at 1028 Newmarket street, was destroyed by fire on the afternoon of the 13th inst. A number of the properties adjoining were badly damaged, among which were the John Buckley Hub Works and brass foundry of B. B. Hill. It is understood at time of going to press that the former will be rebuilt and repairs made to the latter buildings at once.

Extensive improvements are being made at Bay Ridge, for the Bay Ridge Electric Park and Steamboat Company, of Baltimore, Md., according to plans drawn by Architect P. P. Elkinton, of 211 South Sixth street, of this city. The work includes a new recreation pier, music shell, boat houses and various amusement buildings; also an extension of the power house and electric lighting system. The old buildings, hotel, cafe, bath houses etc., are to be remodeled and repaired throughout.

Secretary Gage is confronted with a stubborn problem by the enactment by the last Congress of public building laws far beyond the capacity of the Treasury Department to execute. More than sixty-six federal buildings, scattered from New England to California, and costing from $20,000 to $3,000,000 each, were ordered by Congress in less than one week, and to undertake the preparation of plans for this number with the ordinary facilities of the Supervising Architect's office is out of the question. It will be necessary to give a large number of these buildings over to private competition, and the Secretary contemplates selecting thirty or forty to be designed in that manner.

Contractor and Builder Thomas Reilly has plans on the boards at his office, at 1616 Thompson street, providing for the erection of a new church at Overbrook for the congregation of the Memorial Church of St. Paul. The edifice will be built of stone and it will be trimmed on the interior and exterior with Indiana limestone. It will measure 60x112 feet, and have a slate roof. According to the specifications of Architect Frederick M. Mann, Brown Bros. Building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, who made the plans, estimates are wanted for electric work, plumbing, hard woods, etc. Mr. Reilly also has plans on the boards for a five-story factory, 30x62 feet, to be erected at 1229 Appletree street. Architect Howard Hager made plans for this structure. Both the above have been previously noted in these columns.

Collector of Customs Bidwell will be in Washington this week to discuss with Secretary Gage and Assistant Secretary Spaulding arrangements for the sale of the old

New York Custom House. Under the law it cannot be sold for less than $3,000,000. It is believed $4,000,000 may be obtained. Although no steps can be taken toward the actual preparation of plans for the new Custom House Building until after the United States has secured title to the site, while condemnation proceedings are in progress the Secretary will decide whether the building will be built on plans prepared by the Supervising Architect of the Treasury, or whether private architects will be invited to submit competitive designs. It is probable the Secretary will invite competition.

Charles W. Bolton & Co., architects, Witherspoon Building, Juniper and Walnut streets, have been selected to prepare plans for a new church edifice to be erected by the Reformed Church congregation, at Passaic, N. J. Mr. Bolton says the structure will be quite a handsome one, of light colored stone, Gothic architecture, 80x35 feet in area. Included in building will also be a Sunday school and a study, ladies' parlor, infants' room, nine classrooms, a library and a kitchen. The church will have a seating capacity for about 900 persons, and it will be fitted up with hard woods and contain all the latest modern church furnishings. There will be two galleries, one in the Sunday school room and the other in the church. It is stated that the work will cost $35,000, exclusive of the fittings. Work on the plans and details have just been started as above indicated.

Robeson Lea Perot, architect, 619 Philadelphia Bourse, has awarded the contract for a new gate-keeper's lodge, to be erected at "Renconrty," near Greenville, Delaware, to Mr. James M. Smythe, contractor, of Wilmington, Delaware. Building to be about 30x30 feet 6 inches, two stories high, and will contain cut and face stone work, brick work, painting and glazing, mill work, hard wood finish. Exterior above first floor to be frame, covered with cedar shingles, stained with Cabot's creosote shingle stains. Mr. Perot has also prepared drawings for the new rectory for St. Stephen's Church, Wissahickon, Pa., which, as noted in our last issue, it is hoped will go ahead in a short time. This building will be situated at the corner of Hermit and Terrace streets, will be about 36x48 over all, and will contain all the latest improvements, including steam or hot water heat, open set of nickel plated plumbing, plate and leaded glass, open fireplaces, mantels, stationary wash tubs, hard wood finish, slate roof, local face stone work, best hardware, range, etc., complete. Also plans for a large residence in the western part of the State and for several extensive alterations to residences which will be noted as work progresses. Also plans for a pair of houses in the suburbs, owner's name withheld at present; noted in full later.

while strutting around in his regal pride and glory, will suddenly drop his beautiful tail at a single glance at his ugly and cumbersome feet.

Comparison, it is seen by this example of humiliation, cuts a figure even in the intellectual make up of this well-known bird.

His conceit falls before his natural appreciation of the great contrast between his two extremes, for it is an example of beauty and the beast, a gain and again, ad-in finitum.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, MAR. 15, 1899.

The citizens of this city must make up their minds that the question of pure water cannot be settled through the substitution of an expedient, such as a filtering plant would prove to be, for a new source of supply, the thing needed.

It is estimated that a filtering plant to meet the requirements of the city would cover at least 121 acres.

To whom would the care and efficiency of such a plant be relegated, if not to the self-same incapables who mismanaged the gas works? Is it fair to suppose that the safety of the people would be increased with such a plant utilized for political purposes first, last and all of the time?

The true cause of the water pollution is the cities and villages along the Schuylkill, and as their population increases so also will the water grow more dangerous.

Water and food are the things people must have, and their cost, however great, is insignificant when compared with the value of human life.

If this city is to grow and prosper as a business centre, the terrible influence of bad water and worse municipal government must cease.

We can better afford to pay the yearly interest on an issue of one hundred millions of water bonds, if such an amount is necessary, than continue under the present system which brings death and misery to the people without the hope of permanent relief, unless the Schuylkill system is abandoned.

There is nothing the matter with the Schuylkill water in itself, for it can be exposed to the sun for an entire summer without the slightest change.

The typhoid germ is introduced through the sewers of the up-river cities; and if that question was once settled the problem of pure Schuylkill water would be solved. The trouble is, it cannot be settled, for such a proposition is in itself of such magnitude as to place it beyond consideration.

An aqueduct from the Water Gap is at this time to Philadelphia of much less importance as to cost than the aqueduct from Croton Lake to New York was to New York at the time it was constructed in the early forties.

Why is it that cheap John expedients, which are never intended to fill the bill, represent the ruling passion of our City Fathers?

Our markets afford the choicest products for food and our people pay liberally for them. Is it not an insult to these people to intimate that they will not cheerfully bear the burdens of almost any amount of yearly interest on water bonds for the sake of a wholesome water supply? It would be a poor apology for a citizen indeed, who would prefer seeing the city in which he lives cursed and loathed in every quarter as a pest-hole because of a slight increase of his yearly taxes.

"An Open Door Between Two Great Cities."

"THE QUICK AND THE DEAD."

Mr. Chairman and gentlemen: Some years ago an authoress of national renown wrote a book with a startling and impressive title—a title that might be said to be in two parts. The first part you citizens of New York, with your usual self-complacency and with pleasing unctious, appropriated to yourselves; the second part you kindly and considerably bequeathed to your neighbors, the citizens of Philadelphia. What was the title? 'The Quick and the Dead.' You, of course—yes, of course—are the "Quick," and we, of course, are the "Dead." It matters not that we of Philadelphia own most of your street railway lines—and operate them, too; it matters not that we own every trans-Atlantic steamer that flies the American flag which sails from your port; it matters not that we build most of the battleships that protect your port; it matters not that our manufactures, our locomotives, form the principal part of your export cargoes (outside of the products of the field and farm. We are still the "City of the Dead" and you are the "Quick." But does it not strike you as being strangely inconsistent, this blind belief of yours in your wonderful superiority, your belief that you are the very "salt of the earth," in fact? When you see sitting before you on my left the distinguished members of a distinguished commission—the "Commerce Commission of New York"—a Commission created by your State Legislature to find out what has become of your vanishing commerce, and when that has been located to advise the Legislature as to the best methods of getting it to come back again to you as of yore—did you ever hear of such a commission sitting in Chicago, St. Louis, or Baltimore, or even in the "City of the Dead?" No, no, my friends; while you men of New York have been sitting in your offices, watching helplessly the money flow in, and taking no thought of improving your conditions, or of keeping up with the progress of the times, and of the pace set you by your neighbors,

Chicago has been alert, and so have St. Louis, Baltimore and Philadelphia, and hence the creation of your Commerce Commission.

I may shock your feelings when I say to you that you men of New York need an "open door" into and out of your city more than any other equally large community among civilized cities. You will smile at this statement, but unfortunately there is nothing to smile at. It is too, too true.

Within a radius of one hundred miles of your city there is clustered around you a highly cultured and wealthy population of at least one-eleventh of the total population of the United States; larger by untold millions than that of any other equal-sized portion of our land, many, many times over.

PHILADELPHIA'S GREATNESS.

At a little less than one hundred miles from your borders you have in your nearest big neighbor a city of, say one and one-half millions of inhabitants, whose large manufacturing interests make it a national market for textile fabrics, and other classes of manufactures; a great "City of Homes," where, in a period of but twelve years, we have erected over $9,000 new buildings, at a cost of $305,000,000; where the poor weaver, the poor mechanic and the poor laborer are housed comfortably, as in no other city in the world. This city has a deep water front of thirty-three miles, and in this particular it is without a rival anywhere. It has a channel to the ocean not longer than that possessed by smaller cities with much greater commerce; a channel now well lighted and buoyed, and which, by the expenditure of $5,000,000, can be made superior to any river channel in Europe. It has a colossal business of its own. It is the greatest of all manufacturing centres, and the mills, which annually make $600,000,000 worth of products, which are mostly sold and sent away, are the buyers of hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of crude materials, which must be brought to it to undergo the process of fabrication.

Near to and tributary to the city are other industrial communities, some of them having the proportions of cities, which together not improbably use as much raw material, and produce and sell as great an amount of goods as are used and produced within the limits of the city itself.

Philadelphia stands as the port of shipment for a Commonwealth of 5,000,000 people, who mine more than one-half the national product of coal, produce more than one-half the petroleum, and who make more iron and steel than all the rest of the country.

In natural wealth and in the extent and energy of its productive forces the State of Pennsylvania probably surpasses any other portion of the globe of equal dimensions outside of the British Isles. Only one other State of the Union touches the Great Lakes with its Western border and has a tide-water for its Eastern boundary. No other State in the Union has upon one side direct communication with the Atlantic Ocean and on

AN OPEN DOOR.

In a word, our prosperity means, in a reciprocal sense, your prosperity, and your prosperity means ours. Where anything that will enable the men of Philadelphia to deliver to you our manufactured products at a reduced cost for transportation, that is a benefit to you, and it will likewise benefit us to have the purchases which we make from you laid down at fair rates within our warehouses and our stores, and bear in mind that any freight schedules that are not fair between these two great cities act as a "closed door" to your business and to ours and cannot be an "open door" for trade. "What is a fair rate?" may be asked. Would you consider it a fair rate where it costs as much to move a ton of freight from Philadelphia to New York, or vice versa, as it does to move a ton of the same class of merchandise from New York to Chicago? The distance in the first case being ninety miles, and in the second nearly one thousand.

Is it a fair rate which costs as much, with your cartage added, to transport a ton of merchandise from New York City to Philadelphia, as it does to carry the same class and weight of goods from Amsterdam, Holland, to the wharves of Philadelphia? And yet these illustrations are nearly practically correct, for you can ship goods to Chicago for the same charge that it will cost to ship them to Philadelphia.

Architect Notes.

Isaac Pursell, architect, 119 South Fourth street, is revising the drawings and specifications for the Lehigh Avenue Baptist Church, at Twelfth and Lehigh avenue, and will take bids during the current week. Previously noted.

Carrere & Hastings, architects, 28 East Forty-first street, have made plans for a temporary brick building for the Academy of Design, east side of Amsterdam avenue, between 109th and 110th streets New York. It will be two stories high and cost $22,000.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Pemberton & Co., 414-15 Girard Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, are receiving estimates for work and material on seven dwellings, which they will erect on east side of Thirty-third street, south of Oxford.

The Rittenhouse Quarry, Germantown, Wm. M. Watson, agent, has been awarded the contract to furnish all the stone work on new school house to be erected at Ontario and G streets. H. A. Miller & Son, builders.

R. C. Ballinger & Co., 218 North Thirtieth street, have received the contract for making extensive interior alterations to the store No. 1-22 Chestnut street. This work will cost about $2500, and will be started at once.

The contract for the erection of the new infirmary to be built at the Masonic Home of Pennsylvania, at 3333 North Broad street, the other navigable water connected with the river systems of the Mississippi Valley. Philadelphia has within the city limits 1000 miles of track belonging to the steam railways.

Back of the city and of the State stretch to the Pacific Ocean 8000 miles of the richest territory upon the earth, inhabited by over 75,000,000 of the most prosperous people, and in the near future probably to contain 150,000,000 of such people.

To reduce friction in business is to give facility, and facility means attraction for commerce. What may not be done with traffic in New York and Philadelphia when a carload of export goods may be placed within a few feet of the side of the steamer and when the steamer may empty its cargo directly into the car?

As the margins in commercial operations grow narrower, may it not be expected that that city will do most business where first hands can buy and sell in a general exchange and where costs of hauling and lighterage are eliminated?

noted in this column on February 25, has been awarded to Contractors Thomas Little & Son.

No stands are to be allowed in Fairmount Park on April 27th, at the dedication of Grant's Monument, than are really necessary for the ceremonies. This action is the outcome of a decision of the commission at its last meeting.

George Watson & Son, 905 North Marshall street, are taking bids for putting up a new building for Wilmer Atkinson Company, at No. 1024 Race street. They ask estimates for tearing down, excavating, masonry and concrete and cement foundations and floors.

Bids are to be received until April 11th, for two pumping engines for the Roxborough Water Station, and pumps, valves, etc., for Engines Nos. 2 and 3 of the Spring Garden Station, by the Director of Public Works, Thomas M. Thompson, Public Buildings, this city.

Plans for estimate are in the office of William Steele & Son's, 506 Walnut street, for a house for Charles Schwarz, Jr., on Washington lane, Germantown. It will be a three-story, stone, brick and frame work, with hard wood interior, and all late conveniences and comforts.

A syndicate of capitalists has been formed, it is understood, of citizens of this city, New York City and of Youngstown, Ohio, who are seeking a good site for a ship yard, and have examined locations along the Delaware river and Baltimore harbor, with the former quite in favor.

William Steele & Son, 506 Walnut street, want estimates for the construction of a two-story brick freight house, 37.1x308 feet, with platform along track; a one-story brick engine house, 117x200 feet, and a one-story repair shop adjoining, 42x32 feet, in the depressed yard of the Reading Subway at Twentieth and Hamilton streets.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut street, have started work on the eighty cold storage plant, previously noted in these columns, to be erected at Noble street and Delaware avenue. It will be of brick, stone and iron construction, 62x150 feet, and 100 feet high. All appliances and machinery on the interior. Cost $30,000.

Gallagher & Gorman are about to build a row of twenty-three three-story dwellings on the north side of Woodland avenue, between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth streets. Contracts for this work have been granted to James B. Campbell, who will begin operations at once. The estimated cost of the work will be about $60,000.

F. G. Caldwell, architect, 1110 Walnut street, has made plans for a house, to be erected at Colmar, Bucks county, Pa., for Wm. S. Duling. It will be three stories, stone and brick, slate roof, and hard wood interior, with best conveniences. Estimates being made on the work at the office of Appletton & Burrell, 1204 Chancellor street.

Some time ago we noted improvements to be made at the Pennington Seminary, Pennington, N. J. These are now in shape, from plans by J. Cather Newsum, 1001 Chestnut street, and consist of alterations and additions to the present structures. All kinds of work and materials will be specified, and estimates are being made in William Steele & Son's office, 506 Walnut street.

In the office of Roydhouse, Arey & Company, Master Builders' Exchange, are plans for a large coal yard and stable building for the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, to be constructed at Thirteenth and Callowhill streets. The specifications indicate stone and brick masonry, plastering and carpenter work, ventilators, slag roof, galvanized iron work, plumbing and iron work, painting and glazing, etc.

There is not the least probability of money hardening as to rates of interest, for, to quote a New York gentleman prominently connected with railroads and financial interests whom we are not permitted to name, he said: "Talk about the scarcity of money or increased interest rates. Why, we can get fifty millions of dollars at two and a half per cent. just for the asking any time we want it."

Five thousand dollars have been received by Chairman S. F. Houston, of the University War Memorial Committee, toward erecting a memorial tower in the dormitory system at Thirty-seventh and Spruce streets. The University students have raised $250 with which to erect a tablet in Houston Hall to the memory of John B. Scott, ex-president of Houston Club, who died during the late war.

Wm. R. Dougherty, contractor, 1604 Sansom street, has the contract to build a two-story robing room for the choir of Holy Trinity Church, at Nineteenth and Walnut streets. It will be in rear and of brown stone, with all conveniences on interior. Estimates are being made on a four-story addition to 1227 Race street, for the Electric Tint Engraving Company, in the above office. It will be of brick and stone, and fitted with modern improvements.

Conyers, Button & Co., owners of the Germantown Hosiery Mills, on the north side of Walnut lane, east of Main street, have awarded a contract to Barritt Brothers & Co., contemplating the demolition of several buildings. The old dye house, east of the office, the large mill on the east of the site, the new brick dye house, and the old mill stack and bridge north of the office are the structures it is proposed to tear down. Work will be started at once.

We have authority for saying that Messrs. R. C. Ballinger & Co., contractors, 218 North Thirtieth street, are the lowest bidders for the work of building the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John Chrysostom, to be located at Twenty-eighth street and Lehigh avenue, in this city. Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, drew the plans, and will supervise the construction. Fully described in a previous issue of this journal.

Plans and specifications are now on the boards at 504 Stephen Girard Building and other contractors, for the Grand Hotel Wellington, to be erected at Atlantic City. Plans were made in Atlantic City office of Frank R. Watson, architect, and fully noted previously in this journal. The building is to be a six-story frame, with all modern improvements, steam heat, electric bells and lights, elevators, etc. Cost, when completed, $50,000.

The jury of view appointed in the opening of the Fifty-fifth street, from Market street to Baltimore avenue, has filed its report to the Quarter Sessions Court, awarding the following damages: John P. Twaddell, $2590; Jessie and Agnes Hoffman, $9439.35; Powelton Real Estate Association, $5525; Henry R. Schoch, $2048.55 and $3207.20; Franklin L. Lyle, $2723; heirs of Joseph B. Smith, $1506.05; Sarah Ann Boone, $3652.85; heirs of George K. Tryon, $336.85; heirs of Charles Lafferty, $1505.35.

In the office of Contractor Wm. R. Dougherty are the plans for the great pier to be erected at Atlantic City, N. J., from plans by Geo. O. Rehfuss and Spencer Roberts, architects, and previously described in these columns. Estimates being offered. Same contractor has a contract to make additions and alterations, to the house of Dr. Samuel M. Hamill, 1822 Spruce street. These are quite extensive and include many new features in modern accommodations.

Contractor John R. Wiggins, H. ed Building, 1215 Filbert street, is having estimates for a six-story brick and stone printing and publishing house, 20x1364 feet, to be built at Nos. 234 and 236 Chestnut street for John R. McFetridge, of Burke & McFetridge. It is to have a front of white brick, with a light granite base, and the contract calls for its completion in four months. It is to be built on the steel skeleton frame, and will have passenger and freight elevators and all up to date improvements.

Active progress is being made at the Richmond coal wharves of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company. The river bottom at the foot of William street is now ready for the driving of the piles for the pier which is to extend to the new port wardens' line. The work of enlarging the big grain elevator and flour shed to twice its original capacity will be finished about the first of next month, and there will be no further difficulty in handling vast quantities of grain sent to this city from the West for export.

The Board of Education of this city, has awarded Samuel Gouley the contract for the nine division school house to be erected at Thirty-fourth and Wharton streets for $29,865. The work will include also painting the old school house adjoining the new addition, paving around the whole and an iron railing. The contract for alterations to an old mansion, at Fifth and Westmoreland streets, for school purposes, has been awarded to John H. Jordan contractor, for $1511. Work on both operations will be started at once.

The Tennis Construction Company of this city, of which E. A. Tennis is the president, has just been awarded two important contracts for the construction of street railways. One is for an electric road from Norfolk to Sewell's Point, Va., a distance of 18 miles, and the other for a similar road from Cincinnati, O., to Aurora and Rising Sun, Ind., a distance of 40 miles. This will be the longest interurban road yet put under contract. Besides constructing these lines the contracts call for the building and equipment of the power houses and the furnishing of rolling stock.

Estimates on the proposed addition to the rear portion of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance building, 925-7 Chestnut street, are being offered, the plans being made by Louis C. Hickman, architect for the company, and fully noted in this journal more than six months ago. A connecting tunnel is to be constructed and steam and power plant. The new structure will front on Ludlow street. Materials in keeping with the present large structure and absolutely fireproof. Roydhouse, Arey & Company, Master Builders' Exchange, and other contractors are figuring. Same firm are on working plans for addition to the Barritt Manufacturing Co.'s plant, a two and one three-story structure, 49x71 feet each, and a two-story press house and weaving building. All are of brick, stone and slow burning construction.

This journal has definite information that the plans for the fine apartment house to be erected at Broad street and Girard avenue by a syndicate of capitalists, and to be known as "The Majestic," will be placed on boards of contractors for estimate about the 1st to 15th of April, and the work started as soon as possible thereafter. As contemplated at present, the main part of the mansion is to remain intact, the large halls, drawing rooms, dining rooms, etc., with their costly adornment, being kept unchanged. In the rear of the residence, at the southwest corner of Ontario and Stiles streets, the new structure is to be erected. It will be twelve stories high, with a frontage of 80 feet on Stiles street and 100 feet on Ontario street. This will be connected with the mansion, which will have three stories added on the

Work is being pushed on the new government building, at Third and Arch streets, Camden, N. J. The first floor girders are all in place and the granite coping laid. The walls of the new High School, on Haddon avenue, have risen above the second floor, and that fine structure will soon be ready for roofing. The big new pen factory, at Seventh and State streets, is rapidly nearing completion, and work will soon begin upon a large addition to the Reeve oil cloth plant, on Cooper's creek, at Pine street. Permits have been taken out for the construction of a number of dwelling houses of varying dimensions in different parts of the city. Robert Kaighn will build twelve fine three-story houses on Haddon avenue adjoining his present operations. Burt & O'Hara will build six more on the opposite side. H. G. Hallinger will probably construct fifteen more dwellings in the vicinity of his big operation near the Sixth Regiment Armory.

Wm. T. B. Roberts and others are about to resume extensive work in building at Glenside Farms, Montgomery county, Pa. As noted in these columns last year, a Methodist church will be erected, costing $14,000. Also a Roman Catholic church is being considered, and other fine structures. Exclusive of the thirty odd buildings to be put up by Messrs. Elkins and Widener, quite a number of people have purchased lots and intend to build upon them at once. The most prominent of these is Julius Nachod, the brewer, who has plans out for the erection of a handsome residence at the corner of Rosemore and Sylvania avenues, to cost $15,000, and to be built in antique colonial style. Last year W. T. B. Roberts superintended the erection of nine buildings at Glenside Farms. One of these is the office building situated at Glenside Station. Work is now progressing on the improvements, which include a waiting room, platform and a drive, to be built on the east side of the railroad. The station on the west side will be altered considerably to conform with the degree of improvement being made about it.—It is stated that in the development of the untouched farm land abutting on Edge Hill and Tyson, about $300,000 will be spent this season. This includes the grading of the land, opening of the streets, curbing and laying gas and water mains. There are still about 300 acres unimproved. When completed throughout, which will take at least three years more Glenside Farms will be an immense tract of improved sites for suburban building operations.

—At Beaver, Beaver county, it is reported that the Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad Company will erect a new station, to cost about $25,000.

—At Mount Joy, Lancaster county, fire destroyed, a few ago, the large plant of the Grey Iron Casting Company. The estimated loss is $65,000.

—At McKees Rocks, Allegheny county, it is said that the Pressed Steel Car Company will construct a bridge across the Ohio river, to cost about $350,000.

—At New Kensington, Westmoreland county, it is said that Herman Kaub, civil engineer, of Pittsburg, Pa., has prepared plans for a bridge over the Allegheny river.

—At Butler, Butler county, it is said that the Riter Conley Manufacturing Company, of Pittsburg, has the contract for constructing nine bridges for the Pittsburg and Western Railroad. The estimated cost is $40,000.

—At Falls Creek, Clearfield county, arrangements have been made to erect a large glass factory, to cost about $250,000, for James Fitzpatrick & Company, of New York City. Work on the plant will begin at once.

—At Natrona, Allegheny county, plans have been prepared for a handsome post office building, to be erected at Federal and Vine streets. It will be of brick, well finished throughout, and the second floor will be fitted up for offices.

Architect Notes.

James & Leo, architects, 765 Boulevard, N. Y., have plans for six residences, to be built on 105th street, west of West End avenue. These are to be of brick, and furnished with best modern conveniences. Cost, $150,000.

J. S. Cornell & Son, Girard Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, have plans completed for a residence to be built in the suburbs of this city. It is to be of stone and pebble dash work, three stories high, hard wood on interior, and all modern comforts.

Plans are on the boards at the office of contractor John R. Wiggins, 720 Heed Building, providing for alterations and additions and additions at 1020 Green street, for S. C. Lambert, according to plans made by Architect William J. Macaulay, 730 Chestnut street.

Robert Maynicke, architect, 725 Broadway, N. Y., has made plans for a six-story factory and loft building, on west side of Mercer street, south of Clinton place. It will be 100x200 feet, and built of stone and brick and interior of modern fire-proof construction.

Neville & Bagge, architects, 215 West 125th street, have on boards plans for a seven-story apartment house, with stores on first floor, to be erected for Emily L. Felt, 246 West 100th street, for $275,000. Brick and stone, elevator, electric work, steam heat and all general appliances for comfort.

Bailey & Truscott, architects, 421 Chestnut street, have prepared a full set of drawings for the re-building of the armory of the First City Troop at Twenty-first and Ludlow streets, and these and specifications are now being examined by Commander Groome and the committee in charge of the work.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, are engaged on plans for alterations and additions to house and stable of Captain Jno. O. Foering, at Wynnewood, Pa. These consist of a carriage-shed and bays and new front door, to house, and other detail work. Estimates and drawings to be made at once.

Gladstone Holm, architect, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., has made plans for an M. E. Church, to be erected at Glenside, Pa., for the congregation at that place. The structure will be one story, stone and frame work, slate roof, cement and brick work on interior, hot-air heating, electric work, and hard wood seats, etc.

John F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 North Thirteenth street, have completed plans for quite a large factory building, to measure 32x91 feet, and five stories high. It will be of brick, stone, and iron, slow-burning interior work, and fitted with all improvements, the location and name of owner not given at present.

Geo. Nattress & Son, architects, 430 Walnut street, are taking estimates upon the drawings for the P. E. Church of St. Paul, to be erected at Chester, Pa. Mr. Nattress & Son completed these plans some time ago, and were fully noted in these columns, but directions have now been given to push the work to completion at once.

During the last week estimates have been made on the new Mizpah Presbyterian Church and Sunday-school, to be erected at Eighth and Dailey streets, in the Thirty-ninth Ward. We have frequently noted the structure from plans, as made by Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut streets. Contract will soon be awarded.

David M. Burnham & Co., architects, Chicago, Ill., have completed all the plans for the new Pennsylvania Railroad depot to be erected by that company at Pittsburgh, Pa. It will cover six acres of ground, and be similar in material and construction to others recently built in large cities by the owners. The work is held over until certain legislation has been fixed upon to enable a start.

Clarence True, architect, 459 Boulevard, New York City, is engaged on plans for a seven-story brick and stone front apartment house for J. D. Matthews and E. L. Eppenstein, 459 Boulevard, to be steel, frame and fire-proof construction. Interior to have elevator, steam heat, electric work, marble work, wood mantels, plate glass, best system of plumbing, and all conveniences. Cost about $50,000.

At the monthly meeting of the T-Square Club, a lecture was delivered on the construction of stables by Mr. Walter Bailey of firm of Bailey & Truscott architects. New ideas were evolved in regard to the introduction of sanitary measures, room for health of animals, proper quarters for coachmen, etc. Other interesting matters were discussed by Mr. Bailey, which, upon the whole, proved most entertaining and instructive, and was well received.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, has made plans in full for the group of buildings to be erected in Harrisburg, Pa., for the State Hospital for the Insane, and for which proposals are to be received until April 15th. These structures are to be 540 feet long, and chiefly one large clear story high, of brick and marble, slate roofs, and interior heated by steam, electric work, best of plumbing and conveniences introduced. Considerable heavy iron work will be placed, and the whole rendered absolutely fire-proof.

Plans of Architects W. G. & W. D. Hewitt, providing for the erection of the four story brick and terra cotta trimmed Nurses' Home for the Episcopal Hospital, previously noted in these columns, have been submitted to the Bureau of Building Inspection for approval. The new building will measure 135.4x32.9 feet, and it will be built on Huntingdon street, east of Front street. It is estimated that the work will cost $80,000. The plans for the addition to the stone boiler house on the hospital grounds at Front and Huntingdon streets, to cost $7500, were also submitted for approval. Contractors Thomas Dittie & Son have been awarded the contracts for both jobs.

Frank X. Reilly, architect, 113 South Centre street, Pottsville, Pa., has made plans for a new eight-room school building, to be erected at Williamstown, Dauphin county, Pa., to cost $15,000, to be a brick building, two stories high, with brown stone trimmings, slate roof, complete heating and ventilating system; contract not let. Also, plans for extensive alterations to store and office building in Centre street, including an entire new front of gray brick and stone trimmings. Also, for a block of houses to be erected at Minersville, Pa. Work will be commenced in about a month on a new fire engine house in Pottsville, to be 30x70 two stories high, of brick, apparatus room to be finished with cream-colored brick, and fitted up with all modern improvements, accommodations for horses, etc. Mr. T. H. Knerr has the contract.

Architects Brouse & Arend, 931 Chestnut street, are at work preparing plans for the following work: A five-story frame hotel, to be erected on Second avenue, Asbury Park, N. J., to take the place of the Hotel Windsor, which was destroyed by fire some time ago. The new structure will contain eighty bedrooms, a parlor, reception room, dining room, etc. The materials to be used in finishing the interior consist of hard woods, white and gold, and yellow pine. A number of open fireplaces will be located in proper places, and the building will be heated by steam and lighted by electricity. The work will cost about $25,000. Also, plans for a casino building, to be built near Asbury Park, which will be fitted up for amusement purposes, and cost in the neighborhood of $40,000. The building will contain private bath rooms, for hot and cold sea-water baths, a swim ming-pool, etc. Also, a Baptist orphans' home, to be erected at Asbury Park, at a cost of $8,000. It will be a frame structure, three stories high. Four brick and frame dwellings, to contain eleven rooms, to be built at Trenton, N. J., for W. J. Morris, at a cost of $12,000. The houses will each be two and a-half stories high; also for remodeling and additions at a residence at the same place, to cost about $20,000; owners' name and location withheld for the present. For remodeling the country house and stables at Woodburne, Pa., for J. Howard Marshall. This work will cause an expenditure of about $10,000; also for re-modeling a dwelling at Langhorne, Pa., for Alfred Marshall, to cost $2500.

Allen B. Rorke Secures the Contract.

Allen B. Rorke, has secured the contract for the erection of the exposition (Commercial Museum) building, for $298,000. Some important changes were made in order that the work may be completed within the time specified, August 15th. These consist of brick instead of stone, for the foundations, and wooden trusses in the main building instead of iron. Mr. Rorke advocated this change of material owing to the difficulty in placing orders for structural iron with a certainty of prompt delivery. He also convinced the commissioners that the use of brick for the foundations would greatly expedite the work, as prompt deliveries could be relied on.

Mr. Rorke's prominence for his past successes in the erection of important buildings within specified time limits, together with his many examples of first class work and general reputation for honest work, were no doubt strong factors as well as his bid having been the lowest in securing him the contract.

The question of ability was of even more consideration than price in this instance, for no doubt any reasonable difference would have been ignored, as the time limit was imperative and Mr. Rorke's ability was beyond all question. The bids were as follows:

Allen B. Rorke	$298,000
Charles McCaul	304,793
Girard Construction Company	318,936
Ryan & Kelly	307,000
J. E. & A. L. Pennock	314,481

Boiled Water.

The question has been raised in medical circles as to the healthfulness of boiled water if its use is prolonged for a considerable length of time.

It is held by many medical men that the harmless animalcula which are the zest and life of the water itself, may be an important factor not only in sustaining life but in warding off disease and deterioration. It is even an open question if it is maintained if this natural animal life in water is not after all the invigorating blood and nerve food, without which the human blood would undergo such serious changes as to ultimately cause disease and death.

Bacteriologists have established the fact that the different systems of bacteria prey upon each other and with this end in view the antitoxine treatment was suggested and practiced with more or less success particularly in tetanus or lockjaw.

The question is really one of equilibrium in both the vegetable and animal kingdom and as to water the question resolves itself into how long can the exclusive use of boiled or sterilized water be continued without the equilibrium of nature being disturbed.

Does the animalcula of water prey upon similar and life destroying substances inherent to the human body?

The question is not an unreasonable one by any means and it justly merits the closest scientific investigation, for it is not so many years ago when the raising of figs in California was impossible owing to the destruction of the young fruit by an insect which for years defeated all the efforts of the growers until another insect which fed upon it was imported from the fig growing sections of Europe.

It will be seen from this, at all events, that the water question is assuming new phases, and while our present supply is justly causing alarm enough and disease and death enough, is an escape through boiled water the proper thing after all?

There are thousands of families who are using water from ice or water brought from other sections, but for the poor there seems no escape at present except through boiling.

It would take two years, at least, to construct the proper aqueduct to bring our water from a distance to insure purity, but this seems to be the only way to permanently settle the question. Filtration would prove to be but an expedient however well managed, and again the question arises as to the value of the natural animalcula in water which would certainly be lost if filtration was thoroughly effective.

Architect Notes.

Horace Trumbauer, architect, Land Title and Trust Building, Broad and Chestnut street, has made plans for interior alterations, consisting of new wood work and plaster, at the southeast corner of Twenty-second and Walnut streets, for Michael Ehret, owner. The work will cost $10,000.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The sheriff's sale of real estate which is to take place on Monday, April 3d next, embraces 353 writs, representing 457 pieces of real estate.

Bids are to be taken in the offices of the Board of Port Wardens, Room 350 Bourse Building for dredging docks. Plans and specifications may be seen as above until April 8th.

Wilson R. Ker, builder, is taking bids at his office, 1236 South Fifty-eighth street, for the erection of thirty-one three-story stone and brick dwellings to be built on both sides of Ashland avenue, west of Fifty-eighth street.

William R. Warner & Co., formerly of 1223 Market street, have asked a number of city architects to make competition plans for their new building which they intend erecting upon the site of their recently burned structure.

The Richardson farm at Edge Hill, Montgomery county, has been sold to the Bank of the Republic of Philadelphia. The latter will take charge of the property on April 1st. The authorities who hold the ground are considering the advisability of cutting it up into building lots, conducting a real estate operation somewhat on the plan of "Glenside Farms" and Ogontz Park, owned by Messrs. Elkins and Widener.

An amendment has been tacked on the original bill opening the scope of bidders to all kinds of improved pavement and kinds of asphaltum. An effort to limit the bids to a certain price per square yard will likely give rise to considerable discussion, as such procedure is considered quite an unusual way to secure the best material.

These gentlemen have been retained and will prepare preliminary drawings, to be submitted for consideration by the Commissioners, upon the part of that State. It is too early to indicate just what kind of structure will be erected, or materials used. But sufficient has developed to say that it will be an up-to-date institution when completed.

Yarnall & Goforth, architects, 14 South Broad street, have made plans for a fine country house, to be erected for Messrs. Wendell & Treat, at Devon, Pa., who have awarded Milton W. Young, of Overbrook, the contract. It is to be of frame, stone and brick work, three stories high, shingle roof, hard woods on interior. Henry D. Dagit, architect and engineer, 435 Chestnut street, has completed drawings for the two terminal slips and ferry houses for the Philadelphia and Billingsport Ferry Company. These are to be constructed, one at Billingsport, N. J., upon the site of what was lately Lincoln Park, and the other on this side of the Delaware river, on Old Stone House Farm, and connect with Penrose Ferry. The buildings will be 100x150 feet, one story high, and have slips and bridges, large waiting rooms, toilet rooms, etc. The materials will be of frame and galvanized iron, and the whole fitted with electric light and other conveniences. Mr. Dagit is engaged also on preparation of plans for a full set of parochial buildings, for the Roman Catholic Church of St. Edward, the Confessor, to be erected in the northeast section of this city, and when built will be of stone and brick work, quite ornamental in design, and second to none as to general detail. Mr. Dagit is also retained to prepare preliminary and fixed plans for other work which we shall note at a later date.

During the past week a deal has been made between the Real Estate Trust Company, 342 Chestnut street, and J. Wallace Halliwell, owner of 111-113 South Broad street, whereby the latter gentleman proposes to at once erect upon the site indicated an addition as an office building, to the one now built at Broad and Chestnut streets, and the wing to be erected by the Real Estate Trust Company, on the east, fronting on Chestnut street. Seeler & Roberts, architects, have been retained to prepare plans at once for the structure, which is to be eighteen stories high and will be chiefly of the same materials as the present and prospective buildings. Mr. Halliwell will retain a large portion of the first floor and basement of the new structure for his business, that of fruit merchant, and place in the basement a refrigerating plant. The walls of the rear portion of the present building on the north will be cut through and adapt the system of elevators for both uses. The plans for the new wing upon the east will be placed upon boards of contractors for estimates in a few days, and the detail drawings for the Halliwell end will be pushed as rapidly as possible so as to try to complete both at the same. Both buildings are to be entirely fire-proof in character and in keeping architecturally with the exterior of the building just completed.

"Sour Grapes."

If the facts are as stated in the following communication, signed by "Sour Grapes," they certainly indicate a very unfair condition of affairs existing between some of our general and sub-contractors.

We print the whole of "Sour Grapes'" letter for what it is worth, and while it is not our habit to notice anonymous communications yet it is easy to comprehend that in this instance, at least, it would have been highly impolitic for a sub-contractor to sign his true name whether the conditions exist or otherwise:

PHILADELPHIA, March 20, '99.

MR. JOHN N. GALLAGHER:

DEAR SIR:—Well knowing the interest you take in the welfare of sub-contractors as well as contractors, I write hoping to have your assistance in breaking up the system of auctioneering off sub-contractors. Of course, you know what I mean. A builder is awarded a contract, instead of giving the different branches of work to the men whose figures he used he starts in to offer them anywhere from ten to three or four hundred dollars less than the figures he used. The sub-contractor, who has bid as low as he possibly could at the start, takes the work at less than it would cost to do it right and starts to skin every detail so as to come out square, the only one benefited being the builder; the owner getting a poorer job than he bargained for, which reflects on the architect as he cannot be around the building all the time.

Now I have stated the evil and it lays in the architects' hands to remedy it.

As soon as they award a contract let them hang a list of sub-contractors named in builders' estimates in a conspicuous place in their offices, and then a man can go there and see at once if he has won the job, and if not he won't waste time running after it, but devote that time to hunting up something new.

If you influence the architects in doing this, or any other plan that will answer the purpose, I am sure you would have the hearty thanks of the better class of builders as well as all sub-contractors.

Yours Respectfully,
"SOUR GRAPES."

said a suburbanite to a U. G. I. Co. official.

"I was deeply interested in my law studies—wanted to accomplish just so much that night. Well, the gas commenced to go up, then down, then up, then down—same effect as a flash light on the eyes. I had to stop and go to bed."

"Same thing happened every night for months. Then I got mad, and sent to The U. G. I. Co. Well, they replied in short order, found the trouble, and now I'm all right. It pays to kick, especially when they ask you to."

VOL. XIV.—No. 14.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1899.

$5.00 PER YEAR.

Architect Notes.

William H. Free, architect, has taken offices at 45 North Thirteenth street, formerly in the Lippincott Building, Twelfth and Filbert streets.

Contractor Frank S. Riggs, 338 South Thirteenth street, has taken out a permit to build a two-story buff brick front dwelling, 26x40 feet, at 1801 Cuthbert street, for the Women's Christian Association. Architect B. D. Price made the plans.

S. M. Holden, architect, 81 East 125th street, N. Y., has prepared plans for four flat buildings for Mrs. C. Fusco, care architect. Specifications call for light brick and limestone, iron beams, tin roofs, skylights, tiling, slate mantels, bath room outfits, dumb waiters and gas fixtures; cost $64,000.

Yarnall & Goforth, architects, 14 South Broad street, have made plans for rebuilding 14½ 44 South street, recently destroyed by an explosion and fire. There are to be three stories high, brick, stone trimming, and all modern conveniences on interior. The owner is Eugene Linnard, of Fort Washington, and Contractor D. W. Sperry, 1221 Arch street, will be the builder.

Frank Miles Day & Bro., architects, 925 Chestnut street, has made plans for alterations and additions to the residence of Mrs. W. F. Jenks, Ashbourne, Pa. The specifications call for brick work, cut stone and cement work, carpenter work, painting and plastering, electric work, hardware, etc. Estimates being made in office of Roydhouse, Arey & Co., Master Builders' Exchange.

George F. Pelham, architect, 503 Fifth avenue, N. Y., has completed plans for six five-story and American basement, brick and stone front residences, to be built for Robert Wallace, 28½ Columbus avenue. The work includes light brick and limestone, iron beams, tin roofs, concrete basements, mosaic tiling, ornamental iron, stained glass and steam or hot water heat. To cost about $120,000.

Estimates are being made on plans by L. C. Holden, architect, Union Square, New York City, in office of J. E. and A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut street, for a very large two-story silk mill, to be erected at Norfolk, Va., for the Norfolk Silk Company of that place. Structure will be of brick, stone, and slow-burning construction and tin roof, fitted with steam, electric work, and all conveniences, boiler house, coal pits, etc.

During the current week estimates have been asked and received in office of Frank E. Watson, architect, 1208 Chestnut street, for work, as follows: The rector's house and school building for St. John's Roman Catholic Church, and a large store building for P. J. Hallahan, all located on the site of the late fire at Thirteenth and Market streets.

The specifications are quite varied, and call for considerable brick, iron and stone work, electric work, steam heat, etc.

Herman L. Duhring, architect, 1420 Chestnut street, having finished the plans for the laboratory of hygiene to be erected at the University of Pennsylvania, Thirty-fourth and Locust streets, has placed there for estimate on the boards of William R. Dougherty, 1604 Sansom street. The structure will be 56x58 feet, two stories high, of brick, stone and iron construction, and in keeping with the original building now on the grounds, to which it will be an addition. Previously noted in full.

Mr. Guy King, the well-known architect, of this city, has gone to Havana, Cuba, as consulting engineer and architect for the construction of a large general hospital, to be erected for the Red Cross Society of this city. The intention is to create an institution to care for homeless children and others who may be without the means to care for themselves. A structure will be erected by contribution, and the United States Government will be asked to contribute a site for such building as may be constructed.

Plans have been prepared by Schneider & Herter, architects, Bible House, N. Y., for seven brick and stone-trimmed flat buildings to be erected for Weil & Meyer, 35 Nassau street. The work includes light brick, limestone and structural iron. To cost $210,000. The same architects also report plans for six flat buildings, with stores, for same owners. Construction of light buff brick and limestone, iron columns and beams, tin roofs, skylights, plate glass, wood mantels, mirrors, grille work, bath room outfits, tiling, gas fixtures and steam heat; cost, $135,000.

Plans have been submitted to the building department by Architect Alfred Zucker, of 33 Union Square, N. Y., for a five-story brick club house to be erected at the Northeast corner of 12th street and Seventh avenue, on plot 100 11x125 feet. The owner is Anthony Von Bergen, of Paris. One of the features of the structure will be a grand ball room occupying the third and fourth floors and a banquet hall on the second floor. The first floor will be occupied by a cafe and the balance of the building will be arranged for lodge rooms. The cost is estimated at $150,000.

Architect H. E. Flower, 1217 Filbert street, has finished plans for a handsome four-story residence to be built at 1419 Locust street, for C. Sautter. The house will measure 19 2x25 feet. The first and second floors will contain a parlor, hall, office, library, dining room, pantry and kitchen, and the second floor a sitting room, hall, drawing room, three chambers and a bath room. A large hall, four chambers and two bath rooms will be located on the third floor, and a hall, two chambers and a servants' bath room on the fourth floor. The third and fourth floors will be finished in chestnut, all fitted in hard wood and modern convenience, electric work, best plumbing, range, boiler, etc.

J. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 North Thirteenth street, is making plans for alterations and additions to the Fourth District station-house, at Fifth above Race street; also for the Third District on DeLancey street, below Fourth, and for the Tenth District, Front and Master streets. For this work Councils have appropriated $25,000, which will be expended to the best advantage by Chief of City Property Eisenhower. The work will consist of introducing new dormitories in each, plumbing, closets, steam heat, and electric work; also, many details, arrangements and comforts which have not been enjoyed heretofore. Estimates are now in order, and the work will be pushed rapidly to completion. Same architects have received all bids for the factory of Charles E. Brown, at Vine and Orianna streets, and will announce at an early day the award. Same have made plans for a residence at 814 Perkiomen streets, for Mr. George Golden, owner, front of press brick, brown stone trimmings, and the interior will be in hard wood finish, and every modern convenience. Other work will be noted from this office at an early day.

Witmer & Parry, architects, 1432 South Penn Square, have made plans for a three-story frame and stone Colonial house, to be erected at Wayne, Delaware county, Pa., for Captain D. F. Nichols. It will measure 53x28 feet, and have porches front and sides, interior in hardwoods, parlors, reception halls, dining-rooms, pantry, and kitchen on first floor, and the entire structure will contain all modern comforts and conveniences, decorations in tile and other art work, baths, electric work, ranges, boilers, etc. Also, plans on boards for three other dwellings to be erected along the line of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, about thirty miles from this city. These are two-stories high, frame work, porches, and all modern comforts on interior. Owner's name withheld, and to be noted later. Mr. Witmer has completed plans for a three-story frame residence to be erected at Atlantic City, N. J. Also, for an apartment house, to be built at Columbus, Ohio. The house at Atlantic City, N. J., will be 20x57 feet, and fitted with every convenience. The apartment house will be of brick, laid in Flemish bond, black heads, and interior contains all the most modern improvements.

Any Old Thing.

that wouldn't show dirt, and that would outlast the average life of man was the standard for "first-class" ready-made clothing in Philadelphia, prior to the Centennial.

It was dingy brown, and the other colors which the farmers love, that went into the half made, and ready-made suits and overcoats, even at the stiffest kind of prices, and it was Hobson's choice all of the time.

Its goods were a revelation, as well as an object lesson to local manufacturers. It was the difference between sunshine and shade. The crude work of the country blacksmith, and the sculptors art in bronze. The idea of poetry and sentiment expressed in door locks and knobs was an inspiration, a passion. It was just the difference between the manners of a long-shore man and a Chesterfield, or a Bayard, or the learning of a Ceiighton and a plantati n slave.

Is it any wonder that the Russell & Erwin hardware is preferred over all other makes? Buy it! Try it, and you will use no other.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, APL. 5, 1899.

THE selection of William C. Haddock, by Mayor Ashbridge, as Director of Public Works, can be regarded as a good omen by the people of this city, for it not only indicates that the new Mayor still retains his well known partiality for capable and brainy men in public office, but it also shows that he is keenly alive to the idea of filling this important office, with a man big enough for the place.

Mr. Haddock is no stranger to the building interests of this city. His record as Chief of the Bureau of Building Inspection is of the highest order, for his ability is conceded by everyone who has had business to transact with that department.

Mr. Haddock is the author of the present building law, which was passed June 7, 1893, and which has been generally accepted as a great improvement upon the old and more intricate law, which it superseded. He was appointed Chief of the Bureau on April 1, 1894, and his diligence and ability, together with his plain and unassuming manners, not only won for him the encomiums from every quarter, but made the department itself a model for effective work.

It is indeed fortunate that the proposed water supply improvements, of whatever character, or however great or small, will be done under the supervision and direction of Mr. Haddock. His experience as a builder will give him many important advantages in protecting the interests of the city, regardless of the work involved.

If the Master Builders' Exchange, of this city, with its uniform good management and well established reputation for efficiency was in any other big city in America, its walls would represent an area entirely too limited to meet the demand for both membership in the organization and space in its exhibition department.

The thrift of the Master Builders' Exchange is the natural result of the energy of its managers, consisting of men of large foresight and business ability, who have for years been at the head of progressive business establishments. At present in charge of the exhibition department are Messrs. Charles Gillingham, John S. Stevens, J. S. Thorne, A. A. Reeves and A. J. Slack, all of whom have acquired in a conspicuous degree, an extended reputation for business success; but, while it is in the province of these men to guide and direct the affairs connected with the exhibition of practical and useful essentials identified with the erection of buildings, they would be unable to reach the present high standard for this department, were it not for the masterly management of its superintendent, Mr. Wm. H. Matthews, who with a keen appreciation of the wants and aims of exhibitors, as well as the comfort and wishes of visitors has made the Exchange such a feature, that it is now regarded as one of the prominent attractions of our city. In fact, no better evidence of this self-same managerial efficiency can be cited than the record of visitors, which shows that one hundred and fifteen thousand visitors in 1893 examined the products of industry, merchandise and building materials exhibited on the floors.

Exhibitors now crowd the lower floors with their wares and specialties, and the exhibit is made doubly attractive by the representatives of many firms, whose business it is to explain the articles in their charge, and take orders for the same, exhibitors being furnished office and desk room without cost. The incorporation of these new ideas tends to make this aggregation just what it is to-day, one of the most important and leading features of the industrial metropolises.

On the 28th of March, the new president of the Master Builders' Exchange, for the first time presided at the quarterly session held at that time, and proved himself no novice in executive ability. After a few eloquent remarks as to the policy to be pursued during the current year, and hopes expressed as to the outcome of earnest endeavor upon the part of all interested in the success of the organization, Mr. Atkinson introduced Mr. Thomas Armstrong, a member of the firm of the Conkling-Armstrong Terra Cotta Company, who are members of the Exchange, who gave a most delightful illustrated description of his travels abroad, lecturing for more than two hours and a half upon the varied scenes and incidents that came under his observation. The audience were in no sense disappointed, for throughout the Exchange Mr. Armstrong is well known for his forensic ability upon the rostrum, and all were sorry when the end came. A vote of thanks was tendered the gentleman, with a hope expressed silently, that he may soon be heard from again as a lecturer.

The genial, Colonel James T. Davis, has kindly favored us with a copy of Davis' Architects and Builders' Directory, of Pennsylvania for 1899.

The work, as a book for ready reference, is invaluable, it is the result of pains-taking effort on the part of the brainy publisher; for be it known that the Colonel is the Davis who has captured many valuable premiums from the "Philadelphia Inquirer," for the quickest and best solution of many of its most difficult and complicated geographical and other problems. The book sells for $2.00, to be had of the Jas. T. Davis Co., Limited, 208 South Fourth street.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

William Steele & Son, 506 Walnut street, are taking estimates for erecting a four story brick and iron factory, 43½ by 111 feet; a one-story foundry, 50 feet square and a cistern, at the Miller Lock Company's plant, Frankford.

William H. Albertson has the contract to plaster the entire lot of Commercial Exposition Buildings, for which Mr. Allen B. Rorke, as general contractor, has broken ground, and is already preparing for the foundation work.

Operative Builder, W. S. P. Shields has taken title to 37 8-100 acres of ground on the southeast side of Woodland avenue, 114.10½ feet northeast of Forty-sixth street, from Edward H. Rowley, for the consideration of $20,500.

Operative builder Charles J. Heckler will put up eighteen two-story brick dwellings on Indiana avenue, east of Twenty-first street, at an estimated cost of $23,600. This is a continuation of his present operation in that neighborhood.

Lawyer Alexander H. Scott, representing unknown parties, was the purchaser at the auction sale on Tuesday, the 28th inst., of the two Wister lots at the northwest corner of Broad and Green streets and Fifteenth and Mount Vernon streets. Mr. Scott is said to be one of the Wister heirs. The owner's name will not be announced until the transfer has been placed upon record.

The Belmont Iron Works, of this city, has been awarded the contract to furnish the steel work for the new pier to be built at the foot of Pennsylvania avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., for the Auditorium Pier Company. This work was described in these columns some time ago, when the plans of Architects Spencer Roberts and George U. Rehffuss were placed on the boards for estimates.

Camden councils have made overtures by passing favorable ordinances, to the New York Shipbuilding Company, in order to encourage their locating a plant along the Delaware river, with their city limits. The feature of their offer is no increasing of tax on the present unimproved property, indicated as Tilton, Barclay and New Jersey Ferry Company, lots 2575 river front, and 70 acres on Cooper Creek.

It is announced that the American Exchange National Bank, now located at the Northeast corner of Broadway and Cedar street, N. Y., will erect a modern bank and office building on the plot it now occupies, which has a Broadway frontage of 20 feet, a rear of 60 and a depth along Cedar street, of 100 feet to the Clearing House property. The bank, pending its building operation, will occupy the southerly portion of the first floor of the Bored Building, formerly occupied by the German American Insurance Company.

be one story high, 75 feet wide, and 504 feet long, with an iron upper deck 64 feet in width and 140 feet long. A bridge will be built across Delaware avenue, with stairways leading to the sidewalks on each side in order to protect women and children from possible danger due to the heavy traffic along the river front. The contract price for this work is $85,500, and it will be rushed through to completion as rapidly as possible. Noted in full in these columns during 1898.

Contractor Isaac K. Pierson, 7130 Germantown avenue, has been awarded contracts for $10,500 worth of work at Mt. Airy. The work will include a three-story sandstone front dwelling, on the lot, at the southeast corner of Allen's Lane and Mower street. This house will have a slate and tin covered mansard roof and bay windows on the sides. He will also build a two-story sandstone front stable, in the rear of the dwelling. The house and stable will be built for Mr. M. A. Andeeykovicz, owner. The other job consists of the erection of a two-story stone addition, to M. C. S. North's residence, at 7301 Boyer street.

The Reading Railway has awarded contracts for two iron bridges between Port Clinton and Drehsville, on the line of the Little Schuylkill Railroad, which is being double-tracked, to Charles Nolan and the Pencoyd Iron Works. The former will build the substructures, and the latter the superstructures. One of the bridges will be a single track, 104 3 feet long, paralleling an existing bridge, and the other a double-track bridge of four spans, with a length of 202.3 feet. The company also awarded a contract for the erection of an office building, stable and scale sit at Thirteenth and Callowhill streets, to Ryan & Kelley, contractors of this city.

Conrad F. Clothier, Jr., Thomas A. Burrows and George H. Johnson, all of Philadelphia, are the incorporators of the Philadelphia Railway Track Equipment Company, capitalized at $500,000, articles for incorporation of which were filed at Trenton, N. J., on Tuesday last. One of the incorporators admitted that some prominent manufacturers of this city were back of the deal, but said that as yet no definite steps had been taken or plans laid for the immediate future. Offices will be opened in this city as soon as details can be arranged, and it is not improbable that a plant of considerable size may be added to this city's list of industries.

Mr. William C. Haddock, the new Director of Public Works, will on April 11 receive and open bids for two new pumps at the Roxborough Pumping Station, for which there is $100,000 available. The specifications for these pumps were made by Director Thompson some time ago, but that official refrained from taking any steps further than to advertise for proposals on account of his term about expiring. These pumps will each have a capacity of 5,000 gallons daily, and will be of the independent compound condensing variety. The bottoms of each will be twenty feet, the diameter of the pumping main thirty inches, and the steam pressure 150 pounds to the square inch.

Extensive improvements are to be made to two old Roman Catholic churches that will make them practically new and very handsome. The Church of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Spring Garden street, below Twelfth, has recently undergone many improvements, and others are contemplated, all to follow rapidly, in order to have them completed in time for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the dedication of the church. The present main altar, which is of wood, will be replaced by one of white marble, which is now being made in Italy. It is to be Gothic in style, so as to conform to the architecture of the church. St. Malachy's Church, Eleventh street, above Master, will also undergo radical changes. It is proposed to erect an entire new front of stone with a belfry. The whole interior is also to be improved and renovated. A parish meeting was held during last week to decide upon methods for securing the necessary subscriptions.

The Joint Committees on Law and Legislation of the Trades League have adopted the following resolution, and sent copies to each member of the State Legislature: "Whereas, An Act (H. R. No. 350) has been introduced into the State Legislature providing that 'no ordinance for the sale of real estate or for a lease or contract covering more than five years, or for granting a franchise shall be operative in any city until it shall have been approved by a majority of the voters if such approval be demanded within sixty days by three thousand voters, or by a number equal to five per centum of the total votes cast at the last preceding election, and providing for the submission of such ordinances to the voters at general or special elections; therefore, be it Resolved, By the Committees on Law and Legislation of the Trades League of Philadelphia that we heartily endorse the above-named bill, and respectfully urge upon

The work of improving the tract of three hundred acres that comprise League Island Park, formerly known as the meadows, will soon be commenced, and the operation will be pushed as rapidly as possible, in order to enable a portion of the site to be fitted up in time for use during the summer. Chiefs Eisenhower and Webster, of the Bureau of City Property and Surveys, respectively, have held several conferences recently, in regard to the proposed improvement, and specifications are now being prepared for the preliminary work, to carry out the suggestions of the landscape architects, whose elaborate plans were selected recently from those submitted among the competitive designs, and for which two prizes, one for $750 and the other $250, were offered and paid by the city. The entire tract is cut up with ditches, and the preliminary work to be performed will consist almost entirely of grading and filling. An effort will be made to push this operation, so as to provide for the immediate use of some of the sections. Chief Eisenhower has available the sum of $25,000, all of which, if not more, will be required for the grade and filling. An effort will be made to secure from Councils next year a large appropriation, so that the plans can be carried into effect and when the Park is completed it will, without doubt, be one of the handsomest resorts of its kind in the world.

In the closing hours of the last council's sessions, ordinances and bills as follows, were concurred in, and by the signature of the Mayor, Charles Warwick, will become laws, to purchase the lot of ground, 324 feet, on Hunting Park avenue, 308 feet on Luzerne street, 144 feet on Seventeenth street and 95 feet on Wayne avenue, Thirty-eighth ward, for $25,000 for school purposes. John C. Bell, counsel for Haney & White, in a letter, offered a lot, rectangular in form for the same price. Authorizing the purchase of a lot on the south side of Glenwood avenue, between Frankford avenue and Coral street, for $25,000 for school purposes. Authorizing the purchase of a lot adjoining the Megargee School, Nineteenth ward, 36 by 89 feet, for $10,000. Authorizing the purchase of a lot on the southeast corner of Twentieth and Pemberton streets, Thirtieth ward, 18 by 65 feet, for $7500, for patrol purposes. To condemn the properties 1140 and 1142 Dunton street for school purposes. To authorize the purchase of a lot bounded by Ontario,

Howard and Waterloo streets, Thirty third
purposes. Requesting an opinion on the legality of the ordinance for the protection of sub-contractors. Authorizing the opening of Rising Sun avenue, from Tioga to Fifth street, as widened on the city plan. Resolutions repeating the requests made July 13 1895, and June 10, 1897, for a list of all suits pending or brought by the city against persons or corporations for the recovery of indebtedness due the city, and requesting a reason why the information has not been heretofore furnished. To compel bidders on building or altering city property to be qualified residents of the city. Also the $2,000,000 repaving ordinance, which names the streets on which the money set aside by the $11,200,000 loan for repaving small streets with improved pavements, on a concrete base, shall be expended. In addition to the repaving, it authorizes the construction of sewers and the relaying of water pipe. The amendment put on the bill by common council, limiting the price to be paid for asphalt paving, was stricken out. Also the ordinance to amend the ordinance provided for the abolition of grade crossings on the line of the Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad. The amended ordinance provides for a connection by way of Lehigh avenue with the River Front Railroad, and appropriates $900,000 to pay for the entire work. It authorizes a grade crossing on the line of the connected road, at the foot of an inclined plane leading from the main line, at Lehigh avenue and Cedar street. Another important measure concurred in was the bill to authorize the opening of the widened Delaware avenue, from Vine to Green street. This is the next step in the Delaware avenue improvement, now nearing completion, between Vine and South streets. To authorize the necessary work of regrading, repaving and resetting of curb, etc., to bring Chatham street, from Clearfield to Wellington street, and Almond and Mercer street, from Wellington to Westmoreland street, to the estab-

$8100.

Architect Notes.

Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut street, are taking estimates on the plans for alterations and additions to 707-709 Arch street, for Henry C. Lea, owner. It will be seven stories high when completed, and 50x200 feet deep, brick, with stone trimmings, plate glass, elevators, electric work, steam heat, and all modern conveniences introduced.

Yarnall & Goforth, architects, 14 South Broad street, have just completed plans for a very fine country house to be erected at Ogontz for William F. B. Roberts, the well-known builder, whose offices are in the Land Title Building, Broad and Chestnut. These have been previously noted, and estimates are being made on the work in offices of Walter B. Kohl & Co., room 314 No. 14 South Broad street.

R. G. Vandervoort, architect, 110 Pennsylvania avenue, Allegheny, Pa., is preparing plans for a colonial dwelling for Wm. E. Marquis, of that city. It will be of brick, with stone trimmings, hot water heat, best plumbing, and all conveniences, etc. The house will be built on Thomas street, Bellevue, Pa. Also, plans by same architect for a seven roomed dwelling, of frame and modern comforts on interior on Somerset street, Allegheny, Pa.

Field & Medary, architects, 1414 South Penn Square, have been retained to prepare drawings for a fine stone house, to be erected on West School Lane for Mr. Aschenbach, of Germantown. It will be a two-and-a-half story building, 60x33 feet, colonial in style, front and side porches, interior in various hard woods and floors well laid out in suites and single rooms, hot-air heaters, ranges and boiler for kitchen, cement cellar, baths and toilets, wardrobes, and all the latest comforts will be introduced, including electric fixtures and bells. Same architects are busy upon some larger plans for work, which we shall note in future.

We learn from Mr. Frank R. Watson, architect, for preparation of plans for the new school building and parochial house for St. John's Roman Catholic Church, that the contract for the two structures has been let to Charles McCaul, of No. 10 North Eleventh street, who will begin work at once. The drawings for the rebuilding of the church by the same architect, are being pushed to completion and before long may be looked for upon tables for estimate. The entire work will be done under the direct supervision of Mr. Watson. Other work in this office will be noted when some minor details have been agreed upon.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut streets, will prepare plans for the New Infirmary

Building, to be erected at the Montgomery County Almshouse, near Norristown, Pa. The structure will be of either local stone or brick, slate roof. It will be 12x108 feet in area, and blue marble trimmings. Interior will be fitted for steam heat, electric work, best plumbing, and all late conveniences. It is expected that estimates will be asked at once upon the work. In the same office bids are being asked on an addition to Carr's Laundry, at Fifteenth street and Columbia avenue. The addition will be upon an iron skeleton inside. Other work in course of preparation, and will be noted later.

The plans for the Pennsylvania State Insane Asylum at Harrisburg, Pa., by Addison Hutton, architect, 40 Chestnut street, have been on boards of contractors for estimate during the last week, as previously noted in these columns. It is expected the Commission will examine all and award the contract at once. It will be a winged structure, with an executive connection in centre, two stories, and a basement clear through, and will have a slate roof. Interior will contain all modern improvements, including steam heat, electric work, best system of ventilation, laundries, kitchen ranges, cement work in basement, and exterior as well, plate and other glass for windows and doors, special control of water and steam supply, etc.

Thomas Stephens, architect, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., has awarded to George Bachmann, contractor, of 19 Arlington street, of that city, the contract to erect the New Central Trust Company's building, at Fifth and Federal streets. Mr. Stephen informs us that he will soon be ready to receive estimates on the interior fittings for this structure, which will consist of vaults, mahogany office trimmings, etc. The same architect has on boards plans for a house for George Bilson, to be erected at Third and Elm streets, Camden. It will be of brick and marble, three stories, plate glass, hard wood, hot water heat, electric work, range, boiler and all the latest and best accommodations are in the specifications. Mr. Stephens has orders for a number of other operations which we shall note later.

H. E. Flower, 1217 Filbert street, architect, has finished drawings for a handsome three-story house which he proposes to build for himself on the west side of Broad street, south of Ontario street. The house will measure 20x73 feet, and the exterior walls will be constructed of brick and stone. There will be a front porch and corner bay windows on the second and third floors, and a bay window in the dining room and the chamber immediately over it. The first floor will contain a parlor, hall, dining room and kitchen; second, a sitting room, hall, two chambers and a bath room; third, four chambers, a hall and a bath room. The interior will be finished as follows: Parlor in white and gold; dining room in oak; kitchen in chestnut; sitting room in oak, and the chambers in chestnut. The bath rooms will have tiled floors and ceilings. There will be an open fire place in the hall on the first floor.

George F. Pelham, architect, 503 Fifth avenue, N. J., has designed plans for a seven-story apartment building to be erected for Zimmerman & Valente, 1804 Madison avenue. Exterior construction will be of light brick, limestone and terra cotta, and the work will include structural iron, tin roof, skylight, marble wainscoting and washstands, ornamental iron and brass work, stained glass, enameled bathtubs, elevators, electric light and steam heat. Estimated cost $110,000. Mr. Pelham has plans also for a light brick, terra cotta and stone trimmed apartment house, to be built for James W. Wimpie, 1635 Madison avenue. The improvements include mosaic tiled floors, marble work, ornamental iron and brass, plate and stained glass, wood mantels, mirrors, grille work, bathroom outfits, tiling, nickel-plated plumbing, electric light and elevator and steam heat, at a cost of $55,000.

The plans of Architect H. L. Durning, 1420 Chestnut street, Crozier Building, providing for the new amphitheatre and laboratory of hygiene, to be built for the University of Pennsylvania, at Thirty-fourth and Locust streets, are on the boards for estimates at the office of Contractors Doyle & Doak. The work must be completed by July 29th. The new buildings were described in this column some time ago. The specifications provide for stone masonry, brick, terra cotta, cement, lumber and carpenter, mill, sheet metal, and iron work, and plastering, roofing, plumbing and gas fitting, painting and glazing, hardware, etc. Heating, lighting and leaded glass contracts will not be let at present. Mr. Durning has also made plans for alteration of an old farm house, at Chestnut Hill, for Geo. C. Thomas, and has awarded the contract to H. R. Bickings, of that place. In the same office are the plans of Architect Thomas P. Lonsdale. These provide for alterations to the front of the Twentieth Street Methodist Episcopal Church, at the northeast corner of Twentieth and Jefferson streets, and for a new building to be connected with the church. The new structure will be two stories high and it will be built on the lot east of the church. It will have fronts on Jefferson and Opal streets. The first floor will contain three class rooms, a large stair hall and infants' room; while on the second floor will be located a committee room. Epworth League quarters and the pulpit and chair balcony. Estimates for stone, carpenter, lumber and iron work, and hardware, roofing, gas fitting, plastering, painting and glazing.

Any Old Thing.

that wouldn't show dirt, and that would outlast the average life of man was the standard for "first-class" ready-made clothing in Philadelphia, prior to the Centennial.

It was dingy brown, and the other colors which the farmers love, that went into the half-made, and ready-made suits and overcoats, even at the stiffest kind of prices, and it was Hobson's choice all of the time.

Any old thing, in the way of black iron building hardware had to go, and did go, before the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Co., opened shop in Philadelphia.

Its goods were a revelation, as well as an object lesson to local manufacturers. It was the difference between sunshine and shade. The crude work of the country blacksmith, and the sculptors art in bronze. The idea of poetry and sentiment expressed in door locks and knobs was an inspiration, a passion. It was just the difference between the manners of a long-shore man and a Chesterfield, or a Bayard, or the learning of a Coughton and a plantation slave.

Is it any wonder that the Russell & Erwin hardware is preferred over all other makes? Buy it! Try it, and you will use no other.

BENJ. F. TELLER, secretary of the Hebrew Charity Ball Association, reports that the net proceeds of the ball, held on February 7, 1899, amounted to the sum of $18,343.50, and that Alfred Curtin Hirsch, treasurer of the association, has distributed the sum of $1,975.00 among various charitable organizations and the balance of $16,368.50 among the following: To the Jewish Hospital Association, $5,237.92; to the United Hebrew Charities, $5,074.23; to the Jewish Foster Home and Orphan Asylum, $4,910.55; to the Orphans' Guardians, $1,145.80.

Important Sale of Fine Paintings

It is doubtful if, in the history of the auction business in this city, there has been a sale of fine paintings, representing in numbers as well as the high characters of the artists, the same importance as that now being held by Thomas & Sons in their art gallery, 1519 and 1521 Chestnut street.

Indeed, there is such an array of exquisite paintings to be sold by order of the executor of an estate that the better part of two weeks will be necessary to complete the catalogue, in consequence of which the sale will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week and Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Mr. Bare, the manager for Messrs. Thomas & Sons, informs us that the collection represents an investment of over a quarter million of dollars, as the old masters are not only largely represented, but the framing in most instances is in exquisitely carved Florentine work, representing in itself a heavy expenditure.

Every picture will be sold without reserve, and the collection contains many costly gems.

Architect Notes.

John Flynn, architect, Narberth, Pa., has made plans for a large laundry for St. Joseph's Hospital, at Reading, Pa. It will be of brick and stone, two stories, and fitted with all late accommodations, etc.

James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut street, has prepared plans for an entirely new band stand, to be erected at Woodside Park. It is to cost about $10,000, and built of stone, brick and frame work.

Spencer Roberts, architect, Harrison Building, has made plans for a two-story stable at Overbrook for David Pearson. It will be brick and pebble-dashed work, and will contain all modern conveniences. Estimates are being taken by the architect.

Ludlow & Valentine, architects, 100 Broadway, N. Y., report drawings on the boards for the following work: Carriage house, 35x42 feet, and a gardener's cottage, with plumbing, etc., to be erected for Mr. William P. Allen, Harrison, N. Y.; alterations to residence of Robert L. Maitland, Esq., Sea Bright, N. J. Architect Charles M. Burns, 717 Walnut street, has plans for alterations and additions to No. 117 North Seventh street. In the specifications sub-contractors are notified that the contract for work is made with the understanding that no lien, incumbrance or any claim shall be filed by any contractor or sub-contractor for the work or material.

Architects C. W. Bolton & Co., Witherpoon Building, are at work preparing plans for a three-story brown stone front dwelling, to be built at 1604 Allegheny avenue, for William Beury. The house will be fitted up with hard woods, and contain the latest improvements. Same architects have on boards other plans, which will be noted as they develop.

Plans for a new hotel have been filed with the Building department by Architects Howard, Cauldwell & Morgan, 10 East Twenty-third street, N. Y., acting for Francis Kinney. The hotel will be twelve-story, fire-proof building, occupying the northwest corner of Fifty-sixth street and Madison avenue. Work will begin as soon as plans have been approved. The hotel will be of limestone and brick, in the Renaissance style, and will cost about $250,000.

Stearns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, Twelfth street, above Chestnut, have on boards plans for a very fine club house, to be erected at Tacony, for the Tacony Club, of which Mr. Thomas South is president. It will be three stories high, Pompeian brick, granite base, slate roof, with a very ornamental loggia at the top in front. Also, one on the side equally beautiful in finish, with columns and fancy windows. The porch also will be massive in stone and brick work. The interior will be in hard wood, and fitted with every convenience, including electric work, steam heat, finest of plumbing, baths, showers, etc. Basement will contain pool-room, shooting-gallery, as well as bicycle storage, etc. The first floor will be divided in office, parlors, library, reading-room; second will have smoking room, billiard-room, and parlors for reception, whilst the third will be made a ball-room with general outfit. Same architects are retained to prepare plans for a church to be erected at Broad street and Allegheny avenue for a Presbyterian Church. The building materials and general details not agreed upon.

Also, plans for twelve Broad street residences to be built at Tioga street and the above-named thoroughfare. These are for E. S. Radly, the well-known builder and owner, and are to be of cut stone and Pompeian brick, hard wood, tile work, finest of plumbing, hot air, heat, and all the latest and best comforts on interior.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The John Baizley Iron Works has been awarded contracts to build fire escapes at Porter & Dickey's mill, at Howard and Norris streets, and at the hall building, at Richmond and Neff streets.

William Jackson, of Atlantic City, has awarded the contract for extensive interior alterations and the construction of bay windows on the first and second floors, at 1732 Green street, to Contractor Joseph Bird, of this city.

Contractor Joseph Bird will build the five-story factory 33.4x81 feet, at the southeast corner of Spring and Clifton streets. Six frame buildings on the site will be torn down, and a permit for the work will be granted as soon as the plans submitted are approved.

Estimates are being made in Chief Eisenhower's office, room 130, Public Buildings on a bath house, and alterations and additions to several police stations after plans by J. F. Stuckert & Son, architects, 49 North Thirtieth street and fully noted previously in these columns.

The Electric Storage Battery Company has awarded the contract for the erection of two one-story brick, iron and wood additions, 56x168 and 56x10 feet, at the southwest corner of Nineteenth street and Allegheny avenue, to Contractors Macey, Henderson & Co. The work will cost $15,000.

It is altogether likely that the Gas Works at Twenty-third and Market streets will soon be put up for sale by Mayor Ashbridge, as the property has been abandoned by the United Gas Improvement Company. We are informed that definite action has not as yet been taken as to disposition of the property.

Contractor Lewis Havens, Girard Building, has made all arrangements to begin work in the course of a couple of weeks on the construction of two additional stories to the mill at Twenty-fourth and Hamilton streets, to cost in the neighborhood of $28,000, for E. H. Godshalk. The additions will measure 55x300 feet.

Magistrate John B. Lukens, Bernard J. Divine, A. M. Johnston and Walter Butterworth have been appointed a committee by the Tom Reed Republican Club, of the Thirty-third Ward, with headquarters at Broad and Butler streets, to consider the purchase of the handsome, fourteen-room residence of ex-Councilman R. Cortland Horr, on Broad street, above Germantown avenue. The committee has reported favorably upon the purchase, and it is expected the club at their next meeting will consummate the deal. The house, if purchased, will undergo extensive alterations, and will be fitted up for the club headquarters.

There will be five separate buildings, each three stories high and on each floor a suite of five rooms. The fronts of the structures will be buff brick, with granite trimmings, steam heat and all modern conveniences.

—An attractive dwelling will be erected at 1628 P street for Joseph P. Birch from plans prepared by L. Norris. It will be three-stories high with a well-finished basement of press brick, stone trimmings, hard wood finish on the lower floor, with the exception of the parlor which will be finished in white and gold, the upper floors will have painted wood finish. The contract has been let to C. A. Langley.—Plans have been prepared by B. S. Simmons, Warder Building, for a five-story brick building owned by R. H. Harper and will be used as headquarters for the police and fire department. The cost including steam heating and electric work will be about $25,000.—It is said that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will erect a new Union Station and abolish its grade crossings. W. H. Brown, Chief Engineer, Philadelphia, has the matter in charge. The company so it is reported will replace old Long Bridge with a steel bridge, costing about $1,000,000.—It is reported that James S. Hill, of Washington, will prepare the plans for the new government printing office, for which $2,000,000 has been appropriated by Congress.

Architect Notes.

Thomas Bennett, architect, late of 907 Walnut street, has opened a fine suite of offices, at 1022 Walnut street, where he will be better prepared for the work incident to increase in business. Mr. Bennett has on boards several fine projects which will be noted at an early date.

Architectural honors have just been awarded at the University for a frontispiece drawing by first year special students, and by the sophomores. H. G. Jory received the special mention, and sophomore mentions were secured by T. Oakley, first; W. T. Karcher, second; C. C. Page and L. Smith, third.

Architects Field & Medary, 1414 South Penn Square, will make he plans for the new stone edifice for the North Presbyterian Church, to be built at Broad street and Allegheny avenue. They will also make drawings for a two-and-one-half story colonial residence for Mr. Aschenbach, on West School lane, Germantown.

Contractor George C. Dietrich, 937 North Seventh street, has been awarded the contract for the creation of the Billingsport and Philadelphia ferry houses. One single slip ferry, including waiting rooms, etc. to be built at Lincoln Park, having a frontage of eighty two feet and a depth of one hundred feet. The other one, which is a double slip ferry, will be built at Hogg Island, with a frontage of 112 feet and a depth of 100 feet. The work will cost $35,000. H. D. Dagitt, 435 Chestnut street, is the architect. Previously noted.

Architects Horenburger & Straub, 122 Rowery, New York, have plans on the boards for four brick and stone flat buildings, with stores, to be erected for Louis J. Levy, 205 East Broadway. The work includes iron columns and beams, tin roofs, best plumbing, bath and laundry fixtures and all conveniences; cost, $115,000. The same firm have plans also for a double brick and stone flat building, with stores, to be built for I. & S. Michaelson 139 Avenue D. The operation calls for brick and stone, iron columns and beams and tin roof; cost, $45,000.

Architect T. Frank Brown, 460 Mechanic street, Germantown, has just completed plans for a pair of eight-room houses for P. J. McLaughlin, to be erected on Atlington avenue, Chestnut Hill. The dwellings will contain all modern conveniences. He also has on the boards plans for a large store and dwelling, to be erected on Magnolia avenue, Germantown, for William Copestick. It will measure 20x60 feet, have a Pompeian brick front, trimmed with Indiana limestone, and will be finished throughout in hardwoods, with tiled vestibule and bath and all conveniences.

W. H. Whittall, architect, 123 East Twenty-third street, New York City, has made plans and Contractor John R. Wiggins, 1217 Filbert street, is taking estimates for the construction of a seven-story brick and limestone triangular-shaped addition to the Parkside apartment house, at the northwest corner of Fortieth street and Parkside and Girard avenues. It will conform in architecture to the present building and will go up in the rear. The first six stories will contain handsomely-appointed suites of rooms, and the seventh floor a ballroom and banqueting hall. The addition will be erected on the iron skeleton plan.

After quite an animated competition for plans for the new college building, to be erected by the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital, at the northwest corner of Seventeenth and Cherry streets, we learn that Mr. Herman Miller, architect, won the prize, and will at once prepare the detail drawings. Mr. Miller's office is in the Witherspoon Building, Walnut and Juniper streets. The height of the structure is not definitely settled, but it will be about five or six stories, terra cotta, brick and iron work, fire-proof materials on interior, and fitted with elevator, electric work, best system of plumbing, steam heat, and every modern and scientific improvement, making it a model institution of learning.

Architects Macomb & Calvert Real Estate Trust Building, this city, are at work on drawings providing for alterations and additions to the Columbian foundry at Hainesport, N. J., for the Ronalds Johnson Company. This work will consist of enlarging the foundry and the construction of engine and boiler rooms. They have also completed plans for a new three-story and basement warehouse, 36x76 feet, to be built at Moorestown, N. J. for H. W. Doughten. The work on the construction of the organ case of black walnut and pine, chair stalls of black walnut, and the vestry, at the Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, at Moorestown, N. J., is rapidly nearing completion. The above-named architects made the plans for the latter job.

Architects E. P. Brink & Son, Stephen Girard Building, of this city, have finished plans for a thirteen-story, thoroughly fire-proof hotel building, which it is proposed to build on Main street between Genesee and Mohawk streets, Buffalo, N. Y. The drawings can be seen at the office of the Girard Construction Company, Witherspoon Building. The new building will be of steel frame construction, and the exterior walls will be built of red terra cotta. No wood will be used in the structure, and the specifications provide for ice machine and laundry fixtures, marble and tile work, plumbing, painting and glazing, heating, lighting, etc. The Girard Construction Company also has plans on the boards for an ordnance storehouse, which will be built at Fort Hancock, N. J.

A course of three lectures on 'Greek Architecture and Its Literature' will be given by Frank Miles Day, at the Free Library of Philadelphia, No. 1221 Chestnut street, at 8 o'clock Wednesday evenings, April 19, 26 and May 8, 1899. The lecture will be illustrated by the lantern and by many important works recently purchased by the library. These lectures will all be free, and no cards of admissions will be required, although no persons under the age of fifteen years will be admitted. The first lecture to be delivered Wednesday evening, April 19 will be of an introductory character, and will embrace a general survey of the literature of Greek architecture. The pre-Homeric architecture will be considered in the Mycenaean Tiryns and Troy types, while in the early Doric style temple groups in Magna Graecia, Selinus, Paestum and Akrajas will be shown. The color decoration will be as employed in Greek buildings.

Messrs. Seeler & Roberts, architects, Real Estate Trust Building, Broad and Chestnut streets, have placed for estimate the plans for the First Baptist Church, structure to be erected at the southeast corner of Seventeenth and Sansom streets. The drawings are on the boards of Jacob Myres & Sons, Juniper and Sansom streets also Doyle & Doak, 1509 Sansom street, and other contractors. They contemplate an ornamental structure, to be built of Holmesburg granite, Port Deposit granite, or other material, and contractors are making estimate for all; the building committee of the church to decide which will be accepted after the bids are in. In dimensions the church will be 95 feet on Seventeenth street by 148 feet on both Sanson and Moravian streets. The main entrance will be on Seventeenth street, through three large arched doorways of Holmesburg granite. Small towers will be erected at each end and a large dome will occupy the centre of the roof. This dome is to be of iron and terra cotta construction, while the roof will be of glazed tile, the whole to be surmounted by a spire, with a cross at the apex. The first floor will contain the auditorium, with pulpit and choir stall, business, lecture, and class rooms. The second floor will comprise the galleries, pastor's study and reception-room, Sunday school-room, class rooms and library. The third floor will be devoted to class-rooms, serving-rooms, kitchen, lavatory, etc. The basement will contain the gymnasium, guild-rooms, robing-rooms, store-rooms, lavatory and heating apparatus, steam heat, electric work, considerable cement work, baptistry, hard wood seating and other finish, library fittings finest of upholstery in pews and chance. Any Old Thing.

that wouldn't show dirt, and that would outlast the average life of man was the standard for "first-class" ready-made clothing in Philadelphia, prior to the Centennial.

It was dingy brown, and the other colors which the farmers love, that went into the half-made, and ready-made suits and overcoats, even at the stiffest kind of prices, and it was Hobson's choice all of the time.

Any old thing, in the way of black iron building hardware had to go, and did go, before the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Co., opened shop in Philadelphia.

Its goods were a revelation, as well as an object lesson to local manufacturers. It was the difference between sunshine and shade. The crude work of the country blacksmith, and the sculptors art in bronze. The idea of poetry and sentiment expressed in door locks and knobs was an inspiration, a passion. It was just the difference between the manners of a long-shore man and a Chesterfield, or a Bayard, or the learning of a Ceighton and a plantation slave.

Is it any wonder that the Russell & Erwin hardware is preferred over all other makes? Buy it! Try it, and you will use no other.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, APL. 19, 1899.

THE QUAY trial has clearly demonstrated that Mr. Rothermel, the new District Attorney, does not suffer in the least through comparison, for Mr. Graham, in all of his experience as District Attorney, never run against such a wall of difficulties as the sturdy trio of legal lights which Mr. Rothermel has been compelled to face.

If Philadelphia has a thing to commend it more than other big cities it is its manufacturing and mercantile houses which have lived and prospered for many years under the most rigid and exacting rules of business morals.

That these old land marks are regarded with the self same esteem and respect that is accorded to our many successful financial institutions is not at all strange, for success in both instances is the result of well-merited public confidence, not easily acquired even under the most favorable conditions.

Is there any single thing under the sun in the purchase of which the buyer must perforce express the fullest faith and confidence than in carpets.

The question of pattern or color appeals to the fancy or taste of the buyer, but the test of worth and durability can only be settled by years of wear, hence the reliability of the manufacturers and dealers is the thing to be depended on at the time of purchase, for it is their knowledge and experience honestly given that counts for infinitely more than the saving of fractions, even with the closest buyers.

The old house of McCallum & McCallum, retailers of carpets, rugs, matting, etc., at 19 2 and 1014 Chestnut street and proprietors of the new Glen Echo Carpet Mills at Wayne Junction, and successors to the old firm of McCallum, Crease & Sloan, which commenced business in 1829, typifies in the highest sense these old Philadelphia mercantile landmarks which, while keeping pace and always leading in everything which concerns their product, adhere strictly to their old-time maxim—that misrepresentation is not necessary to sell honest goods.

There is nothing strange in the continued success of firms of this character, but in this instance there are other factors such as the great size and variety of its stock: its elaborate display of fine imported and domestic rugs; its vast assortment of matting, with their almost endless variety of patterns, in short there is nothing in the way of floor coverings that seems to have been omitted in the collection of McCallum & McCallum's extensive establishment.

Architect Notes.

James Brown Lord, architect, 160 Fifth avenue, New York, is preparing plans and specifications for extensive alterations to the store and loft building, No. 394 Fifth avenue. The work includes an addition of stone and brick, with iron skeleton. The owner is Alfred Deplune on premises.

Re-estimates are to be made during the current week, and next on the construction of the apartment house, to be erected by Chas. B. Prettyman, at Tenth and Clinton streets. The plans for the structure, it will be remembered, was noted in these columns some time ago, as the work of Dull, Peterson & Coates, architects, 1024 Walnut street.

This work will cost $5400, and the structures will be erected according to plans by Architect Kurt W. Peuckert, Filbert street, above Broad.

Messrs. Baker & Dallett, architects 1420 Chestnut street, were noted some time ago, as preparing plans for a new Hebrew Union house, to be erected at 422 to 428 Bainbridge street, in this city; the drawings are now nearing completion, and it is altogether likely estimates will be asked soon upon the work. The structure will be four stories high, colonial style of architecture, brick, stone trimmings, and 40x60 feet in size. The interior will contain offices, society rooms play rooms and others for educational purposes. All modern conveniences will be introduced; the whole will cost about $29,000. The officers of the organization are: President, Julia Friedberger; vice-president, Helen Fleisher; treasurer May Fleisher; recording secretary, Leah Abeles; corresponding secretary, Merle Friedenwald.

Architect L. Visscher Boyd, Harrison Building, Fifteenth and Market streets, has finished plans for an office and hall building, which will be built at Chestnut Hill for S. B. Joslin & Co. The building will be constructed of Pompeian brick, with rough cast work, and it will measure 11x75 feet. The first and second floors will be fitted up for office purposes, while the third will be used exclusively for lodge-room and hall purposes. The interior will be fitted up with hard woods, etc. The specifications provide for brick work, hot water heating, plumbing, tile work, hard woods, hardware, fire escapes, etc. The plans can be seen at the office of contractors George L. Roth, William Patterson, Frank Walker, Charles H. Kooker and William Foulk at Chestnut Hill, in this city. The bids go in on Saturday next.

At that place the machinery was shored and braced and pinned together to hold it so that some work could be performed. "A breakdown may come at any minute and that would be a very serious matter. Mr. Lawrence McCormick, of the hotels Bellevue and Stratford, at Broad and Walnut streets, said in an interview on the 17th inst. that nothing will be done in the matter of building the proposed new Stratford Hotel until early next year, but added that all details had been considered although the architect had as yet been retained to make the plans. Mr. McCormick said Mr. Boldt and he understood just what kind of a building they want, and they hope to increase the area on which to build to the extent of the property on the west owned by Mrs. Gillingham Fell. The new building is to be fourteen stories high with a brown sandstone front, with terra cotta trimmings. The lower three stories on the Broad street front will be of plate glass, to be used as sun parlors, or miradors. There will be no cheap fancy work anywhere in the building. Everything will be the most substantial in character, giving solid home comforts to our patrons. The Broad street front will be 200 feet, and the Walnut street front 75 feet, unless we secure the adjoining properties. The architectural appearance of the front will not be like the Waldorf Astoria, although the same kind of stone will be used. The new Stratford will have a more solid effect. The work of building until 1900 is because many of the present suites and rooms are engaged for the Commercial Exposition this fall.

Architect Notes.

Thomas Steven, architect, Masonic Temple, Camden, N. J., informs us that he wants estimates on the electric wiring and general system dynamos, telephones, etc., for the Camden High School. Same architect is engaged on a set of preliminary drawings for a church, which will be noted later.

Cleverdon & Putzel, architects, 41 Union Square, New York City, has plans on the boards for a seven-story apartment building to be erected for Jeremiah C. Lyons, 81 East One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth street. The building will be of light brick and limestone exterior, with structural iron and granite and composition roof. Cost, $75,000.

Searns & Castor, architects, Stephen Girard Building, have awarded a contract to Bennett & Rothweek contractors, to build the German Protestant Home for Aged, at Lawnsdale, Pa., which has been fully noted in this journal previously. It will be of stone and brick, 36x120 feet, three stories high and with all late comforts and conveniences. Cost $25,000.

Architect George H. Budlong, Lincoln Building, New York City, has plans about completed for a three-story brick building, 50x52 feet, with stone trimmings, to be erected on Webster avenue, between Southern Boulevard and Suburban street, facing Bronx Park. The building is to be used for a hotel, to accommodate students attending the Botanical garden course of lectures, and will contain every modern improvement for the convenience of guests.

Architects Frank C. Roberts and Edgar V. Seeler will take out a permit at once to build the seventeen-story office building, at 111 and 113 South Broad street, for H. Halliwell, adjoining and to be operated in connection with the Real Estate Trust Company's building, at the southeast corner of Broad and Chestnut streets. The structure will measure 35x82 feet, and it is estimated that the work will cost $190,000. This work has been fully noted in previous issue of this journal.

In the offices of Macey, Henderson & Company, Heed Building, Filbert street above Twelfth, are the plans by Milligan & Webber, architects, 520 Walnut street, for the apartment house, to be erected at Twenty-second and Walnut streets, for John McCrea and previously noted in these columns. The structure will be seven-stories high, cut stone, brick and terra cotta work, iron skeleton and fireproof material on interior, it will be fitted with steam heat, electric work, elevator and lift for freight, best system of plumbing and ventilation, tiling, mosaic work and all the latest and best comforts will be introduced. Other general contracts are bidding, and the contract is to be awarded as soon as estimates are considered.

Field & Medary, architects, 1414 South Penn Square, say that they will in a few days, be able to put on boards for estimate the drawings, noted months ago in this journal, for the Summerfield M. E. Church, on Dauphin street. It will be Gothic architecture, with front and side entrances, ornamental stone work stained glass windows and doors, interior will be in hard wood finish, steam heat, electric work, mosaic work, tiling, and other ornamentation. When the Sunday-school and parsonage are erected, which is the ultimate design. This will be one of the finest places of worship in this conference.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 320 to 324 Walnut street, have placed on boards of Contractor Doyle and Doak, 1509 Sansom street, and other contractors plans for alterations to the Penn Charter School, Twelfth street, below Market. The specifications call for excavation masonry and concrete work, cut stone and brick work, iron work, carpenter work, hardware, freight lift, steam heat work plumbing, plastering, tin roofing, painting and glazing, etc. The work must be started by June 9th, and completed September 2, 1899. In the same office are specifications for a house, to be erected at Secane, Delaware county, Pa., for Mrs. R. C. Smith. It will be of stone, three stories high, tin roof, and general comforts on interior. Same architects are engaged in plans for a house to be erected at Jamestown, R. I., for James M. Whittall.

John Hauser, architect, 1441 Third avenue, New York City, is at work on plans for five light brick and limestone trimmed flat houses, to be built for Isaac Meyer, 69 East One-hundred-and-seventh street. Specifications call for tin roofs, skylights, iron beams, mosaic tiling, wood mantels, mirrors, grille work, bathroom outfits, marble washstands, refrigerators, dumb waiters and steam heat. To cost about $120,000. Mr. Hauser has designed plans also for an apartment building, to be erected for Louis Lose, 231 East Sixtieth street, of light brick and limestone and all modern improvements, including wood mantels, mirrors, grille work, electric wiring, sanitary bath and laundry fixtures and steam heat. Cost $28,000. Also, plans for seven flat buildings for the same owner, of light brick and stone construction, with iron beams, tin roofs, and all exterior conveniences. Cost, $100,000.

Through kindness of Mr. Frank R. Watson, 1208 Chestnut street, the architect for rebuilding of the entire properties of St. John's R. C. Church, we are giving a description of the general work involved in the church building proper. The old work which was of wood and plaster construction will be replaced by stone, brick and fireproof material throughout, and will be treated in pure Gothic lines. A vaulted ceiling and the nave being 46 ft high, and aisles 23 feet high, the windows being replaced by rich stone tracery and Munich windows. The sanctuary will be wainscoted in stone, and will have handsome altars in same material, floor being of stone, tile work. The pews and wood wainscoting will be in quartered oak. Mural decorations and painted electric work will be one of the features. The present roof will be replaced by an iron truss support, and it will be fireproof in every essential being recovered by slate. When completed, it will one of the most complete churches and parish buildings in this country, including a school and parochial house.

Architects Hales & Ballinger, 1200 Chestnut street, are ready to estimate for the erection of a three-story rear addition to the residence of Henry Lemuth at 1507 Allegheny avenue. The addition will contain a laundry in the basement, kitchen on the first floor, extension to the sitting room on the second floor and a bed room on the third floor. Estimates are being made by contractors for the erection of the five-story and bakery, which the National Biscuit Company proposes to build at Thirteenth street, Glenwood avenue and the Pennsylvania Railroad, by the same architects. The building will have a frontage of 240 feet on Glenwood avenue; 150 on the railroad, 185 on Park avenue, and will be 150 feet deep. It will be built of steel and mill construction, with steel columns in two walls and curtain walls on the outside. The end walls to be heavy masonry construction. Heavy timbers will be used where steel is not used, and heavy maple floorings. There will be towers at the two front corners, two tower fire-escape stairways and an outside iron fire-escape on the rear of the building. The materials to be used in the construction of the outside walls will be repressed stretcher brick and Indiana limestone for trimmings. There will be two railroad sidings, one in the basement for receiving of raw materials, and one on the Park avenue end for receiving coal and shipping purposes. Two 15,000 gallon tanks will be located on the towers, the top of which will be 135 feet high, and a 50,000 gallon cistern in the ground. The plant will be connected with the city water mains, and there will also be an artesian well on the ground. The tanks will supply the sprinkler system and the cistern water will be used for fire purposes, as suction for 1000 gallon per minute pump. Fourteen ovens, weighing between 200 and 300 tons each, will be built on the top floor, and the other floors will be used for packing storage and other purposes. The boilers, dynamos, motors and other machinery are under contract. The machines will be operated by individual motors.

Any Old Thing.

 last the average life of man was the standard for "first-class" ready-made clothing in Philadelphia, prior to the Centennial.

It was dingy brown, and the other colors which the farmers love, that went into the half-made, and ready-made suits and overcoats, even at the stiffest kind of prices, and it was Hobson's choice all of the time.

Any old thing, in the way of black iron building hardware had to go, and did go, before the Russell & Erwin Manufacturing Co., opened shop in Philadelphia.

Its goods were a revelation, as well as an object lesson to local manufacturers. It was the difference between sunshine and shade.
 The crude work of the country blacksmith, and the sculptors art in bronze. The idea of poetry and sentiment expressed in door locks and knobs was an inspiration, a passion. It was just the difference between the manners of a long-shore man and a Chesterfield, or a Bayard, or the learning of a Crighton and a plantation slave.

Is it any wonder that the Russell & Erwin hardware is preferred over all other makes?

The Banks and Collection Charges.

The Philadelphia banks are seriously considering the question of following the example of the New York banks, in charging for the collection of checks. It is stated that there is a strong sentiment among them in favor of the proposition.

The practice in New York presents some singular phases, for while Boston, Chicago and St. Louis are on the free list, Philadelphia, which is but ninety miles distant from the great financial centre, is discriminated against.

Considerable indignation has been expressed in New York commercial circles against these charges, because of the trade and financial benefits that have been turned to Philadelphia, to the great detriment of New York's business interest.

It would seem that at present business trials were already sufficiently great in Philadelphia, without the imposition of other difficulties, large or small.

Collections are hard enough, too hard in fact, to justify a charge of even one-tenth of one per cent. for the collection of checks, and, if the bank balance of the average business man is small, it is the result of slow settlements, for which he is in no way responsible.

The banks have a delicate question to handle and liberal methods, once adopted and enforced, might engender opposition and unpopularity full of serious consequences, for a sentiment once aroused against the present national bank system would not down until a more elastic system had been adopted.

The present administration has done nothing, and probably does not intend doing anything in the way of affording relief to business men through currency or financial changes.

Money is plenty enough in fact too plenty for the comfort of those who have the care of its profitable use in collateral loans but this money seems to be a different kind of money—financial money, if the term be proper—in contra-distinction to the money of trade, the money with which people pay their bills promptly; money free from sacred or hallowed reservations; vulgar money which enables people to remain prompt and upright and honest.

Of course every one understands that this is a question which concerns the banks only, as Saving Funds and Trust Companies are restricted by law in making loans, and cannot loan on commercial paper.

The business men of the country are the country itself, in a progressive sense, for it is their brains which guide and direct business, without which there would be but small necessity for banks or bankers, for, while the banks could be dispensed with, who would ever think of hampering business men, unless it be the banks?

Of course any dispensation, which would obliterate the banks would cause discomfort and annoyance to business interests, because of this self-same check system, which is now in general use and which is likely to be impaired, even in conservative Philadelphia.

Whence does bank prosperity come if not from the patronage of business men? To whom do the millions belong, with which the banks do the merchandising—for traffic in money does not differ from the traffic in flour, out of what do the surpluses and the fine buildings, and the luxurious counting-rooms, and the handsome dividends to stockholders grow, if not from this self-same traffic in the money of depositors? Of course the capital is a factor in a bank's business affairs; but banks, dependent entirely upon capital and without deposits, would find uncomfortable limits to profitable business.

The proposed charge for the collection of checks, if once adopted, would prove profitable beyond a doubt, but would it not also excite antagonism against a system which, while full of usefulness, is open to severe criticism.

THE N. & G. TAYLOR Co., of this city, has issued a booklet, entitled: "Why the Taylor Old Style Brand Roofing Tin makes the best and most durable roof."

Starting off with a synopsis of the method of making, which in itself is interesting reading, a fac-simile of the stamp on each sheet is given, in order that buyers may not be imposed upon by imitations.

The little book is full of ginger in the way of criticism of imitations of "Taylor's Old Style," and while not at all personal, it leaves little room for imposition, if buyers will only follow its advice and warnings, in the selection of roofing tin. Neither is guessing necessary as to the durability of this popular brand of roofing tin, as many instances are given where it was placed upon buildings a long life time ago, and is still in daily active service and just as good as ever.

Independence Hall and the White House, at Washington, are quoted as among the prominent buildings, which are standing lasting monuments to its great excellence.

Sixty-eight years ago, the booklet states Taylor's Old Style Roofing Plates were first made, and, while many changes have been made in other things to conform to the modern idea of cheapness, the old method of open pots, pure palm oil, hand labor, trimming, washing, rubbing and scouring is still the method of making the "Only Warranted Roofing Tin on the Market."

The fact is, the booklet enters into the question of roofs and roofing tin, in a manner, so thoroughly educational, that it would be difficult to go astray, if its advice and directions are followed.

Architect Notes.

Ludlow & Valentine, architects, 100 Broadway, New York City, are preparing plans and specifications for a brick residence, 51x89 feet, to be erected for Mr. Archer Brown, Munn Avenue, East Orange, N. J.

Carrere & Hastings, architects, 28 East Forty-first street, New York have plans on the boards for a light brick and stone mercantile building, to be erected for Percy Chubb, of South William street, at a cost of $25,000.

Schermerhorn & Reinhold, architects, 430 Walnut street, have prepared plans for a two-and-a-half story brick and shingle house, having twelve rooms, measuring 33 feet by 48 feet, to be erected at Cynwyd, Pa., for Walter S. Marsh, of this city. The owner is receiving bids for the work. The same architects have awarded the contract for John C. Foering's house, on Lancaster avenue, at Wynnewood, to Joseph Dyson, of Ardmore.

Architect Edwin F. Durang, 120 Chestnut street, will make the drawings for a new church and residence for the congregation of St. Patrick's parish, to be erected at McAdoo, Carbon county, for Rev. Peter Mulloy, pastor. Their present edifice at Audenreid was partially demolished by the caving-in of a near by coal mine. The building will be 54 feet wide by 120 feet deep. Mr Durang is engaged on other plans which we shall note in a few weeks.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Supreme Court has decided that the direct inheritance tax is unconstitutional.

Contractors Harry Shoemaker & Company will start at once to put fourth and fifth-story additions, 22 by 85 feet, to the Neptune Laundry, Fifteenth street and Columbia avenue, at a cost of $8900. Previously noted in full.

Contractor Wm. H. Dougherty will at once start the erection of the Amphitheatre and Laboratory of Hygiene for the University of Pennsylvania, previously noted to this column. Architect H. L. Duhring, Jr., made the plans.

Contractor and Builder A. Raymond Raff has been awarded the contract to build a one-story gate lodge, 11.4x18.4 feet, at the German Hospital on the south side of Girard avenue, west of Corinthian avenue, to cost $2500. Mr. Raff will also build a new oak stairway to the second floor level, and make other alterations at J. J. Stoer's residence, at 1616 Mast street.

The Blackburn estate has awarded the contract for repairing the fire damage at 1232 and 1234 Market street, to McKee Bros. These buildings were damaged by the fire at Thirteenth and Market streets, several months ago.

Contractor George L. Sipps has secured the contract to build the six story store building, 45.7x201 feet, at 707 and 709 Arch street, for H. C. Lea, previously noted. Collins & Autenreith, architects, 410 Walnut street, made the plans.

As we go to press we learn that an explosion has destroyed not only Fleer's chewing gum factory, at Twenty-fourth and Callowhill streets, but many of the buildings in the same block have been badly shattered, and several lives lost, as well as many wounded.

The contract for the First Baptist Church, to be erected at Seventeenth and Sansom streets has not been awarded. The bids are being scheduled, and will be considered by the Building Committee. Messrs. Seeler & Roberts are the architects.

The contract for the Church of St. Paul, to be erected at Chester, Pa., after plans by Geo. Nattress & Son, architects, 430 Walnut street, has been awarded to William Provost, Jr., of Chester, and he has started excavation of the building. A full description has been given in this journal previously.

Owner John J. Downey will at once build five two-story brick dwellings, each 16x57 feet, on the southeast side of Kingsessing avenue, between Sixtieth and Sixty-first streets, Fortieth Ward, all to be of fancy brick fronts, stone trimmings, and best interior work and comforts.

William Steele & Sons, 506 Walnut street, have on boards plans for estimates on an addition to factory building located at Seventeenth and Cherry streets. The work consists of masonry carpenter work, plumbing, heating, etc. Also, in same office, plans for an addition to the mill of the Droeding Bros., Lawrence and Master streets.

Richard Humphries, builder, will at once begin work on fourteen dwellings on north side of Lansdowne avenue, between Sixty-seventh and Sixty-eighth streets. All will be three story, stone fronts, porches and bays, hard wood, tile work, furnaces, boilers and ranges, etc.

A check for $20,000 was presented to Bethany Presbyterian Church by John Wanamaker at a congregational meeting on Monday, 17th inst. The gift was a great surprise to the congregation, and it is understood that the money will be expended in alterations and improvements about the church and Sunday-school buildings.

S. Gourley, contractor, Twenty-first street and Ridge avenue, has a contract to erect a school-house on Thirty-fourth street, north of Wharton, which will cost $30,000. It will be three stories high, brick, tin roof, steam heat electric work; hard wood interior and general conveniences. Plans by J. D. Anschütz architect, 713 Filbert street. Previously noted in this journal.

Charles O. Struse has awarded the contract for the erection of a two-story brick stable, 20x36 feet a siding 145 feet long and a coal pocket, 24x120 feet, at 4010 Ridge avenue, to Contractor John W. Fritzinger, of Roxborough. Mr. Fritzinger will also build a one-story side-covered shop, 16x20 feet, on the north side of Hermitage street, east of Ridge avenue, for E. M. Hallies.

In the office of Charles McCaul, 10 North Eleventh street, estimates are being made on drawings for a store building, to be erected at 151 North Sixth street, for E. S. Ford. It will be of brick, three story, galvanized iron cornice, grill iron work on doors, plate glass, interior to have all modern conveniences, etc. Also, estimate for electric work for the Geo. B. Evans building, at Tenth and Spring streets.

For estimate on the boards of William Steele & Sons, 506 Walnut street, are drawings for a large factory at the northeast corner of Twelfth and Cherry streets, upon the site of Young's stable. It will be 50x103 feet, seven stories high, granite base and brick above, with terra cotta work as trimmings, steel or iron skeleton and fireproof material on interior, with all accommodations, elevator lift electric work, steam fitting, etc.

The contract for the erection of the store building, at 1224 Market street, has been awarded to Contractors M. P. Wells & Co. The new structure will be built for J. W. Hallahan, and it will take the place of the building which was totally destroyed by fire couple of months ago. The new structure will measure 21x50 feet. All the old walls, those left standing after the fire will be torn down. Architect Frank B. Watson, 1205 Chestnut street, made the plans for this work and have been fully noted.

The Board of District Surveyors have virtually decided to raise Broad street over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks, on Oregon avenue, and the surveyor has been directed to prepare corrected plans, which will come up for final approval on next Tuesday. W. H. Addicks appeared as counsel for the railroad, and suggested that the bridge be made a little wider than the Walnut street bridge over the Schuylkill. According to the terms of the ordinance by which the railroad was given privileges on Oregon avenue, all the expense connected with the bridging of Broad street must be borne by the railroad.

The Old Chambers Presbyterian Church, at Broad and Sansom streets, has been sold to Charles McCaul for $412,500. This was determined at the annual congregational meeting held on the 17th inst. The church, the congregation, after discussing the question of improving Wylie Church, on Broad street, below Spruce, which it was estimated would cost $75,000, finally determined that it would be more profitable to build a new church. A handsome new edifice, estimated to cost $15,000, will, therefore, be erected upon the site of that building, and work will be commenced thereon as soon as the plans can be prepared.

John Wanamaker has concluded to at once begin measures looking to the erection of the largest single business house in this country, and for that purpose has engaged Mr. Charles McCaul, the well known builder and contractor, to supervise the preparations of plans and work of construction. Mr. McCaul has ordered all the iron skeleton work, amounting to about 20,000 tons, at the Pencoyd Iron Works, and this will be erected upon the foundations laid years ago. The building will be from ten to fourteen stories high, brick, stone and terra cotta work will be used as material, and it will be erected in sections covering a space of about two years. A vast amount of material of all kinds will be involved in this great work.

Builder John J. Brown, of Germantown, has almost completed arrangements for the erection of forty handsome residences on the east side of Germantown ave, to cost in the neighborhood of $160,000. Architect T. Frank Brown made the plans for this operation. The houses will each be three stories in height. The materials to be used in constructing the exterior walls will be a Pompeian brick, trimmed with Indiana limestone. They will also have large Colonial porches, bay windows, plate glass and galvanized iron cornices. Each house will contain ten rooms and all modern improvements and conveniences. The interiors will be fitted up in oak, chestnut and sycamore woods. The vestibule and both rooms will be tiled and the mantels and wardrobes of hardwoods.

Plans are on the boards at the office of contractors R. C. Ballinger & Co., 218 North Thirteenth street, for a handsome stone residence, which will be built near Media for Thomas R. Tunts, according to drawings by Horace W. Sellers and Chester Kirk, associate architects, Stephen Girard Building. The front building will be three-stories high, and the back building will be two-stories high. The house will be built of stone, with a hipped roof, and have porches and a portico. The committee of councils on Parks, accompanied by Chief Pierle, of the Bureau of City Property, on Tuesday, devoted the entire day to visiting and inspecting the various parks and squares scattered throughout the city, in order to ascertain their condition and what will be required in order to improve and develop these breathing spots. The municipality owns upwards of fifty tracts of ground, the greater number of which were acquired by condemnation proceedings many years ago as sites for public squares, for the development of which no money has ever been appropriated by councils and it is the intention to make a determined effort to secure the necessary funds to place them in proper condition and not allow them to remain neglected. The sum of $10,000 has been appropriated for the improvement of McPherson Square, the work on which will be commenced as soon as the contract is awarded by Director English. In the loan bill of $11,200,000 there is an item of $50,000 for the development of these sites, and if the ordinance is declared legal by the Supreme Court, which is expected to hand down a decision in a short time, the operations will be commenced during this summer.
